Fisheries Management In The European Union:

Fisheries Management in the European Union Apostolos Karagiannakos, 1995 An overview of the main components of the Common Fisheries Policy CFP and assessment of their impact on different aspects of the fishing industry The economic and biological knowledge on which the fisheries management is based has been evaluated and a management scheme for reforming the CFP is proposed Ecocentric fisheries management in european seas: Data gaps, base models and initial assessments, volume I Athanassios C. Tsikliras, Georgi M. Daskalov, Georgios Sylaios, Gianpaolo Coro, Marco Scotti, David Grémillet, 2023-10-31 European Union Fisheries Legislation Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: European Union Committee, 2005-07-11 This report contains evidence from the Nature Conservation and Fisheries Minister Ben Bradshaw following a number of scrutiny overrides resulting from the late deposit of items before Council meetings The Committee want the Government to address shortcomings in the EU s fisheries policy decision making process during the time of its presidency of the European Union

The Politics of Fisheries in the European Union Christian Lequesne, 2004-07-23 In analyzing the fisheries sector this book explores key issues relating to the EU polity as a whole including the distribution of power the representation of interests at national and transnational levels the allocation of budgets and resources and the EU s place as an actor on the global stage In this way Lequesne uses the Common Fisheries Policy to provide a varied illustration of European policy in action The scholarship is based on high quality primary research carefully conducted and articulated The result is a fascinating insight into the fisheries sector which reveals broader characteristics of the EU The Knowledge Base for Fisheries Management Lorenzo Motos, Douglas Wilson, 2006-08-18 Fisheries are in a state of crisis throughout the world While there has been some success truly effective fisheries management seems beyond our grasp The knowledge needed for proper management contains a broad array of facts and connections from statistical stock assessments to the information that allows government agencies to track compliance with rules and beyond This book describes the state of the art knowledge about fishery systems Seldom seen in a scientific publication regarding fisheries science this book presents a multidisciplinary perspective of fisheries management Leading fisheries scholars with backgrounds in biology ecology economics and sociology ask how management institutions can learn and put their lessons to use The Knowledge Base for Fisheries Management offers a unique overview of the world of fisheries management and provides the background to draw conclusions of what is needed to improve management Covering a wide range of regimes case studies and professional perspectives this publication will be an obliged reference to anyone involved on fisheries management assessment policy making or fisheries development all over the world The only book on the market that analyzes fisheries in a biological sociological and economic way Fills a gap focusing not only on the production of knowledge for fisheries management but also on how it is used in all steps of the management system and the decision making processes Focuses on the hot topic scientific knowledge and society science based policies Documents disseminated

Fisheries and the Law in Europe Jonatan Echebarria Fernández,Tafsir Matin Johansson,Jon A. Skinner,Mitchell Lennan,2022-02-27 Examining fisheries Brexit the Trade and Cooperation Agreement TCA and its consequences for the Fishing Industry in the UK and the EU this book explores key issues within the complex topic of fisheries after Brexit Assessing the new fishing relationship between the UK and the EU which will continue to develop over the next decade it provides an important study of the state of fisheries post Brexit Taking a cross cutting economic legal and policy approach the book outlines the social and economic impacts of Brexit on the UK and EU fishing industries It critically analyses the provisions relevant to fisheries in the TCA reflects on the bilateral fishing negotiations between the EU UK and Norway providing inferences as to what the new and special relationship might be in fisheries It then focuses on the 2020 Fisheries Act and explores internal divergences in the nations of the UK because of devolution Taking an international approach the work offers an exploration of cooperation in fisheries enforcement international and regional obligations in marine conservation and the new horizons for the UK in international fisheries organizations and arrangements now it is no longer a member of the EU It offers an overview of expert opinion on fisheries post Brexit highlighting lessons learned and future developments for fisheries in a post Brexit world Having finally signed the Trade and Cooperation Agreement on 31 December 2020 after tense negotiations the United Kingdom and European Union have found themselves in a new fisheries relationship This book maps the complex social economic legal and policy issues of fisheries in a post Brexit world and will be of interest to stakeholders and scholars

Challenges and Opportunities for the EU Common Fisheries Policy Application in the Mediterranean and Black Sea Simone Libralato,Francesco Colloca,Ali Cemal Gücü,Christos D. Maravelias,Cosimo Solidoro,Sebastián Villasante,Massimiliano Cardinale,2019-01-11 The application of the Common Fisheries Policy CFP in the Mediterranean and Black Sea faces several challenges also because of large ecological economic political and institutional differences across the basin The challenge of CFP application is exacerbated by the legal administrative situation with large areas outside national EU jurisdictions by the different development of fisheries that result in fleet capacities highly different on opposite shores of some sub basins as well as by uneven monitoring and data availability across the basins that result in situations that hamper sustainable management This book collates analyses related to the application of the principles included in the CFP in Mediterranean and Black Sea including assessments of current status scenario analyses visions of best solutions evaluation of critical hot spots and effects of regionalization of fisheries management The eBook tackles from local to transboundary issues and solutions and provides a broad vision of problems together with important practical solutions for CFP application in the Mediterranean and Black Sea

Making Fisheries Management Work Stig S. Gezelius,Jesper Raakjær,2008-07-15 The state of the Northeast Atlantic fisheries in recent years has highlighted plementation as the Achilles heel of modern fisheries management discards and unreported or misreported landings are in many cases recognised to effectively subvert sound conservation goals Social science literature on fisheries management has tended to regard the implementation of resource conservation policies mainly as a question of effective enforcement. This literature regards surveillance and penalty as the key mechanism through which fishermen keep to catch restrictions and loyally report their catches. This book emerged because several years of research on fishermen's compliance had made us uneasy about this rather narrow approach to the problem of implementation. This uneasiness motivated us to widen the approach to the question of implementing conservation policies in the fisheries. Taking Norway as an example, its fishing fleet consists of some 7 000 vessels spread along a coastline of more than 20 000 km populated by less than 5 million people. The idea of ensuring desirable behaviour through surveillance and enforcement alone is almost absurd in such a context as the task is impossible by any reasonable means. The Norwegian implementation system has thus had to rely heavily on the incentives provided by the rules and legitimacy created through a century of state industry collaboration. Different coastal states face very different conditions in terms of solving typical implementation problems such as discards and misreporting.

The Political Economy of Joining the European Union Magnus Bjarnason, 2010. Iceland can consider its participation in the European Economic Area (EEA) as an associate membership of the European Union (EU). Under the EEA agreement, Iceland participates in the EU free movement of capital, persons, services and industrial goods along with cooperation in social policy and related fields. However, Iceland does not participate in the EU Common Fisheries Policy (CFP), the EU Common Agricultural Policy (CAP), the European Economic and Monetary Union (EMU) or in the EU Customs Union. This dissertation studies the effects of full EU membership on Iceland's Political Economy. It gives an overview of the EU, EEA and the European Free Trade Association (EFTA), offering thorough analyses of the EMU, Agricultural Policy and Fisheries Policy. The dissertation also reviews the pros and cons of EU membership. A decision to join the EU is in the end a question of political choice, and this dissertation is intended to make such a choice as informed as possible.

Comparative Evaluations of Innovative Fisheries Management Kjellrun Hiis Hauge, Douglas Clyde Wilson, 2009-09-23. Comparative Evaluations of Innovative Fisheries Management begins with a look at four places outside the European Union known for innovative management: New Zealand, Nova Scotia, Alaska, and Iceland. Then the focus shifts to the success criteria related to specific disciplines, including biological and social robustness, economic efficiency, and impacts on management costs. Hypotheses are tested using data capable of generating useful results. The main conclusions include a retrospective of how key concepts defined and represented the various perspectives, skills, and backgrounds that made up the multidisciplinary CEVIS project.

Understanding the European Union's External Relations Michèle Knodt, Sebastiaan Princen, 2003-09-02. The European Union is one of the world's biggest economies. However, its role as an international actor is ambiguous, and it's not always able to transform its political power into effective external policies. The development of an assertive European Union challenges the image of an internal project aimed at economic integration and international relations theories based on unitary state actors. This book systematically links the EU's external relations to existing political theories showing how existing theories need to be modified in order to deal with specific characteristics of the EU as an international actor Handbook of European Union Governance Sonia Lucarelli,James Sperling,2025-05-14 This expansive Handbook compares the global milieu security economic and societal systems of EU governance It identifies the theoretical underpinnings and characteristics of each governance system and examines how these ensure public safety social welfare sustainability and economic competitiveness Inshore Fisheries Management David Symes,Jeremy Phillipson,2013-06-29 Despite their importance in terms of employment and income generation inshore fisheries have been a neglected area of study The review of the common fisheries policy especially in the light of the need to re examine the derogation which reserves access to the inshore zone to coastal state vessels provides an opportunity to redress the balance With contributions from leading authorities on fisheries management the book takes an in depth look at seven European countries examining the basis for the definition of inshore fisheries evaluating their status and describing the salient characteristics of their management The national studies form the basis for cross cultural analyses of the social organisation cultural norms economic objectives and institutional structures of inshore fisheries in Europe Finally a number of key issues relating to the future of inshore fisheries management in a more integrated approach are examined Overall the volume reaffirms the invaluable role played by inshore fisheries in the local and regional economies of Europe s complex coastline

Social Issues in Sustainable Fisheries Management Julie Urquhart,Tim G. Acott,David Symes,Minghua Zhao,2014-01-20 This volume is an interdisciplinary mix of perspectives and studies on social issues in fisheries from a diverse range of case studies and research disciplines The case is made regarding the dearth of attention to socio cultural considerations which to date have been largely treated as an externality of fisheries policy It will be valuable to researchers and decision makers interested in understanding the social dimension of fisheries and provides a timely and relevant compilation of research and analysis on some of the critical socio cultural issues facing fisheries management and fishing communities today The Fisheries Co-management Experience Douglas Clyde Wilson,Jesper Raakjaer Nielsen,Poul Degnbol,2013-03-09 For two decades the idea of governments and fishers working together to manage fisheries has been advocated questioned disparaged and most importantly attempted in fisheries from North and South America through Europe Africa Asia and Oceania This book is the first time these experiences have been pulled together in a single volume summarized and explained The Fisheries Co management Experience begins with a review of the intellectual foundations of the co management idea from several professional perspectives Next fisheries researchers from six global regions describe what has been happening on the ground in their area Finally the volume offers a set of reflections by some of the best authors in the field The end result describes both the state of the art and emerging issues for one of the most important trends in natural resources management Innovative Approaches to Fisheries Management Harish Mehta,2025-02-20 Innovative Approaches to Fisheries Management presents a groundbreaking perspective on the intricate process of managing fisheries We delve into the complexities of this integrated system addressing crucial aspects from information gathering to regulation enforcement Emphasizing a holistic approach we acknowledge the interconnectedness of environmental economic and social factors in maintaining fisheries productivity Through meticulous analysis and consultation we advocate for innovative strategies beyond traditional methodologies Dynamic decision making processes that adapt to changing circumstances ensure sustainable utilization of marine resources Resource allocation is scrutinized to optimize efficiency while preserving fisheries long term viability Central to this approach is recognizing the need for collaboration among stakeholders including governments industry players scientists and local communities By fostering inclusive dialogue and incorporating diverse perspectives we aim to create consensus driven solutions that balance competing interests Ultimately Innovative Approaches to Fisheries Management offers a comprehensive framework for navigating the complex challenges facing fisheries today We advocate for proactive measures prioritizing environmental stewardship economic prosperity and social equity paving the way for a sustainable future for marine ecosystems and dependent communities

Research Handbook on the European Union and International Organizations Ramses A. Wessel,Jed Odermatt, Over the years the European Union has developed relationships with other international institutions mainly as a result of its increasingly active role as a global actor and the transfer of competences from the Member States to the EU This book presents a comprehensive and critical assessment of the EU s engagement with other international institutions examining both the EU s representation and cooperation as well as the influence of these bodies on the development of EU law and policy

Regional fisheries management organizations and advisory bodies The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2020-02-01 The regional dimension is key to international fisheries management policy as demonstrated by the rapid expansion of the family of regional fisheries bodies RFBs There are some 50 RFBs worldwide Most provide only advice to their members and are hence referred to in this work as regional fisheries advisory bodies RFABs Regional fisheries management organizations RFMOs have mandates to adopt legally binding conservation and management measures based on the best scientific evidence Global instruments and normative processes have to be implemented and translated into actions at the country and regional levels as appropriate In this regard regionalization of fisheries and aquaculture governance can provide opportunities not only to address common concerns create synergies and mainstream the global objectives of relevant UN bodies but also to broaden outreach on the global fisheries agenda to regional partners that may not be directly concerned with fisheries as well as to the general public The present study provides an overview of the activities and developments of RFMOs and RFABs from 2000 to 2017 It is based on a compilation of data and information for 46 RFMOs and RFABs

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Environmental Law Emma Lees,Jorge E. Viñuales,2019-05-06 This Handbook is the first comprehensive account of comparative environmental law It examines in detail the methodological foundations of the discipline as well as the substance of environmental law across countries from four vantage points country studies from all continents responses to common problems including air pollution water management nature conservation genetically modified organisms climate change and energy chemicals waste foundational components of environmental law systems including principles property rights administrative and judicial organisation command and control regulation market mechanisms informational techniques and liability mechanisms and common interactions of environmental protection with the broader public private and criminal law contexts The volume brings together the foremost authorities in this field from around the world to provide a concise self contained and technically rigorous account of environmental law as a single overall system Socio-economic Indicators in
