Wittgenstein on Freud and Frazer Frank Cioffi, 1998-07-13 What is it that troubles and preoccupies us about the anxieties and anguishes of social and private life Have advances in the disciplines of psychoanalysis psychology or the social sciences in general ministered to our needs in these areas In this forcefully argued collection of essays Frank Cioffi examines Wittgenstein's reflections on the comparative claims of clarification and empirical enquiry Though writing out of admiration and indebtedness he expresses reservations as to the limits Wittgenstein places on the relevance and desirability of empirical knowledge His discussions extend from Wittgenstein's reflections on human sacrifice and other ritual practices dealt with by Frazer to Freud's account of the sources of anxiety depression dreams and laughter He asks both whether it is empirical investigation or more lucid reflection that these phenomena demand and what kind of question this itself is Dictionary of Doctrinal and Historical Theology John Henry Blunt, 1870 The Split Economy Nimi Wariboko, 2020-11-01 Starting with Marx and Freud scholars have attempted to identify the primary ethical challenge of capitalism. They have named injustice, inequality, repression, exploitative empires, and capitalism's psychic hold over all of us among other ills. Nimi Wariboko instead argues that the core ethical problem of capitalism lies in the split nature of the modern economy: an economy divided against itself. Production is set against finance, consumption against saving, and the future against the present. As the rich enjoy their lifestyle, their fellow citizens live in servitude. The economy mimics the structure of our human subjectivity as Saint Paul theorizes in Romans 7: the law constitutes the subject as split, traversed by negativity. The economy is split, shot through with a fundamental antagonism. This fundamental negativity at the core of the economy disturbs its stability and identity, generating its destructive drive. The Split Economy develops a robust theoretical framework at the intersection of continental philosophy, psychoanalytic theory, theology, and political economy to reveal a fundamental dynamic at the heart of capitalism.
