Fish Physiology Volume Vi Environmental Relations And Behavior:

Fish physiology, vol. VI. Environmental relations and behavior W.S. HOAR,1971 Fish Physiology: Euryhaline Fishes Stephen D. McCormick,Anthony Peter Farrell,Colin Brauner,2013-01-11 The need for ion and water homeostasis is common to all life For fish ion and water homeostasis is an especially important challenge because they live in direct contact with water and because of the large variation in the salt content of natural waters varying by over 5 orders of magnitude Most fish are stenohaline and are unable to move between freshwater and seawater Remarkably some fishes are capable of life in both freshwater and seawater These euryhaline fishes constitute an estimated 3 to 5% of all fish species Euryhaline fishes represent some of the most iconic and interesting of all fish species from salmon and sturgeon that make epic migrations to intertidal mudskippers that contend with daily salinity changes With the advent of global climate change and increasing sea levels understanding the environmental physiology of euryhaline species is critical for environmental management and any mitigative measures This volume will provide the first integrative review of euryhalinity in fish There is no other book that focuses on fish that have the capacity to move between freshwater and seawater The different challenges of salt and water balance in different habitats have led to different physiological controls and regulation which heretofore has not been reviewed in a single volume Collects and synthesizes the literature covering the state of knowledge of the physiology of euryhaline fish Provides the foundational information needed for researchers from a variety of fields including fish physiology conservation and evolutionary biology genomics ecology ecotoxicology and comparative physiology All authors are the leading researchers and emerging leaders in their fields Oceanography of the Northeastern Pacific Ocean and Eastern Bering Sea, and Relations to Various Living Marine Resources F. Favorite,Taivo Laevastu,Richard R. Straty,1977 Environmental Relations and Behavior William Stewart Hoar,David J. Randall,1971 Fish Physiology,1972-04-28 Fish Physiology Neurobiology of Comparative Cognition Raymond P. Kesner,David S. Olton,2014-02-25 This book represents a unique and elaborate exposition of the neural organization of language memory and spatial perception in a wide variety of species including humans bees fish rodents and monkeys The editors have united the comparative approach with its emphasis on evolutionary determinants of behavior the neurobiological approach with its emphasis on the neural determinants of behavior and the cognitive approach with its emphasis on understanding higher order mental functions The combination of these three approaches provides an unusual look at the neurobiology of comparative cognition and should stimulate increased investigations in this field and related disciplines Fish Physiology William Stewart Hoar,David John Randall,1971 Performance Standards for Safely Conducting Research with Genetically Modified Fish and Shellfish Walter A. Hill,1998-08 These Standards are intended to aid researchers and institutions in assessing the ecological and evolutionary safety of research involving genetically modified fish and shellfish Discusses the purpose and environmental safety of this research and provides an overview of the components of the Standards Supporting
