Emilio Indio Fernandez:

El Indio: The True Story of of Emilio Fernandez M. I. Quandour, 2018-02-09 Emilio was a larger than life character who embodied all the virtues and talents of a real creative artist He had won the Palm D Or in Cannes for his film Maria Candelaria immediately after the war and had been a huge celebrity long before I met him I was privileged to have known him closely as a real friend and mentor and to have heard his amazing story first hand I had the managerial habit instilled in me in New York to make notes so every night I wrote the stories of Emilio relentlessly on bits and pieces of paper I thought of myself as a budding author with one published novel under my belt and I thought that I might one day need these notes as references for an article or a novel

Emilio Fernández Dolores Tierney, 2019-01-04 Emilio Fern ndez Pictures in the Margins is the first book length English language account of Emilio Fern ndez 1904 1986 the most successful director of classical Mexican Cinema famed with creating films that embody a loosely defined Mexican school of filmmaking However rather than offer an auteurist study this book interrogates the construction of Fern ndez as both a national and nationalist auteur including racial and gender aspects e g as macho mexicano and indio It also challenges auteurist readings of the films themselves in order to make new arguments about the significance of Fern ndez and his work The aim of this book is to question Mexico s fetishisation of its own position on the peripheries of the global cultural economy and the similar fetishisation of Fern ndez s marginalisation as a mixed race part white and part indigenous director This book argues that as pictures in the margins classical Mexican cinema and specifically Fern ndez s films are not transparent reflections of dominant post Revolutionary Mexican culture but annotations and re inscriptions of the particularities of Mexican society in the post Revolutionary era

Imagining Post-Revolutionary Mexico ,2008 Encyclopedia of Modern Mexico David W. Dent, 2002-06-11 From the Acteal Massacre to Ernesto Zedillo Ponce de Le n this exciting reference created for a high school audience explores the rich culture the depth of achievement and the creative energy of Mexico and its people

The Classical Mexican Cinema Charles Ramírez Berg, 2015-09-01 From the mid 1930s to the late 1950s Mexican cinema became the most successful Latin American cinema and the leading Spanish language film industry in the world Many Cine de Oro Golden Age cinema films adhered to the dominant Hollywood model but a small yet formidable filmmaking faction rejected Hollywood s paradigm outright Directors Fernando de Fuentes Emilio Fern ndez Luis Bu uel Juan Bustillo Oro Adolfo Best Maugard and Julio Bracho sought to create a unique national cinema that through the stories it told and the ways it told them was wholly Mexican The Classical Mexican Cinema traces the emergence and evolution of this Mexican cinematic aesthetic a distinctive film form designed to express lo mexicano Charles Ram rez Berg begins by locating the classical style s pre cinematic roots in the work of popular Mexican artist Jos Guadalupe Posada at the turn of the twentieth century He also looks at the dawning of Mexican classicism in the poetics of Enrique Rosas El Autom vil Gris the crowning achievement of Mexico s silent filmmaking era and the film that set the stage for the Golden Age films Berg then analyzes mature examples of classical Mexican filmmaking by the predominant Golden Age auteurs of three successive decades Drawing on neoformalism and neoauteurism within a cultural studies framework he brilliantly reveals how the poetics of Classical Mexican Cinema deviated from the formal norms of the Golden Age to express a uniquely Mexican sensibility thematically stylistically and ideologically

The Indigenismo of Emilio "El Indio" Fernandez Matthew J. K. Hill, 2009 As one of the major directors of Mexico s Golden Age of Cinema 1936 1956 Emilio El Indio Fernandez 1904 1986 created films which for many came to express the official vision of Mexican identity Part of this identity was based on the ideology of indigenismo which posited that the pre Columbian past held the basic kernel of Mexico s national essence while advocating the incorporation of modern Indian groups into mainstream society El Indio s films reflect the paradox of indigenismo praise for indigenous cultures and a simultaneous effort to make them disappear The following study examines three of his indigenista films Mar a Candelaria, Ro Escondido and Maclovio to see how Fernández created representations of Mexico's indigenous populations that contributed to and deviated from indigenista policies in post Revolutionary Mexico This representation relies on the formation of a national myth based on a static aestheticized Indian which incorporates all Mexicans into official state history

Bunuel and Mexico Ernesto R. Acevedo-Muñoz, 2025-03-18 Though Luis Buñuel one of the most important filmmakers of the twentieth century spent his most productive years as a director in Mexico film histories and criticism invariably pay little attention to his work during this period The only book length English language study of Buñuel's Mexican films this book is the first to explore a significant but neglected area of this filmmaker's distinguished career and thus to fill a gap in our appreciation and understanding of both Buñuel's achievement and the history of Mexican film Ernesto Acevedo Muñoz considers Buñuel's Mexican films made between 1947 and 1965 within the context of a national and nationalist film industry comparing the filmmaker's employment of styles genres character types themes and techniques to those most characteristic of Mexican cinema In this study Buñuel's films emerge as a link between the Classical Mexican cinema of the 1930s through the 1950s and the new Cinema of the 1960s flourishing in a time of crisis for the national film industry and introducing some of the stylistic and conceptual changes that would revitalize Mexican cinema

The White Indians of Mexican Cinema Mónica García Blizzard, 2022-04-01 The White Indians of Mexican Cinema theorizes the development of a unique form of racial masquerade the representation of Whiteness as Indigeneity during the Golden Age of Mexican cinema from the 1930s to the 1950s Adopting a broad decolonial perspective while remaining grounded in the history of local racial categories Mónica García Blizzard argues that this trope works to reconcile two divergent discourses about race in postrevolutionary Mexico the government sponsored celebration of Indigeneity and mestizaje or the process of interracial and intercultural mixing on the one hand and the idealization of Whiteness on the other Close readings of twenty films and primary source material illustrate how Mexican cinema has mediated race especially in relation to gender in ways that project national specificity but also reproduce racist tendencies with respect to beauty desire and protagonism that survive to this day This sweeping survey illuminates how Golden Age films produced diverse even contradictory messages about the place of Indigeneity in the national culture This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to TOME Toward an Open Monograph Ecosystem a collaboration of the Association of American Universities the Association of University Presses and the Association of Research Libraries and the generous support of Emory University and the Andrew W Mellon Foundation Learn more at the TOME website available at <https://www.openmonographs.org> It can also be found in the SUNY Open Access Repository at <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12648/7153>

Celluloid Nationalism and Other Melodramas Susan Dever, 2012-02-01 Celluloid Nationalism and Other Melodramas looks at representation and rebellion in times of national uncertainty Moving from mid century Mexican cinema to recent films staged in Los Angeles and Mexico City Susan Dever analyzes melodrama's double function as a genre and as a sensibility revealing coincidences between movie morals and political pieties in the civic minded films of Emilio Fern ndez Matilde Landeta Allison Anders and Marcela Fern ndez Violante These filmmakers rationally and emotionally engaged cinema offering representations of indigenous peoples and poor urban women who alternately endorsed civilizing projects and voiced resistance to such totalization both interrupts and sustains fictions of national coherence in an increasingly transnational world
