Fisheries Management In Crisis:

Crisis in the World's Fisheries James R. McGoodwin, 1995-02-01 For over twenty years an alarming trend has emerged in the world's fisheries there are too many fishers chasing too few fish This book provides a broad overview and fundamental reassessment of fisheries management policies around the world Modern Media and Social Change A.K. Sopory, 2008

Inshore Fisheries Management David Symes, Jeremy Phillipson, 2013-06-29 Despite their importance in terms of employment and income generation inshore fisheries have been a neglected area of study The review of the common fisheries policy especially in the light of the need to re-examine the derogation which reserves access to the inshore zone to coastal state vessels provides an opportunity to redress the balance With contributions from leading authorities on fisheries management the book takes an in-depth look at seven European countries examining the basis for the definition of inshore fisheries evaluating their status and describing the salient characteristics of their management The national studies form the basis for cross-cultural analyses of the social organisation cultural norms economic objectives and institutional structures of inshore fisheries in Europe Finally a number of key issues relating to the future of inshore fisheries management in a more integrated approach are examined Overall the volume reaffirms the invaluable role played by inshore fisheries in the local and regional economies of Europe's complex coastline Fisheries Management in Crisis (97878843902)

(KLIBF08/MWU-0201). no. author, Use of Property Rights in Fisheries Management Ross Shotton, 2000-01-01 The session was closed with papers that provided a prognosis on the future development of property rights in fisheries management Thus the conference papers addressed the theory and application of property Fisheries Management in

Crisis Kevin Crean, David Symes, 1996-07-10 The present crisis in fisheries management has resulted not only from the uncertainty surrounding biological stock assessment but also from a collapse in confidence in the centralised regulatory systems The established role of the biological sciences in formulating fisheries policies and strategies for challenged and alternative systems are now firmly on the scientific and political agenda This new work assembles expert contributions from Europe's leading social scientists sociologists social anthropologists political scientists and geographers who have been actively involved in fisheries management research Together they provide a contemporary and critical analysis of existing strategies whilst examining opportunities for alternative systems based on principles of subsidiarity regionalisation and co-management Reinventing Fisheries Management T.J. Pitcher, P. Hart, D. Pauly, 2012-12-06 Judged by a dismaying track record and a consequent downturn in the reputation of fisheries scientists fisheries management is certainly a candidate for calls for reinvention with many of the world leaders in this area holding the view that no fishery has ever been properly understood or managed With fisheries science in a state of flux this extremely important book seeks a new paradigm that will place this flux of ideas in perspective and help us to choose those that will make fisheries management work The book was planned at a symposium of over 100 fishery researchers at the Fisheries Centre University of British Columbia

Vancouver Canada and is organized into five parts Why does Fisheries Science Need Reinventing New Policies The Role of the Social Sciences Ecology Modelling Carefully integrated and edited by three of the world's leading fishery scientists this stimulating book should find a place on the shelves of all fishery scientists throughout the world It will be an invaluable reference source to those studying fish biology fisheries and oceanography and all those involved in fisheries policy decisions in government and university research establishments

Russian Fisheries Management Geir Hønneland, 2004-02-01 This book is the first comprehensive introduction to Russian fisheries management in the Western literature It sets out the basic principles and organisational structure underlying Russian fisheries management and describes associated processes and practices such as quota allocation technical regulation and enforcement of fishery legislation The book focuses attention on fisheries management at the federal level and in Russia's northern fishery basin which is the largest fishery region in European Russia Problems such as institutional conflict alleged corruption and incomplete legislation on fisheries are discussed as are the assets of scientific and technical expertise found in the country's Soviet legacy Throughout the book the performance of the Russian system for fisheries management is evaluated in relation to the requirements of a precautionary approach to fisheries as set out in contemporary international law

The Worldwide Crisis in Fisheries Colin W. Clark, 2006 New management programs are suggested to improve the state of the world's fisheries

Making Fisheries Management Work Stig S. Gezelius, Jesper Raakjær, 2008-07-15 The state of the Northeast Atlantic fisheries in recent years has highlighted implementation as the Achilles heel of modern fisheries management discards and unreported or misreported landings are in many cases recognised to effectively subvert sound conservation goals Social science literature on fisheries management has tended to regard the implementation of resource conservation policies mainly as a question of effective enforcement This literature regards surveillance and penalty as the key mechanism through which fishermen keep to catch restrictions and loyally report their catches This book emerged because several years of research on fishermen's compliance had made us uneasy about this rather narrow approach to the problem of implementation This uneasiness motivated us to widen the approach to the question of implementing conservation policies in the fisheries Taking Norway as an example its fishing fleet consists of some 7 000 vessels spread along a coastline of more than 20 000 km populated by less than 5 million people The idea of ensuring desirable behaviour through surveillance and enforcement alone is almost absurd in such a context as the task is impossible by any reasonable means The Norwegian implementation system has thus had to rely heavily on the incentives provided by the rules and legitimacy created through a century of state industry collaboration Different coastal states face very different conditions in terms of solving typical implementation problems such as discards and misreporting

The Fisheries Co-management Experience Douglas Clyde Wilson, Jesper Raakjaer Nielsen, Poul Degnbol, 2013-03-09 For two decades the idea of governments and fishers working together to manage fisheries has been advocated questioned disparaged and most importantly attempted in fisheries from North and South America through Europe Africa Asia and

Oceania This book is the first time these experiences have been pulled together in a single volume summarized and explained The Fisheries Co management Experience begins with a review of the intellectual foundations of the co management idea from several professional perspectives Next fisheries researchers from six global regions describe what has been happening on the ground in their area Finally the volume offers a set of reflections by some of the best authors in the field The end result describes both the state of the art and emerging issues for one of the most important trends in natural resources management

China and International Fisheries Law and Policy Guifang Xue,2005 This book deals with China s response to international fisheries law and policy as envisaged in the LOSC framework and post LOSC fisheries instruments As the first monograph of its kind dealing with the complex issue of the global fisheries crisis and China s fisheries management practice over a significant period of time the book builds a bridge between China and the world for a better understanding of Chinese fisheries management It will be of great value to academics professionals and policy makers alike

Market-Based Fisheries Management Jeppe Høst,2015-04-29 This book reveals how a privatization of fish resources has paved the way for a wide reaching concentration and change in ownership It is a thought provoking contribution to the debate on the future of European fisheries and the possible solutions to overfishing in Europe Readers will discover a timely critical insight into the social cultural and economic aspects and consequences of market based fisheries management The privatization of fish quotas in Denmark represents one of the most far reaching and comprehensive privatization schemes of its kind and has been widely promoted as a market based system with innovative social safeguards This work critically examines this privatization of fish resources combining quantitative and qualitative material to provide new understanding of fish quotas and their social value Scholars with an interest in privatization and the socio economic aspects of fisheries and those working with NGOs fishers and fisheries and concerned with political conflicts will all value the research presented here

Nordic Experience of Fisheries Management Søren Eliassen,2009

A Fisheries Management System in Crisis Jesper Raakjær,2009 Despite the fact that tremendous effort and many resources have been invested in improving the performance of the Common Fisheries Policy CFP the crisis in the EU fisheries management systems worsens year by year This crisis has prevailed almost since the CFP was first implemented in 1983 The analytical framework applied in this book is based on four perspectives political ideational institutional organizational and socio economical used in the following manner the analyses of the political decision making processes provide an understanding of the complicated and complex political processes the analyses of ideational perspectives focus on new modes of governance arising from general reforms in EU governance and public administration the institutional organizational analyses focus on the fisheries management system as an institution explaining the complex multifaceted and often contradictory objectives that the fisheries management system operates within and interacts with the socio economic analyses link the fisheries management system to fishing practices and the fishing communities by identifying the main factors that determine fishing behavior The purpose is to examine how well the management schemes fit the practical reality within the social systems and the individual fishermen that are managed

Economics for Fisheries Management R. Quentin Grafton, James Kirkley, Dale Squires, 2017-03-02 Many of the world's fisheries face major challenges including overfishing overcapacity and low returns Using recent developments in microeconomic theory and with numerous case studies and examples this book shows how to measure efficiency productivity profitability capacity of fishing fleets and how to improve fisheries management The book will prove invaluable to researchers students and professionals interested in understanding the problems in fisheries and how they may be overcome

The Knowledge Base for Fisheries Management Lorenzo Motos, Douglas Wilson, 2006-08-18 Fisheries are in a state of crisis throughout the world While there has been some success truly effective fisheries management seems beyond our grasp The knowledge needed for proper management contains a broad array of facts and connections from statistical stock assessments to the information that allows government agencies to track compliance with rules and beyond This book describes the state of the art knowledge about fishery systems Seldom seen in a scientific publication regarding fisheries science this book presents a multidisciplinary perspective of fisheries management Leading fisheries scholars with backgrounds in biology ecology economics and sociology ask how management institutions can learn and put their lessons to use The Knowledge Base for Fisheries Management offers a unique overview of the world of fisheries management and provides the background to draw conclusions of what is needed to improve management Covering a wide range of regimes case studies and professional perspectives this publication will be an obliged reference to anyone involved on fisheries management assessment policy making or fisheries development all over the world The only book on the market that analyzes fisheries in a biological sociological and economic way Fills a gap focusing not only on the production of knowledge for fisheries management but also on how it is used in all steps of the management system and the decision making processes Focuses on the hot topic scientific knowledge and society science based policies Documents disseminated research from many different management systems both European and world wide Fishing for Answers Yumkio Kura, Yumiko Kura, Carmen Revenga, Eriko Hoshino, Greg Mock, 2004 Allows consumers make links between what they eat and the effect on the ecosystem and fishers globally Stimulates dialogues among environmentalists fishing industry consumers A human dimensions approach towards sustainable recreational fisheries management Robert Arlinghaus, 2004

Community-Based Fisheries Management Devashish Kar, 2020-10-23 Community Based Fisheries Management A Global Perspective unravels the different aspects of CBFM from different continents and countries At a time when the population is significantly increasing with resources decreasing this resource is directly relevant to helping communities understand and improve fishery production management in a sustainably way Sections explore various scientific literature on the impact of community based fishing participatory management of water bodies methodologies for studies on community based fisheries management and interviews of workers working on community based fisheries This information will be most
