Gospel Of Matthew And Its Readers A Historical Introduction To The First Gospel:

The Gospel of Matthew and Its Readers Howard Clarke, 2003-08-07 The Gospel of Matthew and Its Readers is a biblical commentary with a difference Howard Clarke first establishes contemporary scholarship's mainstream view of Matthew's Gospel and then presents a sampling of the ways this text has been read understood and applied through two millennia By referring forward to Matthew's readers rather than back to the text's composers the book exploits the tensions between what contemporary scholars understand to be the intent of the author of Matthew and the quite different indeed often eccentric and bizarre ways this text has been understood assimilated and applied over the years The commentary is a testament to the ambiguities and elasticity of the text and a cogent reminder that interpretations are not fixed nor texts immutably relevant And unlike other commentaries this one gives space to those who have questioned rejected or even ridiculed Matthew's messages since Bible bashing like Bible thumping is a historically significant part of the experience of reading the Bible

Jesus, Matthew's Gospel and Early Christianity Daniel M. Gurtner, Joel Willitts, Richard A. Burridge, 2011-10-27 The passing of Professor Graham Stanton former Lady Margaret chair of divinity at Cambridge University in 2009 marked the passing of an era in Matthean scholarship and studies of early Christianity Stanton's 15 books and dozens of articles span thirty four years and centre largely on questions pertaining to the gospel of Matthew and early Christianity The present volume pays tribute to Stanton by engaging with the principal areas of his research and contributions the Gospel of Matthew and Early Christianity Contributors to the volume each engage a research question which intersects the contribution of Stanton in his various spheres of scholarly influence and enquiry The distinguished contributors include Richard Burridge David Catchpole James D G Dunn Craig A Evans Don Hagner Peter Head Anders Runesson and Christopher Tuckett

Matthew's Account of the Massacre of the Innocents in Light of its Reception History Sung J. Cho, 2021-10-21 Sung Cho addresses the seeming contradiction of Herod the Great's massacre in Matthew 2 16 18 questioning why such a tragedy had to occur why it was included in the good news of Jesus and what connection it has to ancient prophecies In creating a reception history of the Massacre of the Innocents Cho progresses through two millennia worth of interpretation and depiction to highlight key works for discussion Beginning with a close reading of Matthew 2 16 18 Cho moves to analyse depictions of the tragedy in the Early Patristic Tradition from the sixth century to the early modern period and thus to the present day complete with an examination of visual interpretations of the massacre Cho's examination provides a positive step to understanding the depths of human suffering with the help of many diverse perspectives

Matthew and the Mishnah Akiva Cohen, 2016-06-10 Akiva Cohen investigates the general research question how do the authors of religious texts reconstruct their community identity and ethos in the absence of their central cult His particular socio historical focus of this more general question is how do the respective authors of the Gospel according to Matthew and the editors of the Mishnah redefine their group identities following the destruction of the Second Temple Cohen further examines how after the Destruction both the Matthean and the Mishnaic communities found and articulated their renewed community bearings and a new sense of vision through each of their respective author redactor's foundational texts. The context of this study is thus that of an inner Jewish phenomenon: two Jewish groups seeking to re-establish their community identity and ethos without the physical temple that had been the cultic center of their cosmos.

The Use of the Old Testament in Matthew 1-4 Erik Waaler, 2023-10-19 In this book Erik Waaler discusses how Matthew uses the Old Testament in Matthew 1-4 to describe Jesus as the Christ. He debates the intricate system of changes that occur when a text is moved from one literary context to another and criticizes the current terminology of quotation, allusion, and echo for being too simplistic. Issues like worldview, metalepsis, different sociological, historic, and linguistic contexts, and development all have to be taken into consideration, he argues, as do the influence of both traditional interpretations known to Matthew and his primary audience, as well as the intentional and unintentional changes this interaction causes. These different methodological approaches are then applied to the study of recontextualization of the Old Testament in Matthew 1-4.

The Bible, Christianity, and Culture Pavol Bargár, 2023-05-01 This book originated in the Donatio Universitatis Carolinae award and research support that Professor Petr Pokorn received in 2017. It was envisioned, designed, and originally conducted as a project exploring the biblical roots of Christian culture. Experts in various theological and philosophical disciplines, both from the Czech Republic and abroad, were to probe this topic from their particular perspectives. The hoped-for output was to be a coherent collective study of the proposed topic. However, due to the unexpected passing away of Prof. Pokorn in early 2020, the project could not be executed according to the original plan. Rather than a collective monograph, therefore, the present book is a collection of essays that investigate various aspects of the Bible and Christianity in their relation to culture as a broad human phenomenon. The book is divided into two sections. While the first section focuses on particular issues in the Bible, the second addresses historical, philosophical, and cultural developments. As Petr Pokorn was actively and importantly involved in the initial stages of the project, two essays are written by him personally. The whole book then is dedicated in his honor.

The History of Galilee, 47 BCE to 1260 CE M. M. Silver, 2021-09-20 Several world cities are held in reverence by some or all three monotheistic faiths, but no world region has allure to all three on a level matched by Galilee in northern Israel. The region where Jesus came of age, Galilee, is where Christianity came into being as a communal faith; it is where Judaism reinvented itself in rabbinic, Talmudic form after the destruction of the Jerusalem Temple, and it is where Islam established its place in the Holy Land following epochal military triumphs in the region's center or its outer rims. The History of Galilee, 47 BCE to 1260 CE From Josephus and Jesus to the Crusades tells Galilee's history from Josephus and Jesus to the Crusades in a multi-cultural format and lively narrative voice. This first of its kind publication will be a rich source of information and a catalyst of inter-faith discussion among readers of varying backgrounds and interests.

The Last Historian in Galilee M. M. Silver, 2025-04-17 What do the history and cultures of Judaism and Christianity have to say about the most urgent and complicated problems and crises of our times Is it a logical outcome of relations between these faiths that Israel is increasingly accused of colonialism or genocide and also vociferously defended against these charges by Christians and Jews in America and elsewhere Is the widespread sense that truth in politics and public life has become an endangered species also a logical outcome of how Jewish and Christian relations and affairs have evolved since the period of Jesus and the Second Temple through to the start of the twentieth century and up to today And what about these religions and their histories and the glaringly unequal distribution of wealth in democracies today The three essays in The Last Historian in Galilee examine the three broad issues laden within such questions money truth and power Branching out from the Galilee region of Jesus youth where fracture between the two religions first erupted these readable lively essays survey how the two religions have related to these topics for two thousand years They end with a no holds barred discussion of the three topics contemporary expressions as in debates about Zionist colonialism

Essentials of Catholic Radicalism Corneliu C. Simuț, 2011 The book describes the fundamental tenets of Catholic Radicalism defined as an understanding of Christianity from a perspective which dismisses the traditional supernatural image of God The essentials of Catholic Radicalism are extracted from the works of Vito Mancuso a lay Italian theologian whose intention is to rebuild Christian theology starting from the natural and physical reality of this world Mancuso insists that he is a Catholic theologian despite his conviction that

God should be seen today in atheistic terms which help us understand the world from a rational perspective The use of reason in theology is compulsory for Mancuso in order for theology to make sense in the skeptical society of our times which is characterized by a powerful lay consciousness

The Sermon on the Mount and the Ewes of Ghana Frederick Mawusi Amevenku, 2023-11-07 Using socio rhetorical interpretation to study Matthew s Sermon on the Mount the book explores the contextual interpretation of the sermon among the Ghana Ewe The book argues that the Sermon on the Mount can be viewed as Jesus new kingdom gospel and a reinterpretation of the Mosaic law teaching not only ethics but also kingdom appropriate righteousness for theological and ethical renewal Kingdom appropriate righteousness is nurtured through daily exchanges with God leading to habitual forgiveness and subsequent divine perfection of love for God and one s enemies In the contemporary context kingdom appropriate righteousness challenges the deficient compulsory wealth prosperity gospel Christianity that is promoted in contemporary Ghana and elsewhere

God's Rational Warriors Marion Ledwig, 2013-05-02 This book stands in the tradition of philosophers who advance the rationality of faith Yet this book goes beyond their accounts for it not only defends the view that faith can be termed rational but it also considers the different senses in which faith can be termed rational While this book advances the idea that faith as a general category can be termed rational it does not investigate in a detailed way whether there are arguments for the rationality of particular faiths which would go beyond the arguments for the rationality of faith as a general category Besides discussing whether betting on God in Pascal s wager and believing in miracles are forms of the rationality of faith I will provide unique solutions to the problem of evil and the paradoxes of omnipotence and omniscience

Translation Theory and the Old Testament in Matthew Woojin Chung, 2017-09-04 In Translation Theory and the Old Testament in Matthew Woojin Chung employs a rigorous method of Skopos theory to examine Matthew's citation technique in his infancy narrative and locates the specific purpose of his use of Scripture. He argues that the complex nature of the formulaic quotations and allusion in Matthew 1:2 can be understood in light of new methodological insights. The way Matthew cites the Old Testament for his communicative purpose is congruent to the approach of a Skopos translator who is motivated by a specific purpose of translation. The theory of interpretation of his use of Scripture therefore can be informed by the theory and method of translation.

The Emergence of Subjectivity in the Ancient and Medieval World Jon Stewart, 2020-03-24 The Emergence of Subjectivity in the Ancient and Medieval World An Interpretation of Western Civilization represents a combination of different genres: cultural history, philosophical anthropology, and textbook. It follows a handful of different but interrelated themes through more than a dozen texts that were written over a period of several millennia and by means of an analysis of these texts presents a theory of the development of Western civilization from antiquity to the Middle Ages. The main line of argument traces the various self-conceptions of different cultures as they developed historically, reflecting different views of what it is to be human. The thesis of the volume is that through examination of these changes we can discern the gradual emergence of what we today call inwardness, subjectivity, and individual freedom. As human civilization took its first tenuous steps, it had a very limited conception of the individual. Instead, the dominant principle was that of the wider group: the family, clan, or people. Only in the course of history did the idea of what we now know as individuality begin to emerge, and it took millennia for this idea to be fully recognized and developed The conception of human beings as having a sphere of inwardness and subjectivity subsequently had a sweeping impact on all aspects of culture including philosophy religion law and art indeed this notion largely constitutes what is today referred to as modernity It is easy to lose sight of the fact that this modern conception of human subjectivity was not simply something given but rather the result of a long process of historical and cultural development
