Papermaking in Britain 1488-1988 Richard Leslie Hills,2015-11-19 This short history tells the story of five hundred years of papermaking against the general background of the coming of paper and printing in Britain through the major developments of the Industrial Revolution up to the technological advances which have made possible the enormous high speed paper machines of the present day

Technical Paper ,1915 Operation Management B. Mahadevan,2009 Pioneering Places of British Aviation Bruce Hales-Dutton,2020-03-30 From as early as the beginning of the nineteenth century Britain was at the forefront of powered flight Across the country many places became centres of innovation and experimentation as increasing numbers of daring men took to the skies It was in 1799 at Brompton Hall that Sir George Cayley Bart put forward ideas which formed the basis of powered flight Cayley is widely regarded as the father of aviation and his ancestral home the cradle of British aviation There were balloon flights at Hendon from 1862 although attempts at powered flights from the area later used as the famous airfield do not seem to have been particularly successful Despite this Louis Bleriot established a flying school there in 1910 It was gliders that Percy Pilcher flew from the grounds of Stamford Hall Leicestershire during the 1890s He was killed in a crash there in 1899 but Pilcher had plans for a powered aircraft which experts believe may well have enabled him to beat the Wright Brothers in becoming the first to make a fixed wing powered flight At Brooklands attempts were made to build and fly a powered aircraft in 1906 even before the banked racetrack was completed but these were unsuccessful But on 8 June 1908 A V Roe made what is considered to be the first powered flight in Britain from there in reality a short hop in a machine of his own design and construction enabling Brooklands to claim to be the birthplace of British aviation These are just a few of the many places investigated by Bruce Hales Dutton in this intriguing look at the early days of British aviation which includes the first ever aircraft factory in Britain in the railway arches at Battersea Larkhill on Salisbury Plain which became the British Army's first airfield and Barking Creek where Frederick Handley Page established his first factory

Vision-Based Robot Navigation Mateus Mendes,A. Paulo Coimbra,Manuel M. Crisóstomo,2012 Starting with a summary of the history of Artificial Intelligence this book makes the bridge to the modern debate on the definition of Intelligence and the path to building Intelligent Machines Since the definition of Intelligence is itself subject to open debate the quest for Intelligent machines is pursuing a moving target Apparently intelligent behaviour is to a great extent the result of using a sophisticated associative memory more than the result of heavy processing The book describes theories on how the brain works associative memory models and how a particular model the Sparse Distributed Memory SDM can be used to navigate a robot based on visual memories Other robot navigation methods are also comprehensively revised and compared to the method proposed The performance of the SDM based robot has been tested in different typical problems such as illumination changes occlusions and image noise taking the SDM to the limits The results are extensively discussed in the book
