Fish Biologists Impact On National Security A:

A Fish Biologist's Impact on National Security Howard A. Schuck, 2004-05 This is the story of the Threat Assessment indicating United States Vulnerability to Surprise Atomic Attack that was believed and acted upon As contrasted to Assessments which were ignored with serious consequences like the Rudman Commission and Gilmore Panel in late 1990 s and in the Pacific just prior to Dec 7 1941 This Story is the inside perspective of the unlikely chain of events which led to the Inquiry being authorized and then conducted It postulates why its unsettling findings were accepted as credible and valid It describes how the findings were utilized as the basis for the massive efforts to eliminate this Vulnerability ie that the United States s System for deterring Nuclear World War III SAC could be attacked by complete Surprise and destroyed on the ground by the Soviet long range Bomber force Finally the Book speculates as to how the Inquiry helped end the Cold War without Nuclear detonations by either side

Governability of Fisheries and Aquaculture: Theory and Applications Maarten Bavinck, Ratana Chuenpagdee, Svein Jentoft, Jan Kooiman, 2013-04-10 Following from Fish for Life Interactive Governance for Fisheries Kooiman et al 2005 which presents an interdisciplinary and intersectoral approach to the governance of capture and aquaculture fisheries this volume pursues what interactive governance theory and the governability perspective contribute to the resolution of key fisheries problems these include overfishing unemployment and poverty food insecurity and social injustice Since these problems are varied and can be felt among governments resource users and communities globally the diagnosis must be holistic and take account of principles institutions and operational conditions The authors argue that wicked problems and institutional limitations are inherent to each setting and must be included in the analysis The volume thereby offers a new lens and a systematic approach for analysing the nature of problems and challenges concerning the governance of fisheries explores where these problems are situated and how potential solutions may be found It now seems clear that the crisis in the world s fisheries is a much larger and more complex problem than many had imagined Yet examining it through the lens of governability may offer the best hope for alleviating it as well as alleviating similar crises in other social systems James R McGoodwin Professor Emeritus University of Colorado

Bio-inspired Innovation and National Security, Bio-Inspired Innovation and National Security National Defense University, 2010-10 Despite the vital importance of the emerging area of biotechnology and its role in defense planning and policymaking no definitive book has been written on the topic for the defense policymaker the military student and the private sector bioscientist interested in the emerging opportunities market of national security This edited volume is intended to help close this gap and provide the necessary backdrop for thinking strategically about biology in defense planning and policymaking This volume is about applications of the biological sciences here called biologically inspired innovations to the military Rather than treating biology as a series of threats to be dealt with such innovations generally approach the biological sciences as a set of opportunities for the military to gain strategic advantage over adversaries These opportunities range from looking at everything from genes to brains from enhancing human performance to creating renewable energy from sensing the environment around us to harnessing its power The First Global Integrated Marine Assessment United Nations,2017-04-17 The World Ocean Assessment or to give its full title The First Global Integrated Marine Assessment is the outcome of the first cycle of the United Nations Regular Process for Global Reporting and Assessment of the State of the Marine Environment including Socioeconomic Aspects The Assessment provides vital scientifically grounded bases for the consideration of ocean issues including climate change by governments intergovernmental agencies non governmental agencies and all other stakeholders and policymakers involved in ocean affairs Together with future assessments and related initiatives it will support the implementation of the recently adopted 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development particularly its ocean related goals Moreover it will also form an important reference text for marine science courses Nez Perce National Forest (N.F.)
