Information and Developments IBP, Inc.,2014-10-02 Egypt Energy Policy Laws and Regulations Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Developments Energy Politics in the Mena Region Valeria Talbot,2023-01-27 The war in Ukraine has highlighted Europe s urgency to diversify its energy supplies and reduce dependence on Russia While in such context energy security has become a top political priority for Europe energy resources from the Middle East and North Africa MENA region have drawn European countries renewed attention Boasting abundant oil and gas reserves the MENA region will likely play a leading role in Europe s current energy crisis While MENA exporters ability to increase their supply is limited in the short term more resources are likely to be available in a longer term perspective As Europeans are scrambling for alternatives this Report analyses the different implications for a number of MENA exporters of fossil fuels As these countries have become even more central to Europe s energy security assessing their prospects is of paramount importance including not only their short term role as suppliers of fossil fuels but also their opportunity to accelerate along the path of the green transition How is the current energy crisis affecting the role of MENA hydrocarbons producers as Europe s energy suppliers How will Europe s needs in additional resources redefine energy geopolitics in the Middle East and North Africa Which new prospects for their green transition Science in the Study of Ancient Egypt Sonia Zakrzewski,Andrew Shortland,Joanne Rowland,2015-12-22 Science in the Study of Ancient Egypt takes an innovative and integrated approach to the use of scientific techniques and methodologies within the study of ancient Egypt Accessibly demonstrating how to integrate scientific methodologies into Egyptology broadly and in Egyptian archaeology in particular this volume will help to maximise the amount of information that can be obtained within a study of ancient Egypt be it in the field museum or laboratory Using a range of case studies which exemplify best practice within Egyptian archaeological science Science in the Study of Ancient Egypt presents both the scientific methods of analysis available and their potential applications to Egyptologists Although Egyptology has mainly shown a marked lack of engagement with recent archaeological science the authors illustrate the inclusive but varied nature of the scientific archaeology which is now being undertaken demonstrating how new analytical techniques can develop greater understanding of Egyptian data Ancient Egypt ,1923 Energy Transitions in the Middle East Katherine Wolff,Karen E. Young,2024-01-25 How do Middle East energy transitions fit into international energy markets In this book energy analysts geopolitical experts and specialists of political economy examine the new energy potential in the Middle East The particular focus surrounds how the region s access to finance combined with the new global regulations and considerations of economic development shape the region s energy transitions overall The Middle East is revealed to be a key site of new energy production sharing and transmission as well as technology innovation At the same time the authors examine the variables that determine the success in each country and energy source including the advantages that hydrocarbon producers will have in renewables and transition fuels and the risk that these might slow down the energy transition overall In doing so the book situates the energy transition in the Middle East in a broader context of economic development financing models and regulations and explains how this context interacts with the development of new energy sources Energy Transitions in the Middle East is an account of the challenges Middle Eastern states will face in navigating the global energy transition as well as their key areas of opportunity Blue by Fire: A Marker of the Technical History of Glass and Ceramics Howell G. M. Edwards, Philippe Colomban, 2025-01-27 The use of natural mineral and synthetic blue pigments in antiquity for wall paintings and illuminated manuscript historiography evolved into the most suitable blue pigments for the decoration of glazed and enamelled wares ceramics glass and metal which required a stability at the high temperatures of the kilns used for glazing and firing Historic literature is often vague regarding the blue pigments used for this purpose The generic term cobalt blue covers a wide range of pigments that were actually used for the decoration of faience majolica stonewares earthenwares and porcelains This book addresses the application of elemental and molecular spectroscopic analytical techniques to a range of diverse problems which arise for decorated ceramics glass and enamels and related artefacts a history of techniques provenance and authentication The text contains an introduction to the important analytical techniques that are used in destructive and nondestructive analytical measurements and highlights potential future applications based upon novel miniaturised instrumentation for in situ studies The book is co authored by two international experts with many years experience in the application of analysis to artworks and archaeological artefacts and in the investigation of materials and sites for cultural heritage preservation Among 19 chapters one is devoted to an evaluation of the analytical techniques that are used and the pitfalls which can arise in the interpretation of the data The approach conveys the detailed information which has become available from the adoption of analytical techniques to diverse problems through the scientific interrogation of ceramic and related artefacts Examples are given of how the pigment analysis and sourcing can provide unique information about ancient trade routes and pigment sourcing historically A classic instance is provided by the transfer of European enamelling technologies carried out at the beginning of the 17th century in Japan Arita and at the turn of the 17th 18th centuries in China by the Jesuits established at the Court of respectively the Kyushu island of Dejima and the Chinese Qing Emperors Kangxi It has hence been demonstrated that some of the most beautiful porcelains emanating from Japan and China in this period incorporate blue decoration with pigments supplied from Europe The interpretation of the analytical data can assist museum curators archaeologists art dealers experts and cultural heritage historians in the preservation and conservation of ancient materials which have applied blue pigment decoration A History of Egypt from the End of the Neolithic Period to the Death of Cleopatra VII B.C. 30 (Routledge Revivals) E. A. Wallis Budge, 2013-10-14 Sir E A Wallis Budge 1857 1934 was Keeper of the British Museum's department of oriental antiquities from 1894 until his retirement in 1924 Carrying out many missions to Egypt in search of ancient objects Budge was hugely successful in collecting papyri statues and other artefacts for the trustees of the British Museum numbering into the thousands and of great cultural and historical significance Budge published well over 100 monographs which shaped the development of future scholarship and are still of great academic value today dealing with subjects such as Egyptian religion history and literature This volume first published in 1901 as part of the Egypt and Chaldaea series is the first of eight volumes by Budge dealing with different periods in the history of Egypt The narrative begins with an account of Egypt and her people in the latter part of the Neolithic period and ends with the description of her conquest by the Romans under Caesar Octavianus B C 30 Budge considers the great excavations of the nineteenth century in the first volume and alongside detailed illustrations provides a fascinating analysis of the dynastic kings
