Education Automation:

Education Automation R. Buckminster Fuller, 2010 Buckminster Fuller's prophetic 1962 book Education Automation brilliantly anticipated the need to rethink learning in light of a dawning revolution in informational technology upcoming major world industry Along with other essays on education including Breaking the Shell of Permitted Ignorance Children the True Scientists and Mistake Mystique this volume presents a powerful approach for preparing ourselves to face epochal changes on spaceship earth whether we are going to make it or not is really up to each one of us it is not something we can delegate to the politicians what kind of world are you really going to have Description by Lars Muller Publishers courtesy of The Estate of Buckminster Fuller      Vocational-technical Education for American Industry Lynn Arthur Emerson, 1958

Towards Rural Education for the Common Good Jason A. Cervone, 2023-04-21 This book examines the current and future state of rural education in North America through the lens of Franco Berardi's Futurability Through critical examination of examples and current trends toward corporatization and privatization of rural education the volume highlights how future possibilities and social imagination in rural spaces have been limited by neoliberal forces capitalist interests and workforce education Cervone demonstrates how Berardi's concept of creating future can be embraced to foster critical thought challenge injustices and open opportunity With this line of analysis the book ultimately supports an ethos of a return to education for the common good Bringing an important perspective to the field of rural education scholarship this work will be of interest to scholars and researchers in sociology of education and education policy      Resources in

Global Perspectives in Educational Research

Semra MİRİCİ, Duygu SÖNMEZ, 2025-01-13 Learning to Save the Future Alexander Means, 2018-04-09 Mainstream economists and Silicon Valley entrepreneurs claim that unfettered capitalism and digital technology can unlock a future of unbounded prosperity create endless high paying jobs and solve the world's vast social and ecological problems Realizing this future of abundance purportedly rests in the transformation of human potential into innovative human capital through new 21st century forms of education In this new book Alex Means challenges this view Stagnating economic growth and runaway inequality have emerged as the normal condition of advanced capitalism Simultaneously there has been a worldwide educational expansion and a growing surplus of college educated workers relative to their demand in the world economy This surplus is complicated by an emerging digital revolution driven by artificial intelligence and machine learning that generates worker displacing innovations and immaterial forms of labor and valorization Learning to Save the Future argues that rather than fostering mass intellectuality educational development is being constrained by a value structure subordinated to 21st century capitalism and technology Human capabilities from creativity design engineering to communication are conceived narrowly as human capital valued in terms of economic productivity and growth Similarly global problems such as the erosion of employment and climate change are conceived as educational problems to be addressed through business solutions and the digitalization of education This thought provoking account provides a cognitive map of this condition offering alternatives through critical analyses of education and political economy technology and labor creativity and value power and ecology
