Agile Autonomy: Learning High-Speed Vision-Based Flight Antonio Loquercio,2023-04-24 This book presents the astonishing potential of deep sensorimotor policies for agile vision based quadrotor flight Quadrotors are among the most agile and dynamic machines ever created However developing fully autonomous quadrotors that can approach or even outperform the agility of birds or human drone pilots with only onboard sensing and computing is challenging and still unsolved Deep sensorimotor policies generally trained in simulation enable autonomous quadrotors to fly faster and more agile than what was possible before While humans and birds still have the advantage over drones the author shows the current research gaps and discusses possible future solutions      Annual Report, 1989 Lewis Research Center,1989

Tragedy and Triumph in Orbit Ben Evans,2012-06-01 April 12 2011 is the 50th anniversary of Yuri Gagarin s pioneering journey into space To commemorate this momentous achievement Springer Praxis is producing a mini series of books that reveals how humanity's knowledge of flying, working and living in space has grown in the last half century. Tragedy and Triumph focuses on the 1980s and early 1990s, a time when relations between the United States and the Soviet Union swung like a pendulum between harmony and outright hostility. The glorious achievements of the shuttle were violently arrested by the devastating loss of Challenger in 1986, while the Soviet program appeared to prosper with the last Salyut and the next generation Mir orbital station. This book explores the continued rivalry between the two superpowers during this period, with each attempting to outdo the other: the Americans keen to build a space station, the Soviets keen to build a space shuttle, and places their efforts in the context of a bitterly divisive decade which ultimately led them into partnership.

Physics and Contemporary Needs Riazuddin, 2012-12-06. These proceedings cover the lectures delivered at the Second International Summer College on Physics and Contemporary Needs held from June 20 to July 7, 1977, at Nathiagali, one of the scenic hill resorts in the northern part of Pakistan. The college was organised by the Pakistan Atomic Energy Commission (PAEC) and co-sponsored by the International Centre for Theoretical Physics (ICTP), Trieste. It also received a financial grant by the University Grants Commission for the participation of physicists from various universities of Pakistan. The college was attended by 13 lecturers, 7 invited seminar speakers, and 134 participants from 26 countries and consisted of 15 concentrated days of lectures, seminars, and informal discussions. These proceedings contain only regular lectures delivered there, but the seminars which were held are listed in the Appendix. The theme of the college covered two important aspects of science in general and physics in particular: first, to provide to the participants from developing countries some of the excitement of what is happening at the frontiers of physics; secondly, as the name of the college emphasises, it was to encourage the physicists from developing countries to interest themselves in and to use their knowledge and methodology of research for attacking some of the problems faced by their respective countries. The lectures delivered at the college covered a wide spectrum of physics and indicated similarity of methodology used in various branches of physics as well as practical applications of some of the topics discussed.

Science and Golf II Alastair J. Cochran, Martin Farrally, 2002-09-11. This book contains the papers presented at the second World Scientific Congress of Golf. The overall theme of the congress is the application of science, scientific method, and scientific research in golf. The congress is intended to provide a forum for scientists of different disciplines to meet and discuss their ideas and research, and for practising coaches to interact with scientists.

The Oxford Handbook of Social Neuroscience Jean Decety, John T. Cacioppo, 2015-04-15. The Oxford Handbook of Social Neuroscience marks the emergence of a third broad perspective in neuroscience. This perspective emphasizes the functions that emerge through the coaction and interaction of conspecifics, the neural mechanisms that underlie these functions, and the commonality and differences across social species and superorganismal structures.
