Norwood, 2024-05-31 Explores the surprisingly rich early history of US China trade and its unexpected impact on the developing republic The economic and geographic development of the early United States is usually thought of in trans Atlantic terms defined by entanglements with Europe and Africa In Trading Freedom Dael A Norwood recasts these common conceptions by looking to Asia making clear that from its earliest days the United States has been closely intertwined with China monetarily politically and psychologically Norwood details US trade with China from the late eighteenth through the late nineteenth centuries a critical period in America's self definition as a capitalist nation and shows how global commerce was central to the articulation of that national identity Trading Freedom illuminates how debates over political economy and trade policy the building of the transcontinental railroad and the looming sectional struggle over slavery were all influenced by Sino American relations Deftly weaving together interdisciplinary threads from the worlds of commerce foreign policy and immigration Trading Freedom thoroughly dismantles the idea that American engagement with China is anything new
