Securing Electronic Business Processes Sachar Paulus,Norbert Pohlmann,Helmut Reimer,2013-12-01 The Information Security Solutions Europe Conference ISSE was started in 1999 by EEMA and TeleTrusT with the support of the European COlnmission and the German Federal Minis try of Technology and Economics Today the annual conference is a fixed event in every IT security professional s calendar. The aim of ISSE is to support the development of a European information security culture and especially a cross border framework for trustworthy IT ap plications for citizens industry and administration. Therefore it is important to take into con sideration both international developments and European regulations and to allow for the in terdisciplinary character of the information security field. In the five years of its existence ISSE has thus helped shape the profile of this specialist area. The integration of security in IT applications was initially driven only by the actual security issues considered important by experts in the field currently however the economic aspects of the corresponding solutions are the most important factor in deciding their success. ISSE offers a suitable podium for the discussion of the relationship between these considerations and for the presentation of the practical implementation of concepts with their technical or ganisational and economic parameters.
