First Time I Got Paid For It Writers Tales From The Hollywood Trenches:

The First Time I Got Paid For It Peter Lefcourt, Laura Shapiro, 2009-02-18 The First Time I Got Paid for It is a one of a kind collection of essays by more than fifty leading film and television writers with a foreword by screenwriting legend William Goldman Linked by the theme of a writer's first time usually the first time he got paid for his work but sometimes veering off into other more unconventional first times these always entertaining and sometimes hilarious pieces share what it takes to succeed what it takes to write well and other aspects of maintaining creativity and integrity while striving for a career in Hollywood Richard LaGravenese The Fisher King The Horse Whisperer Living Out Loud confesses that his first paid writing job was crafting phone sex scripts Nicholas Kazan Reversal of Fortune Matilda explains why in Hollywood an oral yes often turns out to be a written no Peter Casey writes about the unparalleled pitch meeting for the award winning series Frasier Virtually every big name writer in Hollywood has contributed to this collection making it essential research material for anyone trying to make it in the entertainment industry and a perfect read for movie and television buffs everywhere

Hollywood in Wide Angle Jack Rothman, 2004 This unique collection of interviews covers the broad spectrum of film directing experience from first timers to award winning veterans Allowed to respond with anonymity the directors provide candid answers to a wide variety of topics that convey the challenges and rewards of the filmmaking process Women Screenwriters Today Marsha McCreadie, 2005-12-30 The question of whether women write from a unique perspective has been debated since the silent era McCreadie examines how this female sensibility has been defined and whether in fact it exists at all Such films as Lost in Translation and Monster suggest that women screenwriters are moving in a new direction heading away from the big budget action movies that dominate Hollywood today But action driven genre films like the thrillers of Alexandra Seros seem to belie the perception that women write films that are more dialogue and character driven than those of male screenwriters Whether or not women actually write differently from men and about different topics the author's unique approach working with and through the words and lives of the women screenwriters themselves allows both readers and writers an otherwise unattainable look into the ever growing and ever more essential world of women in Hollywood Over the course of cinematic history women screenwriters have played an essential role in the creation of the films we watch The question of whether women write from a unique perspective has been debated since the silent era Marsha McCreadie examines how this female sensibility has been defined and questions whether in fact it exists at all The emergence of such films as Lost in Translation and Monster would seem to suggest that women screenwriters are moving in a new direction heading away from the big budget action movies that dominate Hollywood today But there can always be found an Alexandra Seros for instance whose thrillers would seem to prove the opposite case Working through these contradictions Marsha McCreadie takes a captivating look at the words and lives of women screenwriters allowing readers an otherwise unattainable look into the ever growing and ever more essential world of women in film Readers interested in film and women's studies will especially enjoy reading Marsha McCreadie's discussions of such films as Little Women, The Thomas Crown Affair, The Piano, Pollock, and Under the Tuscan Sun. Interviews with major women players in the movie business including Sofia Coppola, Lost in Translation, and Emma Thompson, Sense and Sensibility, allow readers a unique chance to learn firsthand how women are trying to enter the business, how they pursue and approach the topics they love, and how they have managed to survive and prosper in the unforgiving world of modern cinema. By talking with writers working in Hollywood, Australia, New Zealand, and Europe, Marsha McCreadie provides film fans with an international perspective on the increasingly global film industry.

Hollywood High Bruce Handy, 2025-05-20 From a longtime Vanity Fair writer and editor, a delightfully entertaining, intelligent, and illuminating history and tribute to teen movies from Rebel Without a Cause to Fast Times at Ridgemont High and on to John Hughes' Mean Girls, The Hunger Games, and more. What influence did Francis Ford Coppola have on George Lucas's American Graffiti? And Lucas on John Singleton's Boyz n the Hood? How does teenage sexuality in Fast Times at Ridgemont High compare to Twilight? Which teen movies pass the Bechdel test? Why is Mean Girls actually the last great teen film of the 20th century? In the same way that Peter Biskind's Easy Riders, Raging Bulls connects the films of the 1970s to the period's cultural upheaval, and David Hadju's Positively 4th Street tells the story of the sixties through the emergence of folk music, Bruce Handy's Hollywood High situates iconic teen movies within their times and reveals the intriguing stories, artists, and passions behind their creation. These films aren't merely beloved stories; they reflect teens growing economic and cultural influence, societal panics, and shifting perceptions of youth in America. Much more than a nostalgia trip, Hollywood High is a lively, provocative, and affectionate cultural history spanning nearly one hundred years. Handy, an acclaimed journalist and critic who spent two decades at Vanity Fair, examines the defining films of each generation and builds connections between them. From the Andy Hardy classics (1937-1946) to the iconic Rebel Without a Cause (1955), Beach Party series (1963-1968), American Graffiti (1973), Fast Times at Ridgemont High (1982), the John Hughes touchstones Sixteen Candles, The Breakfast Club, Pretty in Pink, and Ferris Bueller's Day Off (1984-1986), Boyz n the Hood (1991), Mean Girls (2004), the Twilight saga (2008-2012), and The Hunger Games series (2012-2015), this is a captivating deep dive into the world of teen movies that captures their sweeping history and influence. We'll hear from icons James Dean, Annette Funicello, George Lucas, Amy Poehler, John Hughes, Molly Ringwald, John Singleton, Tina Fey, and Kristen Stewart, and discover why the most timeless teen movies resonate across generations.

The Way Hollywood Tells It David Bordwell, 2006-04-10 Hollywood moviemaking is one of the constants of American life, but how much has it changed since the glory days of the big studios? David Bordwell argues that the principles of visual storytelling created in the studio era are alive and well, even in today's bloated blockbusters. American filmmakers have created a durable tradition, one that we should not be ashamed to call artistic, and one that survives in both mainstream entertainment and niche-marketed indie cinema. Bordwell traces the continuity of this tradition in a wide array of films made since 1960, from romantic comedies like Jerry

Maguire and Love Actually to more imposing efforts like A Beautiful Mind He also draws upon testimony from writers directors and editors who are acutely conscious of employing proven principles of plot and visual style Within the limits of the classical approach innovation can flourish Bordwell examines how imaginative filmmakers have pushed the premises of the system in films such as JFK Memento and Magnolia He discusses generational technological and economic factors leading to stability and change in Hollywood cinema and includes close analyses of selected shots and sequences As it ranges across four decades examining classics like American Graffiti and The Godfather as well as recent success like The Lord of the Rings The Two Towers this book provides a vivid and engaging interpretation of how Hollywood moviemakers have created a vigorous resourceful tradition of cinematic storytelling that continues to engage audiences around the world Breakfast with Sharks Michael Lent,2007-12-18 What They Didn't Teach You in Your Screenwriting Course Screenwriters listen up Breakfast with Sharks is not a book about the craft of screenwriting This is a book about the business of managing your screenwriting career from advice on choosing an agent to tips on juggling three deal making breakfasts a day Prescriptive and useful Breakfast with Sharks is a real guide to navigating the murky waters of the Hollywood system Unlike most of the screenwriting books available here's one that tells you what to do after you've finished your surefire hit screenplay Written from the perspective of Michael Lent an in the trenches working screenwriter in Hollywood this is a real world look into the script to screen business as it is practiced today Breakfast with Sharks is filled with useful advice on everything from the ins and outs of moving to Los Angeles to understanding terms like spec option and assignment Here you'll learn what to expect from agents and managers and who does what in the studio hierarchy And most important Breakfast with Sharks will help you nail your pitch so the studio exec can't say no Rounded out with a Q & A section and resource lists of script competitions film festivals trade associations industry publications and more Breakfast with Sharks is chock full of take this and use it right now information for screenwriters at any stage of their careers Rod Serling Nicholas Parisi,2018-10-24 Long before anyone had heard of alien cookbooks gremlins on the wings of airplanes or places where pig faced people are considered beautiful Rod Serling was the most prestigious writer in American television As creator host and primary writer for The Twilight Zone Serling became something more an American icon When Serling died in 1975 at the age of fifty he was the most honored most outspoken most recognizable and likely the most prolific writer in television history Though best known for The Twilight Zone Serling wrote over 250 scripts for film and television and won an unmatched six Emmy Awards for dramatic writing for four different series His filmography includes the acclaimed political thriller Seven Days in May and cowriting the original Planet of the Apes In great detail and including never published insights drawn directly from Serling's personal correspondence unpublished writings speeches and unproduced scripts Nicholas Parisi explores Serling's entire massive body of work With a foreword by Serling's daughter Anne Serling Rod Serling His Life Work and Imagination is part biography part videography and part critical analysis It is a painstakingly researched look at all of Serling's work in and out of The Twilight Zone Politics and Film Daniel P. Franklin, 2006-02-02 Politics and Film explores the meaning of film within a societal context In examining the political role of films we become real time cultural anthropologists sifting through the artifacts of modern society to determine what our culture really is all about Common sense tells us that if filmmakers want to make a profit they have to be responsive to the market This doesn't mean that they have to produce a product that simply delights the eyes Films must also please the mind and not just in terms of satisfying our desire to be entertained although that alone is sometimes enough but also deepen our understanding of people ideas and problems that we may confront in everyday life In this respect even commercial films are political And if we are what we eat we may also say we are what we pay to see This book contends that to a large extent American film reflects political culture in American society
