Education And Disability In Cross Cultural Perspective:

Education and Disability in Cross-Cultural Perspective Susan Jeanne Peters, 2013-11-26 A radical departure from previous chronicles of education for people with disabilities this book views special education from a broader perspective Its central thesis is that cultural values and expectations play a dominant role in understanding the structure and function of special education While theories of the social construction of disability have been written about in a growing body of research since the 1960s no attempt has been made to create a cross cultural framework This work offers such a framework Eight chapters written by educators in each country s educational system cover the following nations China Great Britain Hungary Japan Iran Pakistan United States and Zimbabwe Historical discussions in each chapter provide a context for current practice An index and illustrations are also included Disability, Human Rights and Education Felicity

Armstrong, Len Barton, 1999-10-16 This book recognizes the importance of an informed cross cultural understanding of the policies and practices of different societies within the field of disability human rights and education It represents an attempt to critically engage with issues arising from the historical and contemporary domination of portrayals of the western as advanced democratic and exemplary in contrast to the construction of the rest of the world as backward primitive and inferior in these fundamental areas How human rights are understood in different contexts is a key theme in this book Importantly some contributors raise questions about the value of a human rights model across all societies Other contributors see the struggle for human rights as at the heart of the struggle for an inclusive society The implications for education arising from this debate are identified and a series of questions are raised by each author for further reflection and discussion as well as providing a stimulus for developing future research Disability Human Rights and Education is recommended reading for students and researchers interested in Disability Studies inclusive education and social policy It is also directly relevant to professionals and policy makers in the field seeking a greater understanding of cross cultural perspectives

Jennifer Lavia, Michele Moore, 2009-09-10 This book provides a space in which struggles for indigenous knowledge within communities are articulated valued heard and responded to The volume takes change as its focus yet acknowledges that the origins and significance of change are frequently found to be unsettling Contributors explore different understandings of change that forge sustainable inclusive and just communities and examine issues related to citizenship resistance peacemaking critical literacies and second chance opportunities The authors seek to promote advocacy of change that recognises the importance of an informed engagement with cross cultural issues in order to foreground those missing perspectives that are often marginalised silenced ignored or denied All contributors are concerned with how the process of change can bridge the gap between social justice and exclusion and develop critical understandings of the implications of changing policy and practice for those within and working with the educational organisations and communities World

Yearbook of Education 1993 Peter Mittler,Ron Brouillette,Duncan Harris,2019-08-08 First published in 2005 The goal of Education For All set by the United Nations at the 1990 Jomtien Thailand Conference and adopted by heads of state at the World Summit for Children in the same year confronts all of us with the fundamental challenge of including children with disabilities in the education system of all nations The aim of this book is to record analyse and celebrate positive signs of growth and development in the field of special needs education but with particular reference to children with significant disabilities The special education theme was selected for the 1993 edition of The World Yearbook of Education in synchrony with the ending of the UN Decade of Disabled Persons 1983 to 1992 Disability, Stigmatization, and Children's

Developing Selves Misa Kayama,Wendy Haight,May-Lee Ku,Minhae Cho,Hee Yun Lee,2020 Stigmatization is part of the everyday lives of children with disabilities their families and friends Negative social encounters even with perfect strangers can dampen joyful occasions add stress to challenging situations and lead to social isolation In this book we describe a program of research spanning a decade that seeks to understand disabilities in their developmental and cultural contexts We are especially interested in understanding adults socialization practices that promise to reduce stigmatization in the next generation Guided by developmental cultural psychology including the concept of universalism without uniformity we focus on the understandings and responses to disability and associated stigmatization of elementary school educators practicing in Japan Taiwan South Korea and the US Educators from all four cultural groups expressed strikingly similar concerns about the impact of stigmatization on the emerging cultural self both of children with disabilities and their typically developing peers Educators also described culturally nuanced socialization goals and practices pertaining to inclusive education In Japan for instance educators emphasized the importance of peer group belonging and strategies to support the participation of children with disabilities In the U S educators placed relatively more emphasis on individual development and discussed strategies for the equitable treatment of children with disabilities Educators in Taiwan and South Korea emphasized the cultivation of compassion in typically developing children The understanding gained through examination of how diverse individuals address common challenges using cultural resources available in their everyday lives provides important lessons for strengthening theory policy and programs Global Perspectives on Inclusive Teacher Education Rice, Bethany

M.,2019-03-01 Inclusive teacher preparation varies greatly in format and practice yet programs grapple with the same underlying challenges which practices work and where do they work As children with disabilities are increasingly being included in schools it is essential that guidance is put into place on how best to adapt inclusive practices into the classroom and create new practices based on the cultural context Global Perspectives on Inclusive Teacher Education summarizes existing research on inclusive practices globally while presenting emerging research and opportunities for cementing change in inclusive teacher education locally including examples of how inclusive practices are integrated in and adapted to diverse cultural contexts Covering topics that include critical pedagogy religious schooling and teacher education this publication is designed for curriculum developers instructional designers administrators higher education faculty educators policymakers and students

Disability, Human Rights And Education Armstrong, Felicity,Barton, Len,1999-10-01 This book recognizes the importance of an informed cross cultural understanding of the policies and practices of different societies within the field of disability human rights and education It represents an attempt to critically engage with issues arising from the historical and contemporary domination of portrayals of the western as advanced democratic and exemplary in contrast to the construction of the rest of the world as backward primitive and inferior in these fundamental areas How human rights are understood in different contexts is a key theme in this book Importantly some contributors raise questions about the value of a human rights model across all societies Other contributors see the struggle for human rights as at the heart of the struggle for an inclusive society The implications for education arising from this debate are identified and a series of questions are raised by each author for further reflection and discussion as well as providing a stimulus for developing future research Disability Human Rights and Education is recommended reading for students and researchers interested in Disability Studies inclusive education and social policy It is also directly relevant to professionals and policy makers in the field seeking a greater understanding of cross cultural perspectives

Inclusive Education Felicity Armstrong,Derrick Armstrong,Len Barton,2016-01-08 First published in 2000 This book looks at inclusive education in the context of policy and practice in a number of different countries particularly in relation to children and young people of school age At the heart of the idea of inclusive education lie serious issues concerning human rights equal opportunities and social justice The papers in this book will hopefully contribute to stimulating further debate and dialogue over both the conceptualisation and understanding of a cross cultural approach to inclusion and exclusion

The Enterprise of Education Kagendo Mutua,Cynthia S Sunal,2007-10-01 The Enterprise of Education is Book IV of the research series Research on Education in Africa the Caribbean and the Middle East This book examines the implications of rapid political sociocultural and economic change for the enterprise of education within particular countries in the regions of Africa the Caribbean and the Middle East all of which have cultural ties It provides a space for a critical dialogue about the impact of global issues on the enterprise of education in specific locales or regions within a specific country Finally the book identifies trends in the enterprise of education that are occurring across the regions The Enterprise of Education draws from recent research summarizing interpreting and making connections to address issues questions that are central to the enterprise of education today in these three world regions Among the specific questions issues that are considered include the following How is the enterprise of education addressing and including the needs of all children including those who are squatters new immigrants have special education needs and who are voiceless in their society What social structures in these regions mitigate against student learning especially particular groups of students What research methodologies enable us to investigate the enterprise of education in these world regions What role does the learning environment play in schools Who creates curriculum and for what purposes Which issues are found to a greater or lesser extent in education in other world regions What role do parents play in economic and social support of schools How can teachers best be prepared for effective teaching
