Discourses of Mourning in Dante, Petrarch, and Proust Jennifer Rushworth, 2016 This book brings together in a novel and exciting combination three authors who have written movingly about mourning two medieval Italian poets Dante Alighieri and Francesco Petrarca and one early twentieth century French novelist Marcel Proust Each of these authors through their respective narratives of bereavement grapples with the challenge of how to write adequately about the deeply personal and painful experience of grief In Jennifer Rushworth's analysis discourses of mourning emerge as caught between the twin conflicting demands of a comforting readable shared generality and a silent solitary respect for the uniqueness of any and every experience of loss Rushworth explores a variety of major questions in the book including what type of language is appropriate to mourning What effect does mourning have on language Why and how has the Orpheus myth been so influential on discourses of mourning across different time periods and languages Might the form of mourning described in a text and the form of closure achieved by that same text be mutually formative and sustaining In this way discussion of the literary representation of mourning extends to embrace topics such as the medieval sin of acedia the proper name memory literary epiphanies the image of the book and the concept of writing as promise In addition to the three primary authors Rushworth draws extensively on the writings of Sigmund Freud Julia Kristeva Jacques Derrida and Roland Barthes These rich and diverse psychoanalytical and French theoretical traditions provide terminological nuance and frameworks for comparison particularly in relation to the complex term melancholia

Narrativizing Theories Benjamin John Peters, 2020-02-06 Ours is an age of offense a time of reactionary shock always received never given Ours is an age that has forgone cultural narratives a time of individualism wherein personal identities trump the collective spirit Ours is an age of failing earth a time of ecological collapse yet the consumption of global capitalism continues to run amok But don't fear You have the correct worldview the best solutions It's not your fault these things are happening It's the president's the immigrant's and the Islamicist's Or perhaps It's the socialist's the tree hugger's and the baby killer's But it's not your fault Never yours For the world exists as you see it in an echo chamber lined with golden pixels Do I still have your attention Then join me Within the covers of Narrativizing Theories I dive into ambiguity and aesthetics to depict how clashing worldviews exist side by side yet remain mutually incompatible I examine how cultures distinguish between acceptable and unacceptable beliefs embodiments and identities And I outline an aesthetic theory of ambiguity that highlights through the twists and turns of literature the provisionality of knowledge and the narrativization of reality
