Exceptional Children Ronald L. Taylor,Les Sternberg,2012-12-06 Exceptional Children Integrating Research and Teaching provides a comprehensive introduction to the constantly changing area of special education The book is research based and its title reflects our opinion regarding the important link between research and classroom practice There is one feature of Exceptional Children Integrating Research and Teaching that warrants attention and perhaps justification it was written specifically to address the graduate student or sophisticated undergraduate student market As such the book is written at a higher level and with a greater concept density than typical introductory special education texts We feel that this type of book is very much needed and will be received favorably by the special education community There are also several unique features of Exceptional Children Integrating Research and Teaching that we feel will be quite valuable First we have emphasized the area of teaching practices and not simply included basic facts about definitions characteristics and causes Although some introductory texts include information about teaching considerations that area is not discussed as in depth as it is in our text We feel that it is important that readers not only understand the educational needs of exceptional children but also can identify the best educational practices to meet those needs The Education of People with Profound and Multiple Handicaps Judy Sebba,1988 Designed as a basis for in service courses for staff working with people who have profound and multiple handicaps Topics covered include assessment curriculum teaching methods microelectronics problem behaviour and physiotherapy

Equity in Education Students with Disabilities, Learning Difficulties and Disadvantages OECD,2004-05-18 This book outlines practices in OECD countries to promote equity in education that is to address the needs of students with disabilities learning difficulties and social disadvantages Individuals with Profound Disabilities Les Sternberg,1994 EDUCATING EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN MANGAL, S. K.,2007-08-14 Intended as a text for undergraduate and postgraduate courses B Ed M Ed B A M A Education and diploma level courses in Education as well as for courses in Special Education this comprehensive and accessible book provides a sound base for understanding Special Children through an insightful and incisive discussion on Special Education The text dwells on exceptional children or children with special needs who either suffer from various deficits or disabilities or are gifted Such children include the mentally retarded the visually and hearing impaired the emotionally disturbed those with autism cerebral palsy and the deprived as well as the gifted and the creative This well organized and pedagogically rich text should be extremely useful to students as well as professionals special education teachers those engaged in guidance and counselling educational policy makers and field workers who have an abiding interest in the education of exceptional children and in special education KEY FEATURES Includes student friendly features like illustrations examples tables and research based experimental findings Provides a complete picture of exceptionality from the early years of human history to the present day Gives case histories to practically illustrate the subject

Integrated Lifecycle Services for Persons with Disabilities David L. Lovett, Kathryn A. Haring, 2012-12-06 The field of education is under pressure both external and internal to improve the services provided to all students In American society and elsewhere there is a concern that current educational practices fail to adequately prepare many students to be productive citizens There has been a call for educational services that are more responsive to the needs of students that use effective educational practices that involve parents and the local community and that adequately prepare teachers to assume more professional roles Over the last several decades special educators have addressed these and other critical issues as they relate to students with disabilities The knowledge gained from these endeavors can be useful in the reshaping of schools for all students those with disabilities and those without Indeed this information may be useful for services beyond school whether for young children or adults This volume has been written to address how people with disabilities can be effectively served in settings with their nondisabled peers Because many of the students who are not well served by current educational practices have similar needs as students with disabilities it is anticipated that some of this information may be useful in the discussion regarding the reshaping of educational systems It is also anticipated that the material presented will help in the design of more effective coordinated systems that serve people with disabilities throughout their lives

Foundations of Rehabilitation Counseling with Persons who are Blind Or Visually Impaired J. Elton Moore, William Hughes Graves, Jeanne Boland Patterson, 1997 Rehabilitation professionals have long recognized that the needs of people who are blind or visually impaired are unique and require a special knowledge and expertise for the provision and coordination of effective rehabilitation services Contributions to this text from more than 25 experts provide essential information on subjects such as functional medical vocational and psychological assessments demographic and cultural issues placement and employment issues and the rehabilitation team Each chapter includes a Learning Activities section that can be used in class assignments or during in service training Sample forms such as a Job Analysis Worksheet a Comprehensive Vocational Evaluation System Protocol an Individualized Written Rehabilitation Program and a Work Environment Visual Demands Report are included in the appendices An extensive glossary provides easy access to clear definitions of terms
