Ecology, Engineering, and Management Michel van Eeten, Emery Roe, 2002      Ecology, Engineering, and Management Michel van Eeten, Emery Roe, 2002 This book presents an overview and introduction to adaptive ecosystem management for an audience of environmental policymakers scientists engineers planners and administrators Adaptive management is the process of implementing policy decisions through scientifically driven management experiments These experiments test predictions with policy implications and the results are then used to improve or optimize the policy outcomes Van Eeten and Roe outline the principles and procedures recommended for adaptive ecosystem management and then present an extensive case study and demonstration of the approach through examination of the CALFED Program CALFED covering the San Francisco Bay and Sacramento River Delta is the largest integrative program for ecosystem restoration and management in the US and is an ideal testing ground for case by case resource management across a heterogeneous landscape where population resources and the environment are in conflict      Restoration Ecology Jelte van Andel, James Aronson, 2009-03-12 Aimed at Masters and PhD students teachers researchers and natural resource managers this book explores the interface between restoration ecology and ecological restoration Covers both the ecological concepts involved in restoration ecology and their practical applications Written by an excellent group of ecologists from centres across Europe with a strong reputation for restoration ecology Only textbook around aimed specifically at advanced undergraduate courses and postgraduate study programmes      Managing Technology and Innovation Robert Verburg, J. Roland Ortt, Willemijn M. Dicke, 2006-06-19 Modern technology and innovation are vital to the success of all companies be they hi tech firms or companies seemingly unaffected by technology and innovation whether established firms or business start ups This book focuses on understanding technology as a corporate resource covering product development design of systems and the managerial aspects of new and high technology Topics investigated include the internal organization of high technology firms the management of technology in society managing innovation dilemmas and strategies The wide ranging experience of the teachers and experts contributing to this book has resulted in an integrated multi disciplinary textbook that provides an introductory overview to managing technology and innovation in the twenty first century This text is essential reading for students of business and engineering concerned with technology and innovation management      Environmental Law and the Ecosystem Approach Froukje Maria Platjouw, 2016-05-05 The ecosystem approach embodies a concept of the environment which emphasizes the integrated components of nature as complex adaptive systems This book examines the relationship between the architecture and design of environmental law and the implementation of the ecosystem approach as a means to maintain ecological integrity The main issue addressed is in which manner and to what extent does fragmentation and administrative discretion in environmental law impede the implementation of an ecosystem approach This is explored through analysis of several questions what is an ecosystem approach and how could it be implemented how can economic evaluation of ecosystem services contribute to the debate to what extent is environmental law fragmented and how does this affect the implementation of the ecosystem approach to what extent does environmental law contain administrative discretion and how does this affect the implementation of the ecosystem approach is there a need for greater consistency coherence and a stronger rule of law in environmental law in light of the ecosystem approach The main focus is on Europe with additional international comparisons where appropriate The book concludes by providing a normative portrayal of future environmental law as protective systemic and predictable

Stakeholder-oriented Valuation to Support Water Resources Management Processes Leon Hermans, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2006-01-01 Today raising capacity in water resources management entails supporting stakeholders and decision makers to reach a common understanding on the priorities and necessary arrangements for sharing and allocating water related goods and services Valuation is central to this process as setting priorities and making choices implies valuing certain uses and arrangements above others Water valuation can help stakeholders to express the values that water related goods and services represent to them It also offers a means for conflict resolution and planning informing stakeholders supporting communication and facilitating joint decision making on priorities and specific actions This report confronts concepts from the literature on water valuation with practical experiences from three local cases where an effort was made to embed existing valuation tools and methods in ongoing water resources management processes It uses the lessons from this exploration to provide a first outline for a stakeholder oriented water valuation process This is expected to provide a useful starting point to help water professionals and policy makers improve the use of water valuation as a means to support participatory processes of water resources management

Reindeer Management in Northernmost Europe Bruce C. Forbes, Manfred Bölter, Ludger Müller-Wille, Janne Hukkinen, Felix Müller, Nicolas Gunsley, Yulian Konstantinov, 2006-03-09 The findings presented in this volume represent a concerted effort to develop a more inclusive form of reindeer management for northernmost Europe Our guiding principle has been to foster a new paradigm of participatory research We wish to move beyond the historical reliance on western approaches to basic and applied science These have been concerned primarily with interactions between herded animals and the various components of their biophysical environment e g plants insects predators climate and others In our view sociocultural and economic drivers along with herders experience based knowledge gain equal currency in the effort to understand how management may mitigate against the negative aspects of the challenges modern herding faces while also exploring concepts of sustainability from different perspectives see also Jernsletten and Klokov 2002 Kankaanp et al 2002 Ulvevadet and Klokov 2004 This broadening of the pool of disciplines and local national and international stakeholders in policy relevant research invariably complicates virtually all aspects of the research process Multidisciplinary or in our sense transdisciplinary approaches also require extraordinary effort from all participants if they are to succeed As such those approaches should not be undertaken lightly nor without personnel who possess appropriate experience

ence in cooperating with those of different disciplines and preferably also with relevant practitioners and public social and administrative institutions In such settings the potential for misunderstandings is quite high      Creating System Innovation H. de Bruijn,H. van der Voort,W. Dicke,M. de Jong,W. Veeneman,2004-04-15 System innovation is a radical change of institutions structures and values concerning one or more entire sectors This publication from the Consultative Committee of Sectorcouncils for Research and Development in the Netherlands draws conclusions about the possible role of governments when system innovation is predominantly emergent questionin      Sustainability Networks Janne Hukkinen,2008-08-18 Sustainability is a word that means different things depending on who is using it thus underlining the potential problems involved in experts from different fields teaming up to tackle sustainability problems In this book Janne Hukkinen argues for a reflexive approach to sustainability as a means of coming to grips with the threatening challenges arising out of human environment interaction The author illustrates his argument with a case study of natural resource management in Lapland showing how sustainability is understood holistically by academics and professionals alike This book reflects an emerging cognitive turn in sustainability sciences conceptualizing environmental challenges during action on our social and material environments rather than in isolation Hukkinen argues that this conceptual blending enables sustainability experts to hybridize themselves to immerse themselves in the fields of other experts and imagine the other s work both prerequisites of trans disciplinary knowledge integration This book shows how sustainability experts can reveal their intellectual engagements when designing scenarios and indicators and presents a rigorous framework for organizing expert collaboration      Valuation of Ecological Resources Ralph G. Stahl Jr.,Lawrence A. Kapustka,Wayne R. Munns Jr.,Randall J. F. Bruins,2007-11-19 Choosing the optimal management option requires environmental risk managers and decision makers to evaluate diverse and not always congruent needs and interests of multiple stakeholders Understanding the trade offs of different options as well as their legal economic scientific and technological implications is critical to performing accurate      Environmental Health Perspectives ,1993      Improving Institutions for Green Landscapes in Metropolitan Areas Evelien van Rij,2008 Themes theories and methods have been selected as a response to the case studies      Managing Uncertainties in Networks Johannes Franciscus Maria Koppenjan,Erik-Hans Klijn,2004 Despite sophisticated technology and knowledge the strategic networks and games required to solve uncertainties becomes more complex and more important than ever before      Designer/builder ,2003      Technological Choices for Sustainability Subhas K. Sikdar,Peter Glavic,Ravi Jain,2013-03-09 This book was made possible by the exceptional support provided by NATO Scientific and Environmental Division University of Maribor Slovenia Government of the Republic of Slovenia British and the United States Embassies Ljubljana the Republic of Slovenia The authors as listed in this book took the time to prepare excellent manuscripts focusing on various issues related to technological choices for sustainability These manuscripts were rigorously reviewed and refereed by scientists and engineers before inclusion in this book An introductory chapter was prepared to provide an overview and to integrate technical issues covered in the book A summary chapter is included at the end that provides a synthesis of panel discussions related to the three main sections of the book The editors are most grateful to the contributors sponsor organizations and many colleagues who were kind enough to assist us in making this book possible We are particularly grateful to Damjan Krajnc of the University of Maribor for compiling all the manuscripts in the correct format creating the index and assuring that all the contents are faithfully presented in this volume Background information about the editors and principal authors and contributors to this book follows
