Edmond Jabes and the Hazard of Exile Steven Jaron, 2017-12-02 For a man who no longer has a homeland writing becomes a place to live Theodor Adorno The Jewish writer Edmond Jabes born in Cairo in 1912 wrote explicitly from the perspective of exile once he arrived in France after the Suez crisis However Jaron argues exile was a predominant theme even before Jabes left Egypt He brings to light the author's associations with other francophone writers in Egypt especially those affiliated with the Surrealists but shows that metropolitan France exerted a greater pull Drawing on unpublished archival and rare printed sources Jaron examines how Jabes opposed anti-Semitism during the 1930s and later placed the Shoah at the heart of his acclaimed Livres des Questions 1963 73 Exile, Non-Belonging and Statelessness in

Grangaud, Jabès, Lubin and Luca Greg Kerr, 2021-06-07 At least since the Romantic era poetry has often been understood as a powerful vector of collective belonging The idea that certain poets are emblematic of a national culture is one of the chief means by which literature historicizes itself inscribes itself in a shared cultural past and supplies modes of belonging to those who consume it But what then of the exiled migrant or translingual poet How might writing in a language other than one's mother tongue complicate this picture of the relation between poet language and literary system What of those for whom the practice of poetry is inseparable from a sense of restlessness or unease suggesting a condition of not being at home in any one language even that of their mother tongue These questions are crucial for four French language poets whose work is the focus of this study Armen Lubin 1903 74 Ghassam Luca 1913 94 Edmond Jabès 1912 91 and Michelle Grangaud 1941 Ranging across borders within and beyond the Francosphere from Algeria to Armenia to Egypt to Romania this book shows how a poetic practice inflected by exile statelessness or non belonging has the potential to disrupt long held assumptions of the relation between subjects the language they use and the place from which they speak Language and

Cultures and Geographies of Identity Zsuzsanna Fagyal, H. Adlai Murdoch, 2014-07-03 This collection of original essays challenges French centered conceptions of francophonie as the shaping force of the production and study of the French language literature culture film and art both inside and outside mainland France The traditional view of francophone cultural productions as offshoots of their hexagonal avatar is replaced by a pluricentric conception that reads interrelated aspects of francophonie as products of specific contexts conditions and local ecologies that emerged from post colonial encounters with France and other colonizing powers The twenty one papers grouped into six thematic parts focus on distinctive literary linguistic musical cinematographic and visual forms of expression in geographical areas long defined as the peripheries of the French speaking world the Caribbean the Indian Ocean the Maghreb sub Saharan Africa Quebec and hexagonal cities with a preponderance of immigrant populations These contested sites of French collective identity offer a rich formulation of distinctly local francophone identities that do not fit in with concepts of linguistic and ethnic exclusiveness but are consistent with a pluralistic demographic shift and the true face of Frenchness that is indeed plural

On the Destruction and Death Drives Andre Green, 2023-06-29 Living with the idea of bearing a death force fundamentally directed at oneself is hardly easy to admit It is less so in any case than the idea that we are all murderers that we are ever ready to plead legitimate defence or the need to survive so as to strike out at another Andre Green from the Foreword What drives men to kill and self destruct On the Death and Destruction Drives traces the introduction and development of the controversial concept of the death drive from the work of Freud 1920 1938 to the main contributions of classical and post Freudian authors including Ferenczi Klein Bion Winnicott and Lacan Shedding light on non neurotic phenomena and structures such as anorexia bulimia depression suicide criminal behaviour Andre Green offers a new perspective on the relationship between the life drive Eros and the death drive Thanatos Andre Green was a key figure in contemporary psychoanalysis who embraced philosophy and an international outlook to enhance psychoanalytic theory This book was one of his last works originally published in French as Pourquoi les pulsions de destruction ou de mort in 2012 Green's defence of one of Freud's most daring revisions of his drive theory remains relevant to psychoanalytic work today and it is an honour to bring this excellent translation to the English speaking world To enhance its worth the book includes an introduction from translator Steven Jaron to clarify certain technical terms and situate the book within Green's oeuvre This book is an important contribution to the development of psychoanalytic theory and essential reading for all trainee and practising psychoanalysts
