Fisher Folk Two Communities On Chesapeake Bay:

Fisher Folk Carolyn Ellis, 1986 Although similar in their economy and their resistance to outside control two communities have evolved different patterns of social organization In one the church has come to play a dominant role It serves as the only local government even providing street lights and nursing services It supports an ethic of hard work and the pursuit of a higher standard of living In the other community kin loyalties exercise paramount control The People exhibit a marked individualism and family members assist and fill in for one another Living more on a day to day basis they supplement their seasonal fishing income with wage labor cover flap

Fishing-Dependent Communities on the Gulf Coast of Florida Yu Huang, 2004-02-12 U S fisheries legislation requires National Marine Fisheries Service NMFS to attend to the critical social and economic issues surrounding the definition and identification of fishing communities and to the effects that changes to the physical environment and regulatory decisions can have on such communities To fulfil their mandate National Marine Fisheries Service NMFS sponsored the research entitled Identifying Fishing Communities in the Gulf of Mexico to study the economic social and cultural status of potential fishing communities along the Gulf of Mexico NMFS contracted the research project to Impact Assessment Inc to study 80 plus potential fishing communities in the Florida Gulf Coast I worked as an intern in the research and visited the communities with other team members The task of our project was to provide NMFS with basic profiles of fishing communities for NMFS to develop a culturally appropriated intervention Research methods include Rapid Assessment Procedures RAP semi structured key informant interviews participant observation and archival and secondary research mainly for community histories Apart from my internship research I also conducted some additional interviews and observations for my thesis My findings indicate that fishing communities along the Florida Gulf Coast encounter with challenge from increased regulation dumping seafood imports and virtually uncontrolled waterfront development By a comparison of three groups of fishing communities i e diminished communities residual communities and resilient communities the thesis explores how communities respond to the challenges and encourages fishermen to take action to preserve their generation long fishing tradition In conclusion the thesis suggests that a solution to ease the decline of fishing communities requires cooperation of all parties concerned including the fishery regulatory agency commercial fishermen and the federal and local government

Final Negotiations Carolyn Ellis, 1995-01-27 When Carolyn Ellis a graduate student and Gene Weinstein her Professor fell in love he was experiencing the first stages of emphysema As he became increasingly disabled and immobile these two intensely connected partners fought to maintain their love and to live a meaningful life They learned to negotiate their daily lives in a way that enabled each of them to feel sufficiently autonomous him not always like a patient and her not always like a caretaker Writing as a sociologist Ellis portrays their life together as a way to understand the complexities of romance of living with a progressive illness and in the final negotiation and reversal of positions of coping with the loss of a loved one This rare memoir full of often raw details and emotions becomes an intimate conversation about the intricacies of feeling and relating in a relationship What Ellis calls experimental ethnography is a finely crafted forthright and daring story framed by the author's reflections on writing about and analyzing one's own life Casting off the safe distance of most social science inquiry she surrenders the private shroud of a complex relationship to bring sociology closer to literature

Coming to Narrative Arthur P Bochner, 2016-06-16 Reflecting on a 50 year university career Distinguished Professor Arthur Bochner former President of the National Communication Association discloses a lived history both academic and personal that has paralleled many of the paradigm shifts in the human sciences inspired by the turn toward narrative He shows how the human sciences especially in his own areas of interpersonal family and communication theory have evolved from sciences directed toward prediction and control to interpretive ones focused on the search for meaning through qualitative narrative and ethnographic modes of inquiry He outlines the theoretical contributions of such luminaries as Bateson Laing Goffman Henry Gergen and Richardson in this transformation Using diverse forms of narration Bochner seamlessly layers theory and story interweaving his professional and personal life with the social and historical contexts in which they developed

Beyond Cannery Row Carol Lynn McKibben, 2010-10-01 Presenting a nuanced story of women migration community industry and civic life at the turn of the twentieth century Carol Lynn McKibben's Beyond Cannery Row analyzes the processes of migration and settlement of Sicilian fishers from three villages in Western Sicily to Monterey California and sometimes back again McKibben's analysis of gender and gender roles shows that it was the women in this community who had the insight the power and the purpose to respond and even prosper amid changing economic conditions Vividly evoking the immigrants everyday experiences through first person accounts and detailed description McKibben demonstrates that the cannery work done by Sicilian immigrant women was crucial in terms of the identity formation and community development These changes allowed their families to survive the challenges of political conflicts over citizenship in World War II and intermarriage with outsiders throughout the migration experience The women formed voluntary associations and celebrated festas that effectively linked them with each other and with their home villages in Sicily Continuous migration created a strong sense of transnationalism among Sicilians in Monterey which has enabled them to continue as a viable ethnic community today
