Efficiency Analysis By Production Frontiers:

Efficiency Analysis by Production Frontiers Jati Sengupta, 2012-12-06 Measuring productive efficiency for nonprofit organizations has posed a great challenge to applied researchers today. The problem has many facets and diverse implications for a number of disciplines such as economics, applied statistics, management science, and information theory. This monograph discusses four major areas which emphasize the applied economic and econometric aspects of the production frontier analysis: A Stochastic frontier theory, B Data envelopment analysis, C Clustering and estimation theory, D Economic and managerial applications. Besides containing an up-to-date survey of the most recent developments in the field, the monograph presents several new results and theorems from my own research. These include but are not limited to the following: 1 interface with parametric theory, 2 minimax and robust concepts of production frontier, 3 game theoretic extension of the Farrell and Johansen models, 4 optimal clustering techniques for data envelopment analysis, and 5 the dynamic and stochastic generalizations of the efficiency frontier at the micro and macro levels. In my research work in this field, I have received great support and inspiration from Professor Abraham Charnes of the University of Texas at Austin, who has basically founded the technique of data envelopment analysis, developed it, and is still expanding it. My interactions with him have been most fruitful and productive. I am deeply grateful to him. Finally, I must record my deep appreciation to my wife and two children for their loving and enduring support. But for their support, this work would not have been completed.

Production Frontiers Rolf Fare, Shawna Grosskopf, C. A. Knox Lovell, 1994 This book presents a mathematical programming approach to the analysis of production frontiers and efficiency measurement. The authors construct a variety of production frontiers and by measuring distances to them are able to develop a model of efficient producer behaviour and a taxonomy of possible types of departure from efficiency in various environments. Linear programming is used as an analytical and computational technique in order to accomplish this. The approach developed is then applied to modelling producer behaviour. By focusing on the empirical relevance of production frontiers and distances to them and applying linear programming techniques to artificial data to illustrate the type of information they can generate, this book provides a unique study in applied production analysis. It will be of interest to scholars and students of economics and operations research and analysts in business and government.

Benchmarking for Performance Evaluation Subhash C. Ray, Subal C. Kumbhakar, Pami Dua, 2015-03-25 This book provides a detailed introduction to the theoretical and methodological foundations of production efficiency analysis using benchmarking. Two of the more popular methods of efficiency evaluation are Stochastic Frontier Analysis (SFA) and Data Envelopment Analysis (DEA), both of which are based on the concept of a production possibility set and its frontier. Depending on the assumed objectives of the decision-making unit, a Production Cost or Profit Frontier is constructed from observed data on input and output quantities and prices. While SFA uses different maximum likelihood estimation techniques to estimate a parametric frontier, DEA relies on mathematical programming to create a nonparametric frontier Yet another alternative is the Convex Nonparametric Frontier which is based on the assumed convexity of the production possibility set and creates a piecewise linear frontier consisting of a number of tangent hyper planes Three of the papers in this volume provide a detailed and relatively easy to follow exposition of the underlying theory from neoclassical production economics and offer step by step instructions on the appropriate model to apply in different contexts and how to implement them Of particular appeal are the instructions on i how to write the codes for different SFA models on STATA ii how to write a VBA Macro for repetitive solution of the DEA problem for each production unit on Excel Solver and iii how to write the codes for the Nonparametric Convex Frontier estimation The three other papers in the volume are primarily theoretical and will be of interest to PhD students and researchers hoping to make methodological and conceptual contributions to the field of nonparametric efficiency analysis

Benchmarking Economic Efficiency Jesús T. Pastor, Juan Aparicio, José L. Zofío, 2022-07-12 This book unifies and extends the definition and measurement of economic efficiency and its use as a real life benchmarking technique for actual organizations Analytically the book relies on the economic theory of duality as guiding framework Empirically it shows how the alternative models can be implemented by way of Data Envelopment Analysis An accompanying software programmed in the open source Julia language is used to solve the models The package is a self contained set of functions that can be used for individual learning and instruction The source code associated documentation and replication notebooks are available online The book discusses the concept of economic efficiency at the firm level comparing observed to optimal economic performance and its decomposition according to technical and allocative criteria Depending on the underlying technical efficiency measure economic efficiency can be decomposed multiplicatively or additively Part I of the book deals with the classic multiplicative approach that decomposes cost and revenue efficiency based on radial distance functions Subsequently the book examines how these partial approaches can be expanded to the notion of profitability efficiency considering both the input and output dimensions of the firm and relying on the generalized distance function for the measurement of technical efficiency Part II is devoted to the recent additive framework related to the decomposition of economic inefficiency defined in terms of cost revenue and profit The book presents economic models for the Russell and enhanced graph Russell measures the weighted additive distance function the directional distance function the modified directional distance function and the Hilder distance function Each model is presented in a separate chapter New approaches that qualify and generalize previous results are also introduced in the last chapters including the reverse directional distance function and the general direct approach The book concludes by highlighting the importance of benchmarking economic efficiency for all business stakeholders and recalling the main conclusions obtained from many years of research on this topic The book offers different alternatives to measure economic efficiency based on a set of desirable properties and advises on the choice of specific economic efficiency models Efficiency Measurement in Health and Health Care Bruce Hollingsworth, Stuart J.

Econometrics of Panel Data László Mátyás,Patrick Sevestre,2013-12-01 The aim of this volume is to provide a general overview of the econometrics of panel data both from a theoretical and from an applied viewpoint Since the pioneering papers by Edwin Kuh 1959 Yair Mundlak 1961 Irving Hoch 1962 and Pietro Balestra and Marc Nerlove 1966 the pooling of cross sections and time series data has become an increasingly popular way of quantifying economic relationships Each series provides information lacking in the other so a combination of both leads to more accurate and reliable results than would be achievable by one type of series alone Over the last 30 years much work has been done investigation of the properties of the applied estimators and test statistics analysis of dynamic models and the effects of eventual measurement errors etc These are just some of the problems addressed by this work In addition some specific difficulties associated with the use of panel data such as attrition heterogeneity selectivity bias pseudo panels etc have also been explored The first objective of this book which takes up Parts I and II is to give as complete and up to date a presentation of these theoretical developments as possible Part I is concerned with classical linear models and their extensions Part II deals with nonlinear models and related issues logit and pro bit models latent variable models duration and count data models incomplete panels and selectivity bias point processes and simulation techniques
