A Social Archaeology of Roman and Late Antique Egypt Ellen Swift, Jo Stoner, April Pudsey, 2022 Artefact evidence has the unique power to illuminate many aspects of life that are rarely explored in written sources This book presents the first in depth study that uses everyday artefacts as its principal source of evidence to transform our understanding of the society and culture of Roman and Late Antique Egypt

Egyptianization and Elite Emulation in Ramesside Palestine C.R. Higginbotham, 2022-02-28 A strong Egyptian presence and governance of 13th and 12th centuries B C Palestine has since long become clear from both textual and archaeological evidence How this Egyptianization came about in Ramesside Palestine forms the focus of the present study Carolyn Higginbotham convincingly attends to internal factors affecting the region's cultural and political development Two models are carefully considered The prevailing theory that Egyptian policy shifted from economic and political domination to military occupation is contrasted with a new convincing model elite emulation derived from modern core periphery studies The author's conclusion is that Egyptian policy remained largely unchanged and that the increased Egyptianization of the material culture represents voluntary adoption of the overpowering Egyptian culture by the Palestinian ruling class The appendices are especially important for scholars interested in ancient international connections in Palestine they catalogue all Egyptian and Egyptian style material from LB IIB Iron 1A Palestine

The Cultural Lives of

Domestic Objects in Late Antiquity Jo Stoner, 2019-03-19 In this study Jo Stoner investigates the role of domestic material culture in Late Antiquity Using archaeological visual and textual evidence from across the Roman Empire the personal meanings of late antique possessions are revealed through reference to theoretical approaches including object biography Heirlooms souvenirs and gift objects are discussed in terms of sentimental value before the book culminates in a case study reassessing baskets as an artefact type This volume succeeds in demonstrating personal scales of value for artefacts moving away from the focus on economic and social status that dominate studies in this field It thus represents a new interpretation of domestic material culture from Late Antiquity revealing how objects transformed houses into homes during this period

Egyptian Art at Eton College Stephen Spurr, Nicholas Reeves, Stephen Quirke, 1999 This beautiful book presents a selection of the finest and most historically important works in the Myers Museum at Eton College which possesses one of the world's finest collections of ancient Egyptian decorative arts The core of the collection was brought together by Major W J Myers an old Etonian who was posted to Cairo in the 1880s Myers's hope was that the works would be an inspiration for future generations of Eton students with the publication of this book the objects will have an impact on a much wider audience The volume which discusses more than one hundred works of art all reproduced in full color will be not only a useful reference but a source of pleasure for students and professionals alike Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved

The Myth of Ancient Egypt Charlotte Booth, 2011-06-15 Unravelling the myths of ancient Egypt British Representations of the Middle East in the Exhibition Space, 1850-1932 Holly O'Farrell, 2023-11-10 This volume analyses British exhibitions of Middle Eastern particularly ancient Egyptian and Persian artefacts during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries examining how these exhibitions defined British self image in response to the Middle Eastern other This study is an original interpretation of the exhibition space along intersectional constructionist lines revealing how forces such as gender race morality and space come together to provide an argument for British supremacy The position of museums as instruments of representation of display made them important points of contact between the British national imperialist scheme and the public Displays in the British Museum Victoria and Albert Museum and Burlington House provide a focus for analysis Through the employment of a constructionist lens the research outlines a complex relationship between British society and the Middle Eastern artefacts presented in museums during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries This allows a dialogue to emerge which has consequences for both societies which is achieved through intersections of gender race and morality in space This book will be of value to students and scholars alike interested in museology cultural studies history and art history Servant of Mut Sue D'Auria, 2008 Richard A Fazzini has inspired and mentored many scholars of Egyptology through his tireless efforts as curator and then chairman of the Brooklyn Museum's Department of Egyptian Classical and Ancient Middle Eastern Art ECAMEA field archaeologist of the Precinct of Mut at Karnak scholar and teacher The 35 contributions to this volume in his honor represent the variety of Professor Fazzini's own research interests namely in ancient Egyptian art religious iconography and archaeology particularly of the New Kingdom Third Intermediate Period and Late Period Reflections on Professor Fazzini's scholarship and teaching are accompanied by an extensive bibliography of his works

Museum Object Lessons for the Digital Age Haidy Geismar, 2018-05-14 Museum Object Lessons for the Digital Age explores the nature of digital objects in museums asking us to question our assumptions about the material social and political foundations of digital practices Through four wide ranging chapters each focused on a single object a box pen effigy and cloak this short accessible book explores the legacies of earlier museum practices of collection older forms of media from dioramas to photography and theories of how knowledge is produced in museums on a wide range of digital projects Swooping from Ethnographic to Decorative Arts Collections from the Google Art Project to bespoke digital experiments Haidy Geismar explores the object lessons contained in digital form and asks what they can tell us about both the past and the future Drawing on the author's extensive experience working with collections across the world Geismar argues for an understanding of digital media as material rather than immaterial and advocates for a more nuanced ethnographic and historicised view of museum digitisation projects than those usually adopted in the celebratory accounts of new media in museums By locating the digital as part of a longer history of material engagements transformations and processes of translation this book broadens our understanding of the reality effects that digital technologies create and of how digital media can be mobilised in different parts of the world to very different effects
