Living with Fire Tom Griffiths, Christine Hansen, 2012-11-12 Within the Yarra River catchment area nestles the valley of Steels Creek a small shallow basin in the lee of Kinglake plateau and the Great Dividing Range The escarpment walls of the range drop in a series of ridges to the valley and form the south eastern boundary of the Kinglake National Park The gentle undulations that flow out from the valley stretch into the productive and picturesque landscape of Victoria's famous wine growing district the Yarra Valley Late on the afternoon of 7 February 2009 the day that came to be known as Black Saturday the Kinglake plateau carried a massive conflagration down the fringing ranges into the Steels Creek community Ten people perished and 67 dwellings were razed in the firestorm In the wake of the fires the devastated residents of the valley began the long task of grieving repairing rebuilding or moving on while redefining themselves and their community In Living with Fire historians Tom Griffiths and Christine Hansen trace both the history of fire in the region and the human history of the Steels Creek valley in a series of essays which examine the relationship between people and place These essays are interspersed with four interludes compiled from material produced by the community In the immediate aftermath of the fire many people sought to express their grief shock sadness and relief in artwork Some painted or wrote poetry while others collected the burnt remains of past treasures from which they made new objects These expressions supplemented by historical archives and the essays they stand beside offer a sensory and holistic window into the community's contemporary and historical experiences. A deeply moving book Living with Fire brings to life the stories of one community's experience with fire, offering a way to understand the past and in doing so prepare for the future.

Fire in California's Ecosystems Neil G. Sugihara, 2006-11-29. Focusing on California and issues specific to fire ecology and management in the state's bioregions, this work provides scientific information for use in land restoration and other management decisions made in the field. It introduces the basics of fire ecology and includes an overview of fire vegetation and climate in California and more.

Living More Safely in the Chaparral-urban Interface Klaus Wilhelm-Heinz Radtke, 1992. Living More Safely in the Chaparral-urban Interface Klaus William-Heinz Radtke, 1983. Urban encroachment into chaparral areas has accelerated the fire flood erosion cycle. Preventive maintenance measures can help reduce the damage from fire and flood. This report describes the chaparral environment, how to cope with problems in watershed management, how to landscape for fire and soil erosion control, how to plan for home safety from fire, how to treat newly burned chaparral slopes, how to clear brush around homes, and what to do when caught in a wildfire. The information reported is addressed to homeowners, buyers and developers, and architects, planners, and other officials in municipalities and agencies.

Insurgencies and Revolutions Haripriya Rangan, Mee Kam NG, Libby Porter, Jacquelyn Chase, 2016-10-26. Over the past six or more decades, John Friedmann has been an insurgent force in the field of urban and regional planning, transforming it from its traditional state-centered concern for establishing social and spatial order into a radical domain of collaborative action between state and civil society for creating the good society in the present and future. By opening it up to theoretical engagement with a wide range of disciplines, Friedmann's contributions have revolutionised planning as a transdisciplinary space of critical thinking, social learning, and reflective practice. Insurgencies and Revolutions brings together former students, close research associates, and colleagues of John Friedmann to reflect on his contributions to planning theory and practice. The volume is organized around five broad themes where Friedmann's contributions have risen to challenge established paradigms and generated the space for revolutionary thinking and action in urban and regional planning: Theorising hope, Economic development and regionalism, World cities and the Good city, Social learning empowered communities and citizenship, and Chinese cities. The essays by the authors reflect their engagement with his ideas and the new directions in which they have taken these in their work in planning theory and practice.

Living with Hazards, Dealing with Disasters: An Introduction to Emergency Management William L. Waugh, 2015-06-03. This is the first concise introduction to emergency management, the emerging profession that deals with disasters from floods and earthquakes to terrorist attacks. Twenty case studies illustrate the handling of actual disasters, including the Northridge Earthquake and the Oklahoma City Bombing. Discussion questions and guides to on-line information sources facilitate use of the book in the classroom and professional training programs.
