Connectionist Approaches in Economics and Management Sciences Cédric Lesage, Marie Cottrell, 2013-03-09 Since the beginning of the 1980 s a lot of new approaches of biomimetic inspiration have been defined and developed for imitating the brain behavior for modeling non linear phenomenon for providing new hardware architectures for solving hard problems They are named Neural Networks Multilayer Perceptrons Genetic algorithms Cellular Automates Self Organizing maps Fuzzy Logic etc They can be summarized by the word of Connectionism and consist of an interdisciplinary domain between neuroscience cognitive science and engineering First they were applied in computer sciences engineering biological models pattern recognition motor control learning algorithms etc But rapidly it appeared that these methods could be of great interest in the fields of Economics and Management Sciences The main difficulty was the distance between researchers the difference in the vocabulary used by the ones and the others their basic background The main notions used by these new techniques were not familiar to the Social and Human Sciences researchers What are they Four of them are now very briefly introduced but the reader will find more information in the following chapters

Journeys in Sociology Rosalyn Benajmin Darling, Peter J. Stein, 2017-05 For most sociologists their life s work does not end with retirement Many professors and practitioners continue to teach publish or explore related activities after leaving academia They also connect with others in the field to lessen the isolation they sometimes feel outside the ivory tower or an applied work setting The editors and twenty contributors to the essential anthology Journeys in Sociology use a life course perspective to address the role of sociology in their lives The power of their personal experiences during the Great Depression World War II or the student protests and social movements in the 1960s and 70s magnify how and why social change prompted these men and women to study sociology Moreover all of the contributors include a discussion of their activities in retirement From Bob Perrucci Tuck Green and Wendell Bell who write about issues of class to Debra Kaufman and Elinore Lurie who explain how gender played a role in their careers the diverse entries in Journeys in Sociology provide a fascinating look at both the influence of their lives on the discipline and the discipline on these sociologists lives Contributors include David J Armor Wendell Bell Glen H Elder Jr Henry W Fischer Janet Zollinger Giele Charles S Tuck Green Peter in Education ,1980 An Introduction to Multilevel Modeling Techniques Ronald H. Heck, Scott L. Thomas, 1999-11

Multilevel modelling is a data analysis method that is frequently used to investigate hierarchical data structures in educational behavioural health and social sciences disciplines Multilevel data analysis exploits data structures that cannot be adequately investigated using single level analytic methods such as multiple regression path analysis and structural modelling This text offers a comprehensive treatment of multilevel models for univariate and multivariate outcomes It explores their similarities and differences and demonstrates why one model may be more appropriate than another given the research objectives

Provided by Publisher Research in Education ,1974 Systems Thinking, Critical Realism and Philosophy John Mingers, 2014-04-24 Systems Thinking Critical Realism and Philosophy A Confluence of Ideas seeks to re address the whole question of philosophy and systems thinking for the twenty first century and provide a new work that would be of value to both systems and philosophy This is a highly opportune time when different fields critical realism philosophy of science and systems thinking are all developing around the same set of concepts and yet not realizing it This book will be of interest to the academic systems community worldwide and due to its interdisciplinary coverage it will also be of relevance to a wide range of scholars in other disciplines particularly philosophy but also operational research information systems and sociology
