Educating Research For Social Justice:

Educational Research for Social Justice Morwenna Griffiths, 1998 Aimed at researchers in educational settings this book addresses fundamental questions and provides a set of principles for doing educational research for social justice It covers all stages from getting started to dissemination of results

Educational Research For Social Justice Morwenna Griffiths, 1998-11-16 This is a book for all researchers in educational settings whose research is motivated by considerations of justice fairness and equity It addresses questions such researchers have to face Will a prior political or ethical commitment bias the research How far can the ideas of empowerment or giving a voice be realised How can researchers who research communities to which they belong deal with the ethical issues of being both insider and outsider The book provides a set of principles for doing educational research for social justice These are rooted in considerations of methodology epistemology and power relations and provide a framework for dealing with the practical issues of collaboration ethics bias empowerment voice uncertain knowledge and reflexivity at all stages of research from getting started to dissemination and taking responsibility as members of the wider community of educational researchers Theoretical arguments and the realities of practical research are brought together and interwoven Thus the book will be helpful to all researchers whether they are just beginning their first project or whether they are already highly experienced It will be of great value to research students in designing and writing up their theses and dissertations

Educational Research for Social Justice Alistair Ross, 2021-06-22 This book presents a series of analyses of educational policies largely in the UK but some also in Europe researched by a team of social scientists who share a commitment to social justice and equity in education We explore what social justice means in educational policy and practice and how it impacts on our understanding of both educational science and the public good Using a social constructivist approach the book argues that social justice requires a particular and critical analysis of the meaning of meritocracy and of the way this term turns educational policies towards treating learning as a competition in which many young people are constructed as losers We discuss how many terms in education are essentialised and have specific and different meanings for particular social groups and how this may create issues in both quantitative survey methods and in determining what is the public good We discuss social justice across a range of intersecting social characteristics including social class ethnicity and gender as they are applied across the educational policy spectrum from early years to postgraduate education We examine the ways that young people construct their identities and the implications of this for understanding the public good in educational practice We consider the responsibilities of educational researchers to acknowledge these issues and offer examples of researching with such a commitment We conclude by considering how educational policy might contribute to a socially just equitable and inclusive public good

Educational Research: Ethics, Social Justice, and Funding Dynamics Paul Smeyers, Marc Depaepe, 2018-03-22 This book examines the conduct and purposes of educational research It looks at values of researchers at whose interests are served by the research and the inclusion or exclusion of practitioners and subjects of research It asks if educational research should be explicitly committed to promoting equality and inclusion and whether that requires research to be more aware of the cultural and global contexts of research questions It explores the ethical challenges encountered in the conduct of research and the potential ethical and social justice constraints imposed by comparative research rankings Next it discusses the research funding aspects of the above issues both philosophically and historically thus examining the changing sources patterns and effects of educational research funding over time Since the conduct of most educational research increasingly requires institutional and financial support the question is whether funding shapes the content of research and what counts as research The book discusses if funding is a factor in the shift of efforts of researchers from pure or basic research to more applied research and if it encourages the development of large research teams to the detriment of individual scholars It looks at the ownership of the content results and data of publicly funded research Finally it tries to establish whether scholars solicit funding to support research projects or generate research projects to attract funding This publication as well as the ones that are mentioned in the preliminary pages of this work were realized by the Research Community Philosophy and History of the Discipline of Education Purposes Projects and Practices of Educational Research Oral History and Qualitative Methodologies Thalia M. Mulvihill, Raji Swaminathan, 2022-02-24 Oral History and Qualitative Methodologies Educational Research for Social Justice examines oral history methodological processes involved in the doing of oral history as well as the theoretical historical and knowledge implications of using oral history for social justice projects Oral history in qualitative research is an umbrella term that integrates history life history and testimony accounts Oral history draws from various social science disciplines including educational studies history indigenous studies sociology anthropology ethnic studies women s studies and youth studies The book argues for the further development of a pedagogical culture related to oral history for educational research as part of the effort to diversify the range of human experiences educators community members and policy makers incorporate into knowledge making and knowledge using processes Early career researchers novice researchers as well as experienced researchers are invited to join social science educational researchers in developing their own oral history projects using all of the tools dispositions and epistemologies affiliated with qualitative inquiry The book will be of use in courses on qualitative research methods history anthropology women s studies and education disciplines as well as by community organizations who want to use oral history to preserve the history of communities and advance social justice projects Praxis Makes Perfect Iram Siraj-Blatchford, 1994 An examination of educational research aimed at those critical post graduate research students and researchers who have completed research methods courses but who have yet to take on the challenge and responsibility of justifying their knowledge claims rigorously A significant contribution to the scant literature available on research methods and their implications for social justice Research Methods for Social Justice and Equity in Education Kamden K. Strunk, Leslie Ann Locke, 2019-02-26 This textbook presents an integrative approach to thinking about research methods for social justice In today s education landscape there is a growing interest in scholar activism and ways of doing research that advances educational equity This text provides a foundational overview of important theoretical and philosophical issues specific to this kind of work in Section I In Section II readers engage with various ways of thinking about collecting and analyzing data including qualitative quantitative and mixed methods approaches Finally in Section III through case studies and research narratives readers will learn about real scholars and their work This book takes a wide ranging approach to ways that various modalities and practices of research can contribute to an equity mission

Educational Leadership for Ethics and Social Justice Anthony H. Normore,Jeffrey S. Brooks,2014-01-01 The purpose of this book is to examine and learn lessons from the way leadership for social justice is conceptualized in several disciplines and to consider how these lessons might improve the preparation and practice of school leaders In particular we examine philosophy anthropology sociology economics political science public policy and psychology Our contention is that the field of educational leadership might consider taking a step backward in order to take several forward That is educational leadership researchers might re examine social justice both in terms of social and individual dynamics and as disciplinary specific multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary phenomenon By adopting this approach we can connect and extend long established lines of conceptual and empirical inquiry and thereby gain insights that may otherwise be overlooked or assumed This holds great promise for generating refining and testing theories of social justice in educational leadership and will help strengthen already vibrant lines of inquiry That is rather than citing a single or a few works out of their disciplinary context it might be more fruitful to situate educational leadership for social justice research in their respective traditions This could be carried out by extending extant lines of inquiry in educational leadership research and then incorporating lessons gleaned from this work into innovative practice For example why not more clearly establish lines of educational leadership and justice research into the Philosophy of Social Justice Economics of Social Justice Political Studies of Social Justice Sociology of Social Justice Anthropology of Social Justice and the Public Policy of Social Justice as focused and discrete areas of inquiry Once this new orientation toward the knowledge base of social justice and educational leadership is laid we might then seek to explore some of the natural connections between traditions before ultimately investigating justice in educational leadership through a free association of ideas as the worlds of practice and research co construct a new language they can use to discuss educational leadership Such an endeavor may demand reconceptualization of both the processes and products of collaborative research and the communication of findings but it will demand a breaking down of methodological and epistemological biases and a more meaningful level and type of engagement between primary and applied knowledge bases

Social Justice and International Education LaNitra M. Berger, 2020 Social Justice and International Education Research Practice and Perspectives brings together a group of educators scholars and practitioners in the field of international education who are doing important and innovative work promoting social justice confronting inequality and fostering social responsibility in a global context The book does not operate on a singular definition of social justice rather the authors describe their own working definition and how it has guided their international education work Divided into three parts the book explores social justice research social justice in practice and different perspectives from practitioners across the field

Preparing and Sustaining Social Justice Educators Annamarie Francois, Karen Hunter Quartz, 2022-10-18 Preparing and Sustaining Social Justice Educators spotlights the challenging and necessary work of fostering social justice in schools Integral to this work are the teachers and school leaders who enact the principles of social justice racial equity cultural inclusivity and identity acceptance daily in their classrooms This volume makes the case that high quality public education relies on the recruitment professional development and retention of educators ready to navigate complex systemic and structural inequities to best serve vulnerable student populations Annamarie Francois and Karen Hunter Quartz along with contributing scholars and practitioners present an intersectional approach to educational justice The approach is grounded in research about deeper learning community development and school reform Throughout the book the contributors detail professional activities proven to sustain social justice educators They show for example how effective teacher coaching encourages educators to confront their explicit and implicit biases to engage in critical conversations and self reflection and to assess teacher performance through a social justice lens The book illustrates how professional learning collaborations promote diverse antiracist and socially responsible learning communities Case studies at three university partnered K 12 schools in Los Angeles demonstrate the benefits of these professional alliances and practices Francois and Quartz acknowledge the difficulty of the social justice educator s task a challenge heightened by a K 12 teacher shortage an undersupplied teacher pipeline and school closures Yet they keep their sights set on a just and equitable future and in this work they give educators the tools to build such a future

Education Research in the Public Interest Gloria Ladson-Billings, William F. Tate, 2014-04-15 Acclaimed African American scholar and teacher educator Gloria Ladson Billings examines the field of teacher education through the accomplishments and contributions of well known African American teacher educators Lisa Delpit Carl Grant Jacqueline Jordan Irvine Geneva Gay Cherry McGee Banks William Tate and Joyce King Using in depth interviews and storytelling Ladson Billings depicts deeply personal portraits of these scholars experiences to confront race and racism not only theoretically but within their everyday professional lives in the Big House of the academy Ladson Billings gives these portraits even greater resonance and meaning by pairing these teacher educators with historical figures such as Harriet Tubman Nat Turner and Charlotte Forten whose contributions to the struggle for social justice are a wellspring of hope and courage to all educators and a tribute to African Americans whose political scientific and spiritual efforts made life better for us all This compelling book is important reading for all educators who want to transform teacher education for the better The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education is enthused and excited about Ladson Billings s dynamic and provoking scholarship Its focus on outstanding African American teacher educators is a major contribution to teacher education literature This cutting edge research is likely to prompt some of the best of unconventional teacher education thought David G Imig President and CEO American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education In this moving and original book Gloria Ladson Billings offers complex insights about the politics of scholarship the experiences of scholars of color in universities and the larger enterprise of teaching and teacher education for social justice Marilyn Cochran Smith Lynch School of Education Boston College and President of the American Educational Research Association AERA for 2004-05
