Emerging Directions in Doctoral Education Patrick Blessinger, Denise Stockley, 2016-03-30 This volume examines how universities and colleges around the world are developing innovative ways to provide doctoral education including new theories and models of doctoral education and the impact of changes in government and or accreditation policy on practices in doctoral education Enhancing the Doctoral Experience Steve Hutchinson, Helen Lawrence, 2017-03-02 One of the major intangible benefits associated with the postgraduate research experience is precisely that the experience And more specifically for an increasing number of international research students the British doctoral experience This experience is often largely defined and shaped by their relationship with and support from their supervisor Enhancing the Doctoral Experience brings together the authors experience and research frameworks and models as well as pragmatic feedback and understanding This synthesis of scholarly theory and pragmatic sampling has produced a book that provides a scaffold for students and supervisors to have conversations about their expectations to discuss what supervision is to articulate clearly what both parties need in order for a successful relationship to occur and to build a mutually beneficial endeavour In many cases these conversations can be complicated by cultural and linguistic differences so the text explicitly addresses these and other sources of misunderstanding Against a challenging background of growing numbers of students but also increasing pressures on time and costs Enhancing the Doctoral Experience offers an approach to improve the effectiveness of the doctoral student and increase the professionalization of research supervision It does so by providing both with an awareness of and a toolkit to approach student diversity Research Ethics for Counsellors, Nurses & Social Workers Dee Danchev, Alistair Ross, 2013-10-22 Research Ethics for Counsellors Nurses Social Workers is designed to help you make the best start in your research career With ethical implications and considerations arising at each stage of the research process engaging with the wide range of issues and ideas can often prove a challenge Dee Danchev and Alastair Ross will help you overcome this challenge and become confident skilled researchers by providing you with An in depth explanation of the theoretical base for a range of ethical demands and approaches equipping you with the tools to make the right decisions for your project Key research ethics findings so students can apply the latest thinking to your research practice Short case examples and checklists to help you apply theory to practice and reflect on what you have learned Further reading and important resources to support your continued learning Whether you are an experienced researcher or coming to research for the first time this highly practical step by step guide is a must for your bookshelf Dee Danchev is a counselling psychologist and Pastoral Advisor at Nuffield College Oxford Alistair Ross is Director of Psychodynamic Studies and Dean of Kellogg College Oxford      Getting Published Gina Wisker, 2017-09-16 This comprehensive handbook will guide readers through the process of publishing their research. It helps readers to establish successful writing practices and habits which will enable them to write well, complete their work to a high standard and have their work published. Drawing on her experience as a writer, editor and supervisor, Gina Wisker covers the practicalities of writing and provides tried and tested techniques for managing time, overcoming writer's block and developing a confident academic voice. This book is ideal for postgraduates, academics, researchers and professionals wishing to write effectively and share their work with others through academic publication.

The Good Supervisor Gina Wisker, 2012-07-16 This engaging book outlines effective strategies for supervising students on a wide variety of research projects, whether at undergraduate or postgraduate level. It covers each stage of the research journey and provides guidance on working with students to define research topics, select appropriate methodologies, write up theses and prepare for the viva. It also supports supervisors in establishing and maintaining good supervisory practices and shows how supervisors can help students to help themselves. This will be essential reading for supervisors of undergraduate or postgraduate research projects, dissertations and theses. It is also an ideal resource for student researchers looking to get the most out of their relationship with their supervisor. New to this Edition: New content on cross-cultural supervision, online distance supervision and sustaining research communities and networks.

Reflections on Postgraduate Supervision and Academic Development in an African Distance Education Environment Tennyson Mgutshini, Thenjiwe Meyiwa, Amile Mavundla, 2024-03-05 Within postgraduate studies, student non-completion, attrition and failure rates range from 29% to 65%. These unacceptably high failure rates have been attributed to wide-ranging influences. Even so, there is consensus that postgraduate supervision represents a critical enabling vehicle for student success. Reflections on postgraduate supervision and academic development in an African distance education environment offers a collection of scholarly contributions that focus on critical questions related to the practice of postgraduate supervision from the multiple perspectives of higher education institutions, postgraduate students and supervisors. The inclusion of contributions from educators and learners in one manuscript makes this a unique text, one that should be the mainstay of any scholar engaged in postgraduate studies. The manuscript aptly makes the case for recognising that postgraduate preparation and supervision are the most critical contributing factors to the success of postgraduate learners and, by inference, they represent a significant panacea to many of Africa's social and economic skills.

Becoming a Successful Early Career Researcher Adrian Eley, Jerry Wellington, Stephanie Pitts, Catherine Biggs, 2012-08-21 Not that long ago, there were fairly clear divisions between researchers at different stages throughout their career, starting with doctoral students, then progressing to postdoctoral workers and finishing with academic staff. However, more recently, the term Early Career Researcher (ECR) has been introduced, partly as a response to their growing importance, which has been reflected by their increased respect and status shown by national, international and funding bodies. There are several common features of an

ECR's job including the need to establish a professional identity and develop into an independent researcher competing for grants and increasing one's output of research publications this book offers proven practical advice to help ECRs kick start a successful academic career With advice on Choosing research topics Making best use of a Research Supervisor Mentor Developing your research writing Getting published journals and books Writing a research grant fellowship Becoming a supervisor Becoming a teacher and Developing your career This guide will help academics at the start of their career no matter what discipline they are engaged in Arts Humanities Sciences or Social Sciences For example in sciences and engineering ECRs are commonly part of a large research team and often have to work in collaborative groups requiring strong interpersonal skills but can lead to tension in the interaction with one's supervisor or mentor In contrast in the arts and humanities and perhaps the social sciences an ECR is more likely to be an independent scholar with a requirement to work alone leading to a different type of relationship but not necessarily any less stressful with one's supervisor or mentor Using case studies from across the subject areas to illustrate key points and give suitable examples this vital guide will help all early career academics
