Fish Harlan Walker, 1998 The annual volume of the proceedings of the Oxford Symposium the longest running colloquy on food and food history in the western world The subject of this year s discussions was not just fish but the diet of fishermen and any foodstuff that may be culled from the waters such as seaweed Is It a House? Amanda K. Taylor, Julie K. Stein, 2012-04-01 Prehistoric houses on the Northwest Coast were built from wood often within piles of discarded shells leaving little archaeological evidence from which to confirm their presence Is It a House uses multiple lines of evidence to investigate whether the U shaped depression surrounded by shells at the English Camp site on San Juan Island was originally a house constructed by native peoples Each chapter addresses a different kind of evidence including artifacts sediment faunal remains and stratigraphy The quantitative and qualitative analyses used to examine the evidence reveal new directions and insights for identifying houses in similar contexts The editors introduce the research in the context of current and past Gulf of Georgia Coast Salish archaeology and end by synthesizing the research evidence Williams-Sonoma Collection: Fish Shirley King, 2002-06-05 From delicate fillets of sole sauced with butter and lemon to flavorful salmon paired with apple and fennel the variety of fish dishes is nearly endless Fish offers more than 40 recipes including classic fare as well as exciting new ideas for quick suppers dinner parties and hearty main courses Color photos Progressive Medicine, 1906 Ireland's First Settlers Peter Woodman, 2015-12-31 Ireland s First Settlers tells the story of the archaeology and history of the first continuous phase of Ireland's human settlement. It combines centuries of search and speculation about human antiquity in Ireland with a review of what is known today about the Irish Mesolithic. This is in part provided in the context of the author's 50 years of personal experience searching to make sense of what initially appeared to be little more than a collection of beach-rolled and battered flint tools. The story is embedded in how the island of Ireland, its position, distinct landscape and ecology impacted on when and how Ireland was colonized. It also explores how these first settlers evolved their technologies and lifeways to suit the narrow range of abundant resources that were available. The volume concludes with discussions on how the landscape should be searched for the often ephemeral traces of these early settlers and how sites should be excavated. It asks what we really know about the thoughts and life of the people themselves and what happened to them as farming began to be introduced.

Life on the Periphery John D. Speth, 2004-01-01. Dramatic economic changes transformed an isolated 13th century village of farmer-hunters in the arid grasslands of southeastern New Mexico into a community heavily engaged in long-distance bison hunting and intense exchange with the Puebloan world to the west.

Collapse Jared Diamond, 2013-03-21. From the author of Guns, Germs, and Steel, Jared Diamond's Collapse: How Societies Choose to Fail or Survive is a visionary study of the mysterious downfall of past civilizations. Now in a revised edition with a new afterword, Jared Diamond's Collapse uncovers the secret behind why some societies flourish while others founder and what this means for our future. What happened to the people who made the forlorn, long-abandoned statues of Easter Island? What happened to the architects of the crumbling Maya pyramids? Will we go the same way: our skyscrapers one day standing derelict and overgrown like the temples at Angkor Wat? Bringing together new evidence from a startling range of sources and piecing together the myriad influences from climate to culture that make societies self-destruct, Jared Diamond's Collapse also shows how unlike our ancestors we can benefit from our knowledge of the past and learn to be survivors. A grand sweep from a master storyteller of the human race, Daily Mail Riveting, superb, terrifying. Observer Gripping. The book fulfils its huge ambition and Diamond is the only man who could have written it. Economist This book shines like all Diamond's work. Sunday Times

Ancient Fishing and Fish Processing in the Black Sea Region Tonnes Bekker-Nielsen, 2005-02-01. This volume challenges the orthodox view that fishing and fish played only a marginal role in the economy of the ancient world. In fact, there is archaeological evidence for ancient fish processing on a commercial scale not only in the Mediterranean itself but also on the Atlantic coast and in the Black Sea region, especially the Crimea. Our literary sources testify to the widespread culinary and medicinal use of salted fish and fermented fish sauces in antiquity and especially in the first centuries AD. In this book, the authors assess the present state of research on ancient fishing and discuss its implications for the history of the Black Sea region, especially the period of Greek colonization along its shores. While grain has traditionally been viewed as the main export commodity of the Pontic colonies, the existence of salting vats on the coast of the Crimea indicates production of salt.

fish or fish sauce on a large scale presumably for export. However many questions remain unanswered for instance concerning ownership and organization of the processing facilities or how the finished product was transported to distant markets. Tonnes Bekker Nielsen teaches ancient history at the University of Southern Denmark Esbjerg. Fish Trade in Medieval North Atlantic Societies Val Dufeu, 2025-10-01 Val Dufeu here reconstructs settlement patterns of fishing communities in Viking Age Iceland and proposes socio economic and environmental models relevant to any study of the Vikings or the North Atlantic. She integrates written sources, geoarchaeological data and zooarchaeological data to examine how fishing propelled political change in the North Atlantic. The evolution of survival fishing to internal fish markets to overseas fish trade mirrors wider social changes in the Vikings world.

Archaeology and History of the Chinese in Southern New Zealand During the Nineteenth Century Neville A. Ritchie, 2023-11-01 This revised edition of Dr Neville A Ritchie's 1986 PhD dissertation explores the history and archaeology of the 19th century Chinese mining communities in the Clutha Valley, New Zealand. Lavishly illustrated with black and white line drawings of Chinese domestic and industrial sites and of the artefacts excavated from them, this study offers unprecedented insight into the life and material culture of these male-only sojourner communities. Widely considered the most comprehensive archaeological study of overseas Chinese miners' experience anywhere in the world, this volume contains the total summation and analysis of artefacts found in 23 Chinese sites excavated over nine years which included two camps with 40 individual huts and other features, a Chinese store and 20 rural sites including miners' huts and rock shelters. Considered by the Australian Society for Historical Archaeology to be a seminal work in the field of historical archaeology, this 2023 edition introduces Dr Ritchie's groundbreaking work to the next generation of archaeologists.
