Hudson, 2012-12-06 The recent series of texts Developments in Food Proteins comprised in all seven volumes which were published in the course of the decade 1982 1991 Each volume contained inter alia one or more chapters that were concerned with new or developing sources of food proteins Most of these have now been collected together in an up dated and re evaluated form for the present volume New sources of food proteins includes those sources that are unconventional that are still of very limited significance in market terms or that are at present of very localized use Several of these were included in Developments in Food Proteins One of them algae appeared both in Volume 1 and in an up dated form in Volume 7 It is therefore not included here Others such as yeasts and bacteria have not yet increased in practical importance as potential food components beyond the long term promise already evident at that time However leaf protein as described in the present Chapter 10 has moved from the original rather crude concept to a much more sophisticated product in the form of Rubisco Fungal protein as Quorn Chapter 11 has also proved to be potentially of real food value Developing sources of food protein are those sources that have always been basic items in human diets

Fish Drying and Smoking PeterE. Doe,2017-11-13 This book explains the current and traditional fish smoking and drying practices in terms of the basic underlying principles of biochemistry and food technology Readers will soon become aware of the discrepancies between the basic scientific knowledge and modern technology on one hand and the traditional processes described in some chapters This book bridges that gap The emphasis in this book is on the critical factors which affect the quality of products produced in less technological cultures products which have been largely neglected in technically advanced countries and on developments and innovations which have occurred in the last five years The critical factors affecting the quality of fish products in technically advanced countries have been summarized The answers to questions on the quality of smoked cured and dried fish can be found from an understanding of the physical chemical and biological factors influencing the functionality of the product at every stage of its preparation and subsequent handling from the time the fish is harvested to the time it is eaten On an Empty Stomach Tom Scott-Smith,2020-04-15 On an Empty Stomach examines the practical techniques humanitarians have used to manage and measure starvation from Victorian scientific soup kitchens to space age high protein foods Tracing the evolution of these techniques since the start of the nineteenth century Tom Scott Smith argues that humanitarianism is not a simple story of progress and improvement but rather is profoundly shaped by sociopolitical conditions Aid is often presented as an apolitical and technical project but the way humanitarians conceive and tackle human needs has always been deeply influenced by culture politics and society These influences extend down to the most detailed mechanisms for measuring malnutrition and providing sustenance As Scott Smith shows over the past century the humanitarian approach to hunger has redefined food as nutrients and hunger as a medical condition Aid has become more individualized medicalized and rationalized shaped by modernism in bureaucracy commerce and food technology On an Empty Stomach focuses on the gains and losses that result examining the complex compromises that arise between efficiency of distribution and quality of care Scott Smith concludes that humanitarian groups have developed an approach to the empty stomach that is dependent on compact commercially produced devices and is often paternalistic and culturally insensitive Advances in Fish Processing Technology D.P. Sen,2005-02-21 With reference to India The
