Wells: Another Kind of Life Michael Sherborne,2013-11-01 An unlikely lothario one of the most successful writers of his time a figure at the heart of the age's political and artistic debates H G Wells life is a great story in its own right When H G Wells left school in 1880 at 13 he seemed destined for obscurity yet he defied expectations becoming one of the most famous writers in the world He wrote classic science fiction tales such as The Time Machine The Invisible Man and The War of the Worlds reinvented the Dickensian novel in Kipps and The History of Mr Polly pioneered postmodernism in experimental fiction and harangued his contemporaries in polemics which included two bestselling histories of the world He brought equal energy to his outrageously promiscuous love life a series of affairs embraced distinguished authors such as Dorothy Richardson and Rebecca West the gun toting travel writer Odette Keun and Russian spy Moura Budberg Until his death in 1946 Wells had artistic and ideological confrontations with everyone from Henry James to George Orwell from Churchill to Stalin He remains a controversial figure attacked by some as a philistine sexist and racist praised by others as a great writer a prophet of globalization and a pioneer of human rights Setting the record straight this authoritative biography is the first full scale account to include material from the long suppressed skeleton correspondence with his mistresses and illegitimate daughter

Modernism, Magazines, and the British avant-garde Faith Binckes, 2010-05-20 This book is a re examination of the fertile years of early modernism immediately preceding the First World War During this period how where and under whose terms the avant garde in Britain would be constructed and consumed were very much to play for It is the first study to look in detail at two little magazines marginalised from many accounts of this competitive process Rhythm and the Blue Review By thoroughly examining not only the content but the interrelated networks that defined and surrounded these publications Faith Binckes aims to provide a fresh and challenging perspective to the on going reappraisal of modernism Founded in 1911 and edited by John Middleton Murry with assistance from Michael Sadleir and subsequently from Katherine Mansfield Rhythm and The Blue Review featured a series of pivotal moments Rhythm was the arena for a challenge to Roger Fry's vision of Post Impressionism for the introduction of Picasso to a British audience for early short stories and reviews by Lawrence and for Mansfield's discovery of a voice in which to frame her breakthrough writing on New Zealand A further context for many of these experiments was the extended and acrimonious debate Rhythm conducted with A R Orage's New Age in which issues of the proper gender generation and formulation of modernity were debated month by month However reading magazines as vehicles for avant garde development can only provide half the story The book also pays close attention to their dialogic reproductive and periodical nature and explores the strategies at work within the terminology of the new Crucially it argues that they offer compelling material evidence for the consistently mobile and multiple boundaries of the modern and puts forward a compelling case for focusing upon the specificity of magazines as a medium for literary and artistic innovation

are still scanty in contrast to studies of Irish poetry and drama Attempting to fill a large critical vacancy Irish Novels 1890 1940 is a comprehensive survey of popular and minor fiction mainly novels published between 1890 and 1922 a crucial period in Irish cultural and political history Since the bulk of these sixty odd writers have never been written about certainly beyond brief mentions the book opens up for further exploration a literary landscape hitherto neglected perhaps even unsuspected This new landscape should alter the familiar perspectives on Irish literature of the period first of all by adding genre fiction science fiction detective novels ghost stories New Woman fiction and Great War novels to the Irish syllabus secondly by demonstrating the immense contribution of women writers to popular and mainstream Irish fiction Among the popular and prolific female writers discussed are Mrs J H Riddell B M Croker M E Francis Sarah Grand Katharine Tynan Ella MacMahon Katherine Cecil Thurston W M Letts and Hannah Lynch Indeed a critical inference of the survey is that if there is a discernible tradition of the Irish novel it is largely a female tradition A substantial postscript surveys novels by Irish women between 1922 and 1940 and relates them to the work of their female antecedents This ground breaking survey should also alter the familiar perspectives on the Ireland of 1890 1922 Many of the popular works were problem novels and hence throw light on contemporary thinking and debate on the Irish Question After the Irish Literary Revival and creation of the Free State much popular and mainstream fiction became a lost archive neglected evidence indeed of a lost Ireland The

Transformation of the Psyche in British Primary Care, 1880-1970 Rhodri Hayward, 2014-02-25 Conflicting models of selfhood have become central to debates over modern medicine Yet we still lack a clear historical account of how this psychological sensibility came to be established The Transformation of the Psyche in British Primary Care 1880 1970 will remedy this situation by demonstrating that there is nothing inevitable about the current connection between health identity and personal history It traces the changing conception of the psyche in Britain over the last two centuries and it demonstrates how these changes were rooted in transformed patterns of medical care The shifts from private medicine through to National Insurance and the National Health Service fostered different kinds of relationship between doctor and patient and different understandings of psychological distress The Transformation of the Psyche in British Primary Care 1880 1970 examines these transformations and in so doing provides new critical insights into our modern sense of identity and changing notions of health that will be of great value to anyone interested in the modern history of British medicine

Wyndham Lewis's Cultural Criticism and the Infrastructures of Patronage Nathan O'Donnell, 2020 This is the first book length study of Wyndham Lewis's cultural criticism a valuable body of writing which posed questions that have yet to be answered about the role and status of the artist in a professionalised society and ultimately about the value economic civic political of the work of art Thomas Burke's Dark Chinoiserie Anne Veronica Witchard, 2009 Focusing on Thomas Burke's bestselling collection of short stories Limehouse Nights 1916 Anne Witchard's interdisciplinary book contextualises the burgeoning cult of Chinatown in turn of the century London Witchard shows that Burke's immensely popular Chinatown stories destabilize social orthodoxies in highly complex ways forcing us to rethink his influence on both sides of the Atlantic She shows that China and chinoiserie served as mirrors that reveal the disquietudes of western art and culture Queer Domesticities M. Cook, 2014-04-29 Sissy home boys or domestic outlaws Through a series of vivid case studies taken from across the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Matt Cook explores the emergence of these trenchant stereotypes and looks at how they play out in the home and family lives of queer men Philanthropy and the Construction of Victorian Women's Citizenship Andrea Geddes Poole, 2014-02-05 British social reformers Emma Cons 1838 1911 and Lucy Cavendish 1841 1924 broke new ground in their efforts to better the lot of the working poor in London they hoped to transform these people's lives through great art music high culture and elite knowledge Although they did not recognize it as such their work was in many ways an affirmation and display of citizenship This book uses Cons's and Cavendish's partnership and work as an illuminating point of departure for exploring the larger topic of women's philanthropic campaigns in late Victorian and Edwardian society Andrea Geddes Poole demonstrates that beginning in the late 1860s a shift was occurring from an emphasis on charity as a private personal act of women's virtuous duty to public philanthropy as evidence of citizenly civic participation She shows that through philanthropic works women were able to construct a separate public sphere through which they could speak directly to each other about how to affect matters of significant public policy decades before women were finally granted the right to vote
