Coping C. R. Snyder, 1999-03-25 Most people take the process of coping for granted as they go about their daily activities In many ways coping is like breathing an automatic process requiring no apparent effort However when people face truly threatening events what psychologists call stressors they become acutely aware of the coping process and respond by consciously applying their day to day coping skills Coping is a fundamental psychological process and people's skills are commensurately sophisticated This volume builds on people's strengths and emphasizes their role as positive copers. It features techniques for preventing psychological problems and breaks from the traditional research approach which is modeled on medicine and focuses on pathology and treatment. Collecting both award winning research and new findings, this book may well set the agenda for research on stress and coping for the next century. These provocative and readable essays explore a variety of topics including reality negotiation, confessing through writing, emotional intelligence, optimism, hope, mastery, oriented thinking, and more. Unlike typical self help books available at any newsstand, this volume features the work of some of the most eminent researchers in the field. Yet like those books, it is written for the general reader as well as for the specialist and includes numerous practical suggestions and techniques. It will prove an invaluable tool for a wide range of readers. Emotions in Cultural Context Girishwar Misra, Indiar Misra, 2024-05-16. This book approaches emotion from a cultural perspective in applied contexts, consolidating new research that examines the interface of emotions with various aspects of human life. It provides insights into the vibrant and growing field of emotion research by rearticulating the distinction and interrelationships of the trilogy of mind consisting of cognition, affection, and conation. It brings into focus indigenous and culturally relevant conceptualizations of emotion processes. Among the topics covered: Emotions at work, applications of emotional intelligence, Indian perspectives on youth, compassion, and moral well being, Parental emotion regulation strategies, Role of emotions in construction of social identities. Emotions in Cultural Context offers an up to date exploration of recent work in psychology of emotions. Achieving Sustainable Business through AI, Technology Education and Computer Science Allam Hamdan, 2024-11-08. This book aims to explore the intersection of AI technology, education, and computer science with sustainable business practices. It delves into the application of cutting edge technologies such as artificial intelligence, machine learning, and blockchain in various business domains including healthcare, education, government services, and digital transformation. Growth and Development in Adulthood among Persons with Intellectual Disability Hefziba Lifshitz, 2020-03-23. This volume advocates an optimistic, new conceptual and practical approach to adulthood, aging, and education for individuals with intellectual disability (ID) across the lifespan. The compensation age theory (CAT) at the heart of this book suggests that the adulthood period in populations with ID may be characterized by processes of cognitive development, growth, and neural sprouting, rather than stagnation or even decline. Empirical findings indicate the contribution of chronological age, maturity, and accumulating life experiences to adults' continued cognitive growth and intelligence as a result of direct mediation, cognitive intervention, and academic learning, as well as exposure to indirect learning. Grounded in cumulative evidence for the CAT, the book presents a comprehensive analysis of a practical, holistic educational intervention model for enhancing adults' Cognition, literacy, Affect, including autonomy, and Behavior, adaptive behavior skills, including operative strategies, mediational parameters, and guidance for change agents in diverse settings. This triple CAB model offers detailed tools for promoting the cognitive improvement and invigoration of adults with ID during ADL, vocational, and leisure activities at all severity levels, ranging from mild and moderate to severe and profound across different ID etiologies including Down syndrome and even at advanced ages for adults with ID exhibiting comorbid Alzheimer's
