Teacher Evaluation. Research Brief Gary E. Marx, 2007 The No Child Left Behind emphasis on teacher quality and its relationship to student achievement has made teacher evaluation an area of increased concern for today's high school principal Numerous problems associated with the evaluation of teachers have been cited in the literature including lack of agreement on what constitutes good teaching an emphasis on accountability rather than improved performance limited feedback and low benefit to teachers as a means for improving instruction In response efforts have been made to better understand the characteristics of effective teacher evaluation systems and improve current practice A recent review of the literature on teacher evaluation Bradshaw Joyner 2002 identified criteria that can be used to develop more effective evaluation systems These criteria included things like linking evaluation to school goals gathering and using data on teacher performance establishing feedback mechanisms and including ways to meaningfully involve teachers in the process Efforts to improve the technical quality of evaluation systems over the past two decades have not produced evidence of improved teaching and increased student achievement Thus newer thinking treats teacher evaluation as an organizational problem that includes improving school climate having the principal become an instructional leader and building links between school improvement professional development teacher evaluation and student learning This paper presents guidelines for principals which are synthesized from the characteristics of effective evaluation systems identified in the literature Contains 12 online resources Principal, 2006 Evaluating Teaching James H.
