the European Community Sijbren Cnossen, 2013-06-29 The results of the work of the Conference on Tax Coordination in the European Community appear at a time when the Community has undertaken as a priority task the completion of the internal market The Commission's programme and proposed timetable for the achievement of that goal are spelt out in the White Paper which was endorsed by the European Council at Milan in June 1985 an endorsement which was repeated at the Council's subsequent meeting in Luxemburg in December 1985 The Commission wholly endorses the views of the Conference as regards the need for urgent action to remove the grave restrictions on the free movement of the factors of production which continue to exist within the Community It is the Commission's firm view that only a true dismantling of fiscal frontiers can permit the creation of an area without internal frontiers for which the Single European Act provides To that end a certain approximation of rates of indirect taxation is indispensable if unacceptable distortion of competition is to be avoided It is noteworthy that the Conference attaches great importance to the Community's problems in the field of direct taxation This work will be particularly useful to the Commission which intends to produce a further White Paper on company taxation in the near future As the Conference rightly notes action in this field is important for equalisation of the conditions of competition necessary for the completion of the internal market The Economics of International Integration Peter Robson, 2002-09-11 International economic integration can in many ways be seen as one of the everyday consequences of globalization As communication lines grow shorter more and more countries are seeing the use in hacking down trade barriers This new edition of Peter Robson's classic text will doubtless please its many fans Foreign Trade and Tariff Proposals United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means, 1968      European Integration in the World Economy Hans-Jürgen Vosgerau, 2013-04-17 Hans Jtlrgen Vosgerau The world economy has been subjected to extreme changes during the last three years These changes affect not only trade flows financial transfers and movements of people but also the institutional framework The ongoing process of European integration has to be viewed in this global context and that is what the present volume tries to do for six important problem areas viz the field of Money Currency and International Stabilization Federal Tax Systems and the European Community the area of International Factor Mobility the International Debt Problem the Econometrics of International Trade and aspects of International Political Economy In each chapter an effort is made to direct attention to the connections between international economic transactions of various kinds and the political and legal institutions which constitute the organizational framework The 26 contributions are revised versions of papers originally presented at the Second Konstanz Symposium on International Economics and Institutions which was organized by the Long term Research Programme Sonderforschungsbereich Internationalization of the Economy on October 1 and 2 1990 The majority of contributions are reports on research conducted in the Sonderforschungsbereich during the preceding years and in most cases supplemented by comments from invited guests In addition there are some important papers contributed by colleagues from outside most of whom have close cooperative relations with members of the Sonderforschungsbereich
