Hoboes Mark Wyman,2025-09-23 When the railroad stretched its steel rails across the American West in the 1870s it opened up a vast expanse of territory with very few people but enormous agricultural potential a second Western frontier the garden West Agriculture quickly followed the railroads making way for Kansas wheat and Colorado sugar beets and Washington apples With this new agriculture came an unavoidable need for harvest workers for hands to pick the apples cotton oranges and hops to pull and top the sugar beets to fill the trays with raisin grapes and apricots to stack the wheat bundles in shocks to be pitched into the maw of the threshing machine These were not the year round hired hands but transients who would show up to harvest the crop and then leave when the work was finished Variouslly called bindlestiffs fruit tramps hoboes and bums these men and women and children were vital to the creation of the West and its economy Amazingly it is an aspect of Western history that has never been told In Hoboes Bindlestiffs Fruit Tramps and the Harvesting of the West the award winning historian Mark Wyman beautifully captures the lives of these workers Exhaustively researched and highly original this narrative history is a detailed deeply sympathetic portrait of the lives of these hoboes as well as a fresh look at the settling and development of the American West Lewis Dryden's marine history of the Pacific Northwest E.W. Wright,1966 An illustrated review of the growth and development of the maritime industry from the advent of the earliest navigators to the present time with sketches and portraits of a number of well known marine men Power and the Pacific Northwest Vera Springer,1976 History of the Pacific Northwest ,1889 Glamour in the Pacific Fiona Paisley,2009-07-08 Since its inception in 1928 the Pan Pacific Women s Association PPWA has witnessed and contributed to enormous changes in world and Pacific history Operating out of Honolulu this women s network established a series of conferences that promoted social reform and an internationalist outlook through cultural exchange For the many women attracted to the project from China Japan the Pacific Islands and the major settler colonies of the region the association s vision was enormously attractive despite the fact that as individuals and national representatives they remained deeply divided by colonial histories Glamour in the Pacific tells this multifaceted story by bringing together critical scholarship from across a wide range of fields including cultural history international relations and globalization gender and empire postcolonial studies population and world health studies world history and transnational history Early chapters consider the first PPWA conferences and the decolonizing process undergone by the association Following World War II a new generation of nonwhite women from decolonized and settler colonial nations began to claim leadership roles in the Association challenging the often Eurocentric assumptions of women s internationalism In 1955 the first African American delegate brought to the fore questions about the relationship of U S race relations with the Pan Pacific cultural internationalist project The effects of cold war geopolitics on the ideal of international cooperation in the era of decolonization were also considered The work concludes with a discussion of the revival of East meets West as a basis for world cooperation endorsed by the United Nations in 1958 and the overall contributions of the PPWA to world culture politics The internationalist vision of the early twentieth century imagined a world in which race and empire had been relegated to the past Significant numbers of women from around the Pacific brought this shared vision together with their concerns for peace social progress and cooperation to the lively even glamorous political experiment of the Pan Pacific Women s Association Fiona Paisley tells the stories of this extraordinary group of women and illuminates the challenges and rewards of their politics of antiracism one that still resonates today For Honor Or Destiny Donald Allen Rakestraw,1995 Fifty Four

Forty or Fight cried western politicians and American settlers in the 1840s as they gazed anxiously from south of the Columbia river while waiting for the diplomats in Washington and London to determine the fate of the Oregon Territory The dispute over the Pacific northwest with its natural harbors and its approach to Pacific commerce had stubbornly traversed five decades every attempt at resolution was foiled When the conflict was set aside by an exhausted Lord Ashburton in 1842 the stage was set for an Anglo American diplomatic crisis that allowed the intangibles of British national honor and American manifest destiny to breach a fragile rapprochement and provoke talk of war Fortunately the realization of mutual interests and astute eleventh hour diplomacy intervened to produce the Oregon Treaty of 1846 History on the Run Ma Vang,2020-12-21 During its secret war in Laos 1961 1975 the United States recruited proxy soldiers among the Hmong people Following the war many of these Hmong soldiers migrated to the United States with refugee status In History on the Run Ma Vang examines the experiences of Hmong refugees in the United States to theorize refugee histories and secrecy in particular those of the Hmong Vang conceptualizes these histories as fugitive histories as they move and are carried by people who move Charting the incomplete archives of the war made secret through redacted US state documents ethnography film and literature Vang shows how Hmong refugees tell their stories in ways that exist separately from narratives of U S empire and that cannot be traditionally archived In so doing Vang outlines a methodology for writing histories that foreground refugee epistemologies despite systematic attempts to silence those histories Lewis & Dryden's Marine History of the Pacific Northwest E. W. Wright,1895 The New Navy, 1883-1922 Paul Silverstone,2013-05-13 The third volume of The U S Navy Warship Series covers the fifty year period from 1883 1922 In 1883 Congress authorized the first ships of the New Navy and ordered removal of all obsolete ships All US Navy ships since that time have stemmed from these first three cruisers The numbering system in effect since 1920 was effectively begun in 1886 The ships built during the next few years fought in the Spanish American War The success and popularity of the naval victories of that war together with the acquisition of overseas territories were the impetus for a large naval shipbuilding program The voyage around the world of the Great White Fleet was a prime example of the excitement felt by the American people about the Navy This led naturally into the fleet of World War I and its vast expansion terminating with its demobilization after the war and the succeeding naval disarmament treaty of 1922 This book will be arranged following the standard format with sections on Capital Ships Cruisers Destroyers Submarines Mines Vessels Patrol Vessels Tenders Supply Transport Ships Naval Overseas Transportation Service NOTS and other government departments Coast Guard etc A further article about Paul Silverstone and the Navy Warships series can be found at <http://www.thejc.com/home.aspx?ParentId=m11s18s180&SecId=180&AId=58892&ATypeId=1>

British Imperial Strategies in the Pacific, 1750-1900 Jane Samson, 2021-02-28 The focus of this volume is Britain's trans Pacific empire This began with haphazard challenges to Spanish dominion but by the end of the 18th century the British had established a colony in Australia and had gone to the brink of war with Spain to establish trading rights in the north Pacific These rights led to formal colonies in Vancouver Island and British Columbia when Britain sought to maintain a north Pacific presence despite American expansionism In the later 19th century the international scramble for the Pacific resulted in new British colonies and protectorates in the Pacific islands The result was a complex imperial presence created from a variety of motives and circumstances The essays selected here take account of the wide range of economic political and cultural factors which prompted British expansion creating tension in Britain's imperial identity in the Pacific and leaving Pacific peoples with a complicated and challenging legacy Along with the important new introduction they provide a basis for the reassessment of British imperialism in the Pacific region
