are based on faith and that all can be tested with regard to their beliefs about the nature of man and about the kind of moral responsibility education should develop in man. PHILOSOPHICAL EXPLORATION THROUGH THE MIND, HEART AND SOUL OF NURSES Anita Siccardi; Karen Iseminger, 2008-01-14. Creating an amalgamation of nursing education and philosophy is one of the distinctive features of this book. While each of these disciplines is well established in their academic endeavors, the book provides a unique voice of nursing in the analysis of philosophy's role in education. To that end, the book features nurses' critiques of leading philosophers who have very valuable lessons for health care education. Each chapter has been written to capture aspects of the heart, mind and soul of nursing as appreciated through an exploration of a foremost philosopher. The contributors investigate their scholar's history, the essential features and examination of their work and offer pragmatic discussion questions based upon their work. Personal transcendence of the authors occurred as an unexpected byproduct of their immersion with the philosophers. This book provides philosophical underpinnings of health care education that nurses, nursing educators, clinical specialists and general healthcare educators as well as academic faculty will appreciate.

Principles and Practices of Christian Education Robert W. Pazmino, 2002-04-29. Principles and Practices of Christian Education shows teachers how they can use two important principles that stand behind all evangelical practices to make their education program stand out from all the others in its nurture of students. First, evangelical Christian education recognizes the need for conversion, personal and corporate transformation that reconnects people to their Creator. Second, evangelical Christian education strives for connection, making contact with people as unique individuals who live in a particular society and who need to know more about scripture.
