Nonstandard Finite Difference Models of Differential Equations Ronald E. Mickens,1994 This book provides a clear summary of the work of the author on the construction of nonstandard finite difference schemes for the numerical integration of differential equations The major thrust of the book is to show that discrete models of differential equations exist such that the elementary types of numerical instabilities do not occur A consequence of this result is that in general bigger step sizes can often be used in actual calculations and or finite difference schemes can be constructed that are conditionally stable in many instances whereas in using standard techniques no such schemes exist The theoretical basis of this work is centered on the concepts of exact and best finite difference schemes In addition a set of rules is given for the discrete modeling of derivatives and nonlinear expressions that occur in differential equations These rules often lead to a unique nonstandard finite difference model for a given differential equation

Computational Acoustics: Scattering, supercomputing, and propagation Richard L. Lau,1993 Part of a two volume set comprising the proceedings of a symposium on computational acoustics this volume focuses on scattering supercomputing and propagation Coverage of the set ranges from time domain computations to the search for solutions to global extrema and inverse problems
