First Impressions Llewellyn Jones,1925 First impressions Llewellyn Jones,1968 First Impressions. Essays on Poetry, Criticism, and Prosody Llewellyn JONES (Literary Editor of the Chicago Evening Post.),1925 The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson,I. R. Willison,1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries Among Our Books Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh,1927 Subject Index of the Modern Books Acquired by the British Museum in the Years ... ,1927 The Notebooks of Robert Frost Robert Frost,2007-01-01 During his lifetime Robert Frost notoriously resisted collecting his prose going so far as to halt the publication of one prepared compilation and to lose the transcripts of the Charles Eliot Norton Lectures he delivered at Harvard in 1936 But for all his qualms Frost conceded to his son that you can say a lot in prose that verse won t let you say and that the prose he had written had in fact made good competition for his verse This volume the first critical edition of Robert Frost s prose allows readers and scholars to appreciate the great American author s forays beyond poetry and to discover in the prose that he did make public in newspapers magazines journals speeches and books the wit force and grace that made his poetry famous The Collected Prose of Robert Frost offers an extensive and illuminating body of work ranging from juvenilia Frost s contributions to his high school Bulletin to the charming chicken stories he wrote as a young family man for The Eastern Poultryman and Farm Poultry to such famous essays as The Figure a Poem Makes and the speeches and contributions to magazines solicited when he had become the Grand Old Man of American letters Gathered annotated and cross referenced by Mark Richardson the collection is based on extensive work in archives of Frost s manuscripts It provides detailed notes on the author s habits of composition and on important textual issues and includes much previously unpublished material It is a book of boundless appeal and importance one that should find a home on the bookshelf of anyone interested in Frost Library Notes North Carolina College for Women. Library,1922 The Collected Prose of Robert Frost Robert Frost,2006 Robert Frost is one of the most widely read well loved and misunderstood of modern writers In his day he was also an inveterate note taker penning thousands of intense aphoristic thoughts observations and meditations in small pocket pads and school theme books throughout his life These notebooks transcribed and presented here in their entirety for the first time offer unprecedented insight into Frost s complex and often highly contradictory thinking about poetics politics education psychology science and religion his attitude toward Marxism the New Deal World War as well as

Yeats Pound Santayana and William James Covering a period from the late 1890s to early 1960s the notebooks reveal the full range of the mind of one of America s greatest poets Their depth and complexity convey the restless and probing quality of his thought and show how the unruliness of chaotic modernity was always just beneath his appearance of supreme poetic control Edited and annotated by Robert Faggen the notebooks are cross referenced to mark thematic connections within these and Frost s other writings including his poetry letters and other prose This is a major new addition to the canon of Robert Frost s writings

Christian and Lyric Tradition in Victorian Women's Poetry F. Elizabeth Gray,2009-09-10 Women in the Victorian period were acknowledged to be the religious sex but their relationship to the doctrines practices and hierarchies of Christianity was both highly circumscribed which has been well documented and complexly creative which has not Gray visits the importance of the literature of Christian devotion to women s creative lives through an examination of the varied ways in which Victorian women reproduced and recreated traditional Christian texts in their own poetic texts Investigating how women poets redeployed the discourse of Christianity to uncover the multiple voices of the scriptures to expand identity and gender constructions and to question traditional narratives and processes of authorization Gray contends that women found in religious poetry unexpected liberating possibilities Taking into account multiple voices from the best known female poets of the day to some of the most obscure this study provides a comprehensive account of Victorian women s religious poetic creativity and argues that this body of work helped shape the development of the lyric in the Victorian period

The Letters of Robert Frost Robert Frost,2016-09-13 The second installment of Harvard s critically acclaimed five volume edition of Robert Frost s correspondence contains letters from 1920 to 1928 400 of them gathered here for the first time His 160 correspondents include family friends colleagues fellow writers visual artists publishers educators librarians farmers and admirers

New Series St. Louis Public Library,1927 A Separate Vision Deborah Pope,1999-03-01 The emergence of large numbers of women writers expressing a deliberately female consciousness has marked one of the significant directions of literature in this century A central idea embraced by these writers has been the particular isolation or marginality felt by women In A Separate Vision Deborah Pope focuses on four representative poets Louise Bogan Maxine Kumin Denise Levertov and Adrienne Rich to explore the ways in which women writers treatment of isolation extends our perception of women s experience and our understanding of the alienated human sensibility In the work of these poets Pope identifies four distinct phases of isolation split self and validation These phases represent a progression from negation to affirmation from a sense of powerlessness and severe restriction to one of literal and psychological freedom She shows how the dynamics of this progression have operated in each poet s development with each starting from the negative stance of victimization and moving in varying degrees toward validation But Pope also finds that in each woman s work one phase of isolation is predominant She sees the tension and confessionalism in the poetry of Bogan the earliest of the four as most representative of victimization Kumin s poems on her alienation from familial and social experiences exemplify personalization The split self is manifested most clearly in Levertov whose work shows a woman torn between her social female self and her inner artistic self Rich the most committed feminist of this group si also the strongest exemplar of validation Her recent poems are charged with personality and power and the isolation in her writing is the isolation of those in the forefront of exploration and change This progress toward a positive sense of women s isolation is a significant movement in contemporary poetry With what Pope describes as their vigorous revisioning of our patterns of human experience women poets are today showing us new ways of understanding and realizing human dignity and worth
