ABSTRACT

The development of technology has given rise to various social media platforms, such as Instagram. Instagram offers numerous features to its users for content creation, such as Instagram stories, feeds, Instagram reels, and live Instagram. The use of social media is closely related to digital literacy skills. Social media has a significant impact on society, including changes in parenting patterns, known as "sharenting." Sharenting refers to the activity of parents sharing photos or videos of their children's growth and development on social media, which often makes it difficult to restrict their lives on social media and their children's privacy. This study aims to investigate the influence of parents' digital literacy on their sharing behavior and their children's privacy. The research utilizes a quantitative method by conducting a survey with 400 respondents. The findings of the study reveal that digital literacy has a significant influence on sharenting, with a coefficient of 0.799, a t-statistic of 16.785, and a p-value of 0.000. This indicates that digital literacy has a proven positive and significant impact on sharenting. Furthermore, digital literacy also has a positive and significant influence on children's privacy, as the coefficient of digital literacy's influence on children's privacy is 0.774, with a t-statistic of 16.059 and a p-value of 0.000.

Based on the results of the We Are Social survey, Instagram is in second place as the social media platform most used by Indonesians, namely 86.5%, and globally, Indonesians are the fourth most active Instagram users, amounting to 106 million active users (Kemp, 2023b).

Development According to Parents W. Andrews Collins, Jacqueline J. Goodnow, 2014-01-02 To their everyday life with children parents bring a number of ideas about development and about parenting Some of these ideas are about their own children and about themselves as parents Others are more general ideas for instance about what babies are like how children change with age what kinds of affection and control they need the responsibilities of mothers and fathers or the degree of influence each parent has over the way a child function is an umbrella term for various cognitive processes that are central to goal directed behavior thoughts and emotions. These processes are especially important in novel or demanding situations which require a rapid and flexible adjustment of behavior to the changing demands of the environment. The development of executive function relies on the maturation of associated brain regions as well as on stimulation in the child's social contexts especially the home and school. Over the past decade the term executive function has become a buzzword in the field of education as both researchers and educators underscore the importance of skills like goal setting planning and organizing in academic success. Accordingly in initiating this Research Topic and eBook our goal was to provide a forum for state of the art theoretical and empirical work on this that both facilitates communication among researchers from diverse fields and provides a theoretically sound source of information for educators. The contributors to this volume who hail from several different countries in Europe and North America have certainly accomplished this goal in their nuanced and cutting edge depictions of the complex links among various executive function components and educational success.
