External Aviation Relations Of The European Community:

European Union External Competence and External Relations in Air Transport A. Mencik van Zebinsky, 1996-03-20

European Union External Competence and External Relations in Air Transport is an essential guide for all those interested in the development of European Union external relations in general and in the field of air transport in particular Part I of the book offers a detailed analysis of the EU's internal and external competence in air transport and related topics taking into account the amendments introduced by the Single European Act and the Treaty on European Union A new vision is proposed of the development of external competence in air transport and a new classification of the Community's secondary legislative measures in this area Part II offers a detailed analysis of the EU's external relations in air transport including an analysis of the Air Transport Agreement with Norway and Sweden the extension of the trans European transport network and the inclusion of air transport in recently concluded association and trade agreements The many problems facing external relations and the future prospects for such relations are revealed Community participation in civil aviation organizations is also discussed

International Trade Relations of the European Union Rafael Leal-Arcas, 2022-09-29 This book examines the need for greater legal coherence within international trade negotiations between the European Union EU and external trade relations An introspective analysis of EU trade law and policy is presented that highlights the complex issue of EU unity A particular focus is given to the Doha Round and the General Agreement on Trade in Services with empirical analysis placing the negotiations not just within the context of international trade law but also within broader social and political contexts This book aims to provide an interdisciplinary understanding of the EU's international trade negotiations It will be relevant to researchers and policy makers interested in international trade and EU law

External Aviation Relations of the European Community Henri A. Wassenbergh, 1992-01-01 Developments in Public International Air Law and Aviation Policy are of immediate interest to all who are concerned about the future of the European and the global air transport systems Now that the year 1993 is nearing the EEC air transport market will obtain a new dimension and could as one market become the biggest negotiating tool to arrive at greater freedom for the air carrier industry in the world This book offers a major contribution to preparing the minds of the aviation world for such eventuality This book contains the original reports of a seminar entitled The EC's Aviation Relationship of the Future which was organised by The International Institute of Air and Space Law Association the Europe Institute and The Office for Legal Post Academic Courses PAO University of Leiden This seminar offered us an insight in the problems of international civil aviation policy in the future taking the present situation as a starting point and more especially an idea of how we have to deal with air political aspects of the European Community after January 1 1993

Progressive Commercialization of Airline Governance Culture Jan Walulik, 2016-08-05 Progressive Commercialization of Airline Governance Culture analyzes the transition of the airline sector from the not for profit nation bound public utility model towards a profit oriented globalized industry It illustrates how legal political historical and cultural factors have shaped the corporate governance in the airline sector and describes how these factors influence economic decisions and performance The unique feature of the book is that the subject is consequentially discussed from the perspective of airline governance culture This approach links the examination of legal and policy factors which influence airline activities together with a discussion of economic issues all within one clear coherent and comprehensive framework

Holding Patterns: Air Transport and Foreign Policy in the Netherlands Marc Dierikx, Jean Guillaume Petit, 2024-11-11 Read the interviews with Marc Dierikx here and here Although air transport is indispensable to modern society we know little about the diplomatic efforts that establish airline services Nonetheless aviation features prominently in the spectrum of international relations in conflicts between states for example the suspension of landing rights is one of the first acts to symbolize serious discord In tracing the unique cooperation between government and industry this historical study underscores aviation as a prominent but understudied topic in Dutch foreign relations

Air and Space Law: De Lege Ferenda Tanja L. Masson-Zwaan, Pablo Mendes de Leon, Frans G. von der Dunk, Peter van Fenema, Peter P.C. Haanappel, 1992-06-01 The aim of this unique volume is twofold First and foremost it sets out to offer the reader a comprehensive and challenging view from some of the most distinguished scholars in the field of present and future trends and issues in the fields of international air and space law By breaking new ground in this way it pays tribute to the scholarly achievements of Henri Or Wassenbergh whose ideas and work have helped to shape both air and space law throughout his long and distinguished career Air and Space Law De Lege Ferenda will be of interest to all those concerned with the present status of air and space law and with the challenges the aviation and space industry must face in the century to come

Airline Economics in Europe Kevin Cullinane, 2019-10-21 In recent years the European air transport industry has seen a number of important changes with more on the horizon This comprehensive work presents a multi faceted analysis of the air industry in Europe how it has developed in recent years and how it is set to develop further into the future

EU International Relations Law Panos Koutrakos, 2006-04-14 In the post 9 11 world the European Union has been trying to define its international presence in a way which corresponds to its economic power and enlarged membership In an effort to assert its identity on the international scene it has developed a very wide range of economic relations with third countries and international organisations It has also developed a Common Foreign and Security Policy in the context of which it is gradually shaping its Security and Defence Policy These policies are carried out on the basis of distinct albeit interrelated sets of legal rules This book provides a comprehensive and systematic analysis of these economic political and security aspects of the relations of the European Union with the rest of the world It examines their genesis development and interactions and places them in the specific context of the establishment of the internal market and the broader context of the increasingly interdependent international economic and geopolitical environment Issues covered include the coexistence of Community and national competence in external relations the approach of the Court of Justice to international law the negotiation conclusion and implementation of international agreements the relationship between EC and WTO law and the development of the political and security policies of the Union The book will be of interest to academics practitioners and students of EU law      Firm Interests Cornelia Woll,2018-07-05 Firms are central to trade policy making Some analysts even suggest that they dictate policy on the basis of their material interests Cornelia Woll counters these assumptions arguing that firms do not always know what they want To be sure firms lobby hard to attain a desired policy once they have defined their goals Yet material factors are insufficient to account for these preferences The ways in which firms are embedded in political settings are much more decisive Woll demonstrates her case by analyzing the surprising evolution of support from large firms for liberalization in telecommunications and international air transport in the United States and Europe Within less than a decade former monopolies with important home markets abandoned their earlier calls for subsidies and protectionism and joined competitive multinationals in the demand for global markets By comparing the complex evolution of firm preferences across sectors and countries Woll shows that firms may influence policy outcomes but policies and politics in turn influence business demands This is particularly true in the European Union where the constraints of multilevel decision making encourage firms to pay lip service to liberalization if they want to maintain good working relations with supranational officials In the United States firms adjust their sectoral demands to fit the government s agenda In both contexts the interaction between government and firm representatives affects not only the strategy but also the content of business lobbying on global trade      Tourism in the New Europe Derek R. Hall,Melanie K. Smith,Barbara

Marciszewska,2006-01-01 This book examines the implications of EU enlargement for tourism in the region It provides a country by country examination of each of the new member states in terms of their current patterns and trends of tourism development and the impacts of EU accession on them Topics include historical trajectories of the European tourism development process new structural and geographical patterns of European tourism the politics of EU enlargement and implications for tourism policy regional national and local economic development trends social and cultural implications of transition and accession tourism education in the new Europe and the marketing and re branding of accession countries

From Lowlands to High Skies: A Multilevel Jurisdictional Approach Towards Air law Pablo Mendes de Leon,2013-10-10 This volume brings together a fascinating collection of essays on air law approached from national European and international perspectives These perspectives often interact always interestingly but not necessarily harmoniously a theme which forms a Leitmotiv in the writings reports and pleadings of John Balfour to whom the volume is dedicated Written by a diverse group of experts in the field of air law the collection is divided into three parts Public Air Law EU Air Law and Private Air Law      The Effects of Greater Economic Integration Within the European Community on the United States

,1991      The EU-Ukraine Association Agreement and Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Area Guillaume Van der Loo,2016-01-19 In The EU Ukraine Association Agreement and Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Area Guillaume Van der

Loo provides the first comprehensive legal analysis of this complex and controversial international agreement While key political and legal hurdles towards the signing and conclusion of this agreement are analysed its scope and contents are scrutinised and contrasted to other international agreements concluded by the EU Specific attention is devoted to the ambitious deep and comprehensive free trade area and the unique provisions related to Ukraine s approximation to the EU acquis In particular this book explores to what extent the agreement can be considered a new legal instrument for EU integration without membership

European Transport Theo Kiriazids,2018-10-26 First published in 1994 this volume responds to a key debate in the European Community extant since the signing of the Single European Act SEA in 1986 in exploring the role of transportation in the creation of a Common Market with free movement of goods people capital and services Critical of the EC s compromise on transport between economic principles and political realities this book seeks to address issues of international cooperation lack of common approach and differences in national law and political systems along with the question of finance Theo Kiriazidis responds to the EC s argument on each transport sector in turn and examines how the existing transport system in 1994 could be better managed

Regulating the Internal Market Niamh Nic Shuibhne,2006-01-01 The insight given by the book is absolutely indispensable for those who interact with the internal market It is a goldmine of thought waiting to be discussed used and put to the test Ida Otken Eriksson European Law Journal This fascinating book explores the management of the internal market from a legal perspective While the EU agenda is currently dominated by the processes of Treaty reform this assessment of both market and constitutional governance evaluates the coherence or otherwise of the project at the very core of European integration Confronted with a free market nearing completion with a relatively formulaic application of internal market law the book portrays how this is mirrored in a growing tendency to hand the market back to the Member States and increasingly to authorities and bodies both public and private therein We see too however an internal market framework that strains to cope with a series of challenges both internal and external to the EU itself The approach of the contributors is twofold on one hand they reflect thematically on questions of regulation which cut across the spectrum of the market and its freedoms On the other hand they adopt more sector specific lenses including for example regulation of the media and the Internet through which contemporary regulatory dynamics can be reconsidered Providing analysis of contemporary challenges facing the internal market this book will be of great interest to academics researchers and students working in the field of EC law It will also appeal to national and Community policy makers as it seeks to locate the constitutional and regulatory boundaries of the internal market sphere

China's Trade Policy on International Air Transport Chrystal Zhang,Kareem Yarde,2020-08-09 This book is a political economic analysis of China s transformation to become a global aviation power It aims to identify the driving forces that have shaped China s ever evolving international air transport policy direction and goals in the past four decades and further determines how and to what extent these driving forces have shaped China s considerations and strategies when executing its policy goals through bilateral air services negotiations The findings reveal that China's international air transport policymaking has remained in the domain of the country's aviation regulator which has enjoyed an exclusivity to exercise its power on the air transport sector The book argues that China's international air transport policy direction is in alignment with the country's overall strategic mission and its goal is set to support the country's endeavour to realise the China dream It concludes that factors at all levels interact with each other with a far reaching impact on the country's policy direction and goal setting however these factors are constrained by time and circumstances The book is a must read for a wide array of audiences including but not limited to scholars and industry professionals who have an interest in China's political economy policymaking international trade government behaviour corporate political activities air transport aviation liberalisation and bilateral negotiations

Introduction to European Union transport law - seconda edizione Margherita Colangelo, Vincenzo Zeno-Zencovich, 2016-09-01 This handbook is the result of four years of teaching European Union Transport Law to the law students of the University of Roma Tre The handbook is divided into four modules reflecting areas where the intervention of EU law has been most significant air transport rail transport port services and passengers rights With the evolution of transport regulation in the EU in these last years and thanks to the success of the first edition over 2000 downloads in 18 months we have considered it useful to expand the topics presented in this primer In particular we have added in this second edition a specific module on the painstaking process of opening port services to competition Furthermore a paragraph has been added on the Single European Sky SES programme The second part of the handbook includes the most relevant judgments and decisions by the EU Courts and Commission which we found particularly useful to illustrate from a practical point of view the policies underlying EU transport law and the conflicting interests of the various stakeholders

International Influence Beyond Conditionality Rachel A. Epstein, Ulrich Sedelmeier, 2013-09-13 The European Union's EU membership conditionality has been perceived as a highly effective means of influence on non member states in the run up to the 2004 and 2007 enlargements According to the incentive based explanation that dominates the literature conditionality has been particularly effective when the EU offered a credible membership incentive and when governments did not consider the domestic costs of compliance threatening to their hold on power This volume challenges much of the existing work on EU enlargement and postcommunist transition however by testing the conditionality thesis in the post accession setting Whereas a conditionality hypothesis would predict deteriorating compliance among the newest member states several contributions here actually find the opposite Enduring compliance among postcommunist states with the acquis as well as with less formally institutionalized EU preferences for economic liberalization and minority protection calls into question the role that conditionality plays in eliciting conformity Simultaneously support for the conditionality hypothesis in areas such as political party development and EU relations with Turkey and the western Balkans suggests conditionality's effects vary across countries and issues As the first study to systematically examine the relationship between international institutions and postcommunist states after enlargement this volume provides new insights into how external actors exercise their power in domestic politics This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Public Policy

The Liberalization of Transportation Services in the EU and Turkey Sübidey Togan, 2016-06-16 Transport costs have been and still are an important component of trade costs which are one the major determinants of the volume of trade and thus of gross domestic product GDP and GDP growth Studies show that two of the main determinants of transport costs are regulatory frameworks in transport sectors and transport infrastructure The productivity and competitiveness of goods and services firms depends largely on access to low cost and high quality transport services and those services have a powerful influence on economic growth Countries commit themselves to increasing the efficiency of transport services which can largely be achieved through increased competition and hence through liberalization of transport sectors Since barriers to trade in transport services are typically regulatory in nature this book provides a thorough discussion of international regional and country specific rules and regulations in those sectors Concentrating on the EU and Turkey in particular it considers rules and regulations in transport sectors It shows that economic liberalization pursued unilaterally multilaterally or regionally has beneficial effects for Turkey and that the benefits from such liberalization are substantial Furthermore the volume shows that transport infrastructure is an important determinant of exports and hence GDP and GDP growth

The Revised European Neighbourhood Policy Dimitris Bouris, Tobias Schumacher, 2016-11-07 This book analyses the revised European Neighbourhood Policy ENP which entered into force in May 2011 thereby replacing its predecessor of 2003 2004 The edited volume provides a structured and comprehensive overview of the most recent developments in EU foreign policy EUFP towards the EU's southern and eastern neighbourhood through the prism of continuity and change By critically examining EU action and inaction in the framework of the 2011 ENP it also puts the ENP's most recent review of 2015 in perspective Topics covered include conceptual theoretical and methodological issues the legal and institutional aspects of the revised ENP and the changes brought by the entering into force of the Lisbon Treaty and conflicts and crises in the EU's neighbourhood such as the Western Sahara conflict the Israeli Palestinian conflict the South Caucasus conflicts and the crisis in Ukraine The authors also focus on sectoral cooperation analysing the changes brought by the revised ENP of 2011 in the domains of energy cooperation and migration This volume will appeal to scholars and upper level students in EU European Studies International Relations Political Science as well as practitioners and policy makers in the field
