landscape architect and a photographer show us in word and pictures gardens built by homeless or impoverished New York City inhabitants Like traditional gardens these spaces are designed for pleasure social activity or private retreat Unlike traditional gardens they are connected to a more active and ephemeral use of the land Transitory gardens speak the language of our times here we find the reuse of nearly everything discarded a sparing use of water and plant materials an economical treatment of space and a penchant for icons toys flags and symbols of freedom and nationality The gardens expand our definition of what makes a garden and what its design means for its creator Diana Balmori's commentary and Margaret Morton's photographs combine with the garden makers own descriptions to encourage us to take note of gardens grown in unlikely places on abandoned littered lots bounded by debris By focusing on what homeless people make not for material comfort but from social and spiritual need the book offers insight into both the meaning of landscape and the place of a garden in the life of an individual under duress [The British Study Edition of the Urantia Papers Book \[A4 PDF\]](#) ,

Count God In Loren F. Bliese,2018-03-09 This study of Song of Songs uncovers many patterns related to the numerical value twenty six and related numbers for the divine name YHWH Patterns are so unique that they clearly show authorial intent They involve the numerical value of root forms of words their sequences and their totals in the book The beloved man is highlighted by special patterns which indicate that a typology for God is intended Deer names in the refrain have number patterns that confirm intention for being circumlocutions for divine names The disputed presence of the divine name YH in 8 6 is confirmed by the value of its full word One of the most striking patterns found with the help of a computer is that the totals of root words are all arranged to point to theological numbers in a beautiful intricacy Besides describing these patterns this study discusses numerical competence within a proposed Hebrew literary circle and what steps they might have gone through to create these amazing phenomena These theological numbers confirm intentionality for allusions to the Hebrew Bible and support a hermeneutic of spiritual applications A literary analysis of each poem focuses on the use of numbers among other features of prominence Transactions Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland,1861 Some issues contain a list of members

Prize-essays and Transactions of the Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland Royal Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland, Edinburgh,1867 The Florist ,1848 Eve Was Named an Apostle Daniel R. Schneider,2023-03-28 This book investigates the movement of the Eve parallelism along the chain of tradition focusing primarily upon the female characters of the Gospel of John The principal aim is to explore their interrelationship with the mother of Jesus who in the developed ecclesial tradition is eventually given the title New Eve Accordingly this work examines the motif of woman in the Fourth Gospel by probing the use of the nuptial metaphor where female narrative characters are presented both as idealized disciples and fictive brides of the divine Bridegroom By means of a common narrative critical approach this book then engages the thought of Hippolytus of Rome as found in his Commentary on the Song of Songs Specifically it explores how his focus upon the myrrophores is an expansion of the Johannine tradition and one in which the nuptial metaphor takes on an ecclesial significance By presenting the primordial garden in a narrative climax whereby a symbolic recapitulation occurs in the resurrection garden Hippolytus shifts the Eve parallelism from the mother of Jesus to the Magdalene This in turn is early evidence of a confluence of understanding whereby she is not only disciple but also both Eve and apostola apostolorum
