Educating All Learners:

Strengths-Based Approaches to Educating All Learners with Disabilities Michael L. Wehmeyer, 2019 Michael Wehmeyer a leading scholar with over four decades of experience as a teacher teacher educator researcher and advocate provides a cogent but accessible account of the evolution of special education Offering a compelling vision of where the field should be headed in the next decade he notes how the digital revolution has made it possible for all learners to gain access to content and instruction This text focuses on the need to consider how young people with and without disabilities learn and the importance of creating personalizable education as strengths based approaches to disability move education away from diagnosis and remediation to schoolwide instruction for all students This book is not written as a criticism of traditional special education models but instead examines the big ideas for going beyond special education that can improve outcomes for learners with disabilities and prepare them for the 21st century world If you are part of the field you must choose whether to look backward or forward This book includes the tools you need for the latter Sue Swenson president Inclusion International Dr Wehmeyer masterfully articulates the flaws in our current approach and offers a roadmap to a more promising future for our nation s children Melody Bruce Musgrove The University of Mississippi Educating All Students Together Leonard C. Burrello, Carl Lashley, Edith E. Beatty, 2001 A convincing conceptualization of schools as complex adaptive systems The authors recommendations that leaders must tinker at the margins and lead in the zone of complexity provide sound and practical advice for school leaders faced with creating unified educational systems that will be able to effectively support students with increasingly diverse learning needs David W Peterson Superintendent Northern Suburban Special Education District Highland Park IL Far too long we have failed to acknowledge the large number of students relegated to parallel educational systems This thought provoking book provides an important first step in helping us surface the mental models we hold of the teaching and learning of diverse student populations Nelda Cambron McCabe Department of Educational Leadership Miami University Oxford OH An insightful informative and thought provoking book that deals with a topic that concerns every educator Kate Kinley Director of Administrative Training and Staff Development Clark County School District NV Learn to create unified learner centered schools where all students learn By focusing on student learning as the central goal of school administrators Burrello Lashley and Beatty establish a plan for creating a truly integrated educational system one that unifies the separate and parallel systems of special and general education The authors call for an end to the piecemeal strategy of including students one classroom one grade level or one school at a time Instead they demonstrate how administrators school leaders and the community must work together on decisions to implement personalized education plans accountable curricular outcomes and appropriate instructional adaptations Some of the key concepts include Schools embracing special services personnel The roles of the community and other stakeholders Reconceptualizing schools based on learner centered principles Program evaluation and incentives Brain and holographic design as a framework for complex adaptive systems Collaboration between school administrators and teachers Adapting curriculum and instruction In this groundbreaking work of practical application Burrello Lashley and Beatty demonstrate effective leadership strategies that will enable administrators to better manage the cultural imperative of equity and excellence for all students They further support the plan for unified schools through case studies and a program evaluation of self study guide An essential resource for general and special educators parents and communities Strengths-Based
