Travels and Translations Alison Yarrington, Stefano

Villani, Julia Kelly, 2013-11-01 This volume explores the fascinating interactions and exchanges between British and Italian cultures from the early modern period to the present. It looks at how these exchanges were mediated through personal encounters, travel writings and translations involving a variety of protagonists: explorers, writers, poets, preachers, diplomats and tourists. In particular, this book examines the understanding of Italy as a destination and set of locations, each with their own distinctive geographical character during a period which saw the creation of the modern Italian state. It also charts the shifts in travelling activity during this period from early explorers and cartographers via those taking part in the Grand Tour in the 18th and 19th centuries to more modern poet travellers and blogging tourists. Drawing upon literary studies, history, art history, cultural studies, translation studies, sociology and socio-linguistics, this volume takes a cross-disciplinary approach to its rich constellation of cultural transactions.

Globalgothic Glennis Byron, 2015-11-01 The dead travel fast and in our contemporary globalised world so too does the gothic. Globalgothic contains essays from some of the leading scholars in gothic studies as well as offering insights from new scholars in the field. The contributors consider a wide range of different media including literary texts, film, dance, music, cyberculture, computer games and graphic novels. This book will be essential reading for all students and academics interested in the gothic in international literature, cinema and cyberspace.

Space, Gender, and the Gaze in Literature and Art Ágnes Zsófia Kovács, László B. Sári, 2017-01-06 This volume explores how the concepts of space and gaze are tied in with social constructions of gender relations. It discusses the gendered body, the queer gaze, the relationship between body and memory, the memory of war, monstrosity and also domestic and hybrid spaces as key concepts. The arguments within the book connect core theoretical issues of gender and space to well-known literary texts and contexts like the poems of Sylvia Plath and the novels of Don DeLillo, Toni Morrison and Cormack McCarthy. The collection will be of interest to university students and instructors alike as an extended introduction to critical and theoretical discourses on gender and space.
