Composing Cultures Eric Aronoff, 2013-10-18 The term culture has become ubiquitous in both academic and popular conversations but its usefulness is a point of dispute Taking the current shift from cultural studies to aesthetics as the latest form of this discussion Eric Aronoff contends that in American modernism the concepts of culture and of aesthetics have always been inseparable The modernist concept of culture he argues arose out of an interdisciplinary dialogue about value meaning and form among social critics artists anthropologists and literary critics including figures as diverse as Van Wyck Brooks Edward Sapir Willa Cather Lewis Mumford John Crowe Ransom Raymond Weaver and Allen Tate These figures proposed new ways to conceive of culture that intertwined theories of aesthetic and literary value with theories of national racial and regional identity Through close readings Aronoff shows that disciplines and approaches that are often thought of as opposed cultural anthropology and aesthetics American literary history and literary criticism and multiculturalism and regionalism are in fact engaged in common debate and proceed from shared arguments about culture and form

Koffman, 2019-02-08 Winner of the 2020 Jordan Schnitzer Book Award in Social Science Anthropology and Folklore Honorable Mention 2021 Saul Viener Book Prize The Jews Indian investigates the history of American Jewish relationships with Native Americans both in the realm of cultural imagination and in face to face encounters These two groups exchanges were numerous and diverse proving at times harmonious when Jews and Natives people's economic and social interests aligned but discordant and fraught at other times American Jews could be as exploitative of Native cultural social and political issues as other American settlers and historian

David Koffman argues that these interactions both unsettle and historicize the often triumphant consensus history of American Jewish life Focusing on the ways Jewish class mobility and civic belonging were wrapped up in the dynamics of power and myth making that so severely impacted Native Americans this book is provocative and timely the first history to critically analyze Jewish participation in and Jews grappling with the legacies of Native American history and the colonial project upon which America rests presentation Such postmodern anthropology has effectively downplayed connections with past luminaries in the field whose scholarship is perceived to be uncomfortably colonialist and nonreflexive Ironically as the American Anthropological Association nears its one hundredth anniversary and interest in the history of the discipline is at an all time high that history has been effectively presented as removed from and irrelevant to the new generation Invisible Genealogies offers an alternative compelling vision of the development of anthropology in North America one that emphasizes continuity rather than discontinuity from legendary founder Franz Boas to the present Regna Darnell identifies key interpretive assumptions and practices that have persisted sometimes in modified form since the groundbreaking work of A L Kroeber Boas Ruth Benedict Edward Sapir Elsie Clews Parsons Paul Radin Benjamin Lee Whorf and A Irving Hallowell during the founding decades of anthropology Also highlighted are the Americanist roots of postmodern anthropology and the work of innovative recent scholars like Claude Lévi Strauss and Clifford Geertz
