The Effective Church Board Michael J. Anthony, 2000-10-11 Are you a recently elected church board member who hasn't received training for your new position Are you a current board member disillusioned by negative experiences and interpersonal conflicts Education specialist Michael Anthony asked a cross section of almost a hundred pastors and church officers in addition to staff members and denominational officials to give their input about what is happening in church boards across America The results of the survey were compiled into a comprehensive handbook that addresses topics such as Developing a vision statement Writing job descriptions Setting long and short range goals Facing financial storms Resolving interpersonal conflicts Reviving a declining church This unique multi denominational training resource emphasizes developing a team structure It can be used for individual instruction group discussions and orientation sessions The case studies clearly identify situations and leadership experiences common to many church boards The Art of Kubernesis (1 Corinthians 12:28) Larry J. Perkins, 2019-03-04 Those who chair church boards deserve our prayers and respect Often with little preparation or experience they step up to lead the primary spiritual leadership team within a local congregation When they need help they have to search long and hard to find resources that respond to their specific questions and concerns The Art of Kubernesis 1 Corinthians 12 28 Leading as the Church Board Chairperson fills this gap It takes the best ideas about chairing nonprofit boards being discussed today and carefully evaluates them Those ideas that are compatible with biblical values and the unique nature of a church congregation contribute to this map for church board chairpersons Although its primary frame of reference is congregational polity the principles discussed can help anyone who chairs a faith based nonprofit board How to Be an Effective Church Leader Sam E. Stone, 2001 In this book Sam Stone lays the foundation for effective leadership by combining principles taken straight from Scripture with practical advice from life experience He reminds us that churches can only do their best work when excellent leadership is present If you are considering a church leadership position or even if you are a veteran leader Sam Stone's timeless advice will provide you with insight and encouragement Book jacket Who Are You On The Church Board? Breaking Status And Learning How To Serve Elias Do Amaral Viana, 2024-04-15 Who Are You on the Church Board Breaking Status and Learning How to Serve Dear Every time I serve I lead Simone Faria I am Simone Faria graduated in Literature postgraduate five times in different spheres as well as a master in Educational Sciences Teacher Secretary of Education Councilor and Businesswoman Currently Businesswoman and Administrator at First Baptist Church in Farol de S o Thom I recommend this beautiful book Who are you on the Church Board The content of this is profound and brings a demystification of status and comfort about the title reinforcing what we find in Mark 10 45 For the Son of Man himself did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom of many As a businesswoman and church administrator I know firsthand the challenges and opportunities that come with leading and serving in a religious context About the book Who Are You on the Church Board is a work that resonates deeply with me for its practical and relevant approach to leadership and service in the church. Written by Elias do Amaral Viana, the book offers valuable insights into how we can break down barriers and learn to serve with excellence and humility. During the dynamic in which all board members had tape over their mouths and were taken to all church offices, the question "Who are you on the Board" echoed in their minds. This experience provided a unique opportunity for reflection and introspection about their roles and responsibilities as leaders of the faith community. As they walked the halls of the church, observing different areas of the congregation, insights began to emerge. Some board members felt a sense of discomfort when they realized they were physically unable to speak, highlighting the importance of open communication and the ability to express ideas and concerns. Others were confronted with the reality of how their actions and decisions directly impacted the church's various activities and ministries. They saw firsthand the importance of harmonious teamwork and collaboration between different departments to the overall success of the faith community. For some, the experience served as a powerful reminder that leadership is not just about authority or position but also about serving and supporting those in your care. They recognized the need for humility, compassion, and empathy in leading the church. At the end of the dynamic, each board member was challenged to reflect on their answer to the question "Who are you on the Board" and to consider how they could improve and strengthen their leadership role in the faith community. This shared experience helped unite the board in a common purpose and reinforce the commitment to serve God and the church in a meaningful and effective way. During the dynamics involving all members of the board, the church transformed into a mirror that reflected not only the physical structure but also the internal dynamics and relationships that constituted it. As each leader walked through the offices with tape symbolizing the restriction of verbal communication, a series of perceptions and reflections began to emerge, illuminating fundamental aspects of each person's role and responsibility in leading the church. The enforced silence brought to the surface a powerful awareness of the importance of effective communication and the ability to express ideas and concerns clearly and openly. It was evident that without the ability to communicate freely, leaders faced significant challenges in conveying visions, solving problems, and making collaborative decisions. The journey through the church provided a privileged view of the different areas and ministries that make up the life of the congregation. Leaders were able to witness firsthand how their actions and decisions reverberated throughout every corner of the faith community, impacting everything from the worship department to the Bible study group. For many, the experience was a call to responsibility and humility. They realized that leadership is not just about authority or position but also about serving and supporting those in your care. They recognized the importance of putting themselves in others' shoes, demonstrating empathy and understanding in their interactions with church members. At the end of the dynamic, while the tape was removed and verbal communication was restored, the leaders came together to share their insights and learnings. It was an opportunity to reflect on the meaning of their role on the board and consider how they could improve and strengthen their leadership in the faith community.

Businesswoman and Church Administrator Simone Faria Leading Leaders Aubrey Malphurs, 2005-04-01 The key to effective leadership in the vast majority of today's churches lies as much with their governing boards as it does with their pastor But many churches are led by those who volunteer to chair committees because there is a need yet they have no leadership training to speak of How can well meaning but sometimes ill prepared lay people guide the path of a church body The secret lies in offering effective practical training Leadership expert Aubrey Malphurs provides this in Leading Leaders Filling a gaping hole in leadership literature Malphurs offers workable strategies to train laypeople to successfully lead their churches Annual Report of the Board of Church Extension Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Board of Church Extension, 1913 The Church School Journal, 1896 Cultures and Callings Suelyn Swiggum, Saint Mary's University of Minnesota. Philanthropy and Development Program, 2012 Within the larger framework of nonprofit board governance this literature review explores how context might matter as it relates to congregation governing boards in mainline Protestant churches Are there ways that church boards behave differently from other nonprofit boards The introductory chapters documents theoretical and practical applications for this research Some urgency is placed on the need for governance reform as one method to counteract a downward trend in church attendance As leaders seek to revitalize and refocus their ministries they may need to restructure the process they use to make decisions Old patterns borrowed from the corporate business model may no longer fit or have meaning The literature review presents findings in three sections 1 how a congregation's theological context informs its interpretation of institutional purpose and ownership 2 three different models for how church boards might structure decision making 3 board development composition core competencies relationships education and performance Conclusions appear to affirm that contextual understanding is essential for congregational boards to govern effectively Such theological understanding can help a church board to foster a culture of inquiry and interpretation where decisions are considered in light of the church's vocation and where the group's behavior upholds the culture and convictions of its faith community. By following these practices, church trustees may be better prepared to care for the future of their congregation in rapidly changing and economically uncertain times.

Thirty Days to Better Board Members and Meetings Jerry W. Storz, 2022-12-12. Author Jerry W. Storz's experiences with board service and all things board governance goes back to his childhood watching his parents deal with the joys and struggles of service as church board members for a small church. Eventually, he made a career out of working with faith-based organizations where he found that some board members knew their roles and responsibilities while others clearly did not understand. As a response to his observations, Storz presents Thirty Days to Better Board Members and Meetings intended for use as a devotional and discussion guide. He has studied faith-based board members' behavior and now offers both nuggets of truth from scripture and board governance tips that he has gathered over these last few years. What's more, he aims to bring the two together, allowing board members to learn and apply board principles and best practices so that they begin to see the true purpose of their board member service. Uplifting and practical, this devotional serves as a guide to board members of faith-based organizations to help them improve their leadership and service.
