Education In Developing Asia:

The Quality of Education David W. Chapman, Donald K. Adams, 2004 This volume is part of the series Education in Developing Asia It examines dimensions and strategies regarding the quality of education International Education Aid in Developing Asia I-Hsuan Cheng, Sheng-Ju Chan, 2015-05-22 This book provides an Asian perspective on the timely urgent questions of how international education aid and development should move forward and what development roles Asia should play especially following the end of the UN Millennium Development Goals MDGs and Education for All EFA in 2015 To answer these questions four separate but interwoven parts which analyze and anchor education MDGs and EFA policies and practices by means of diverse case studies of donor states recipient states and states with a dual and transitional role in Asia are addressed On the basis of the analyses a clearer and concrete direction for effectively and sustainably extending international education aid and development beyond 2015 can be derived Education in Developing Asia ,20??

Beyond The Knowledge Trap: Developing Asia's Knowledge-based Economies Thomas Menkhoff, Yue Wah Chay, Hans-dieter Evers, Eng Fong Pang, 2011-04-28 Based on the success of the World Scientific publication Governing and Managing Knowledge edited by Thomas Menkhoff Hans Dieter Evers and Chay Yue Wah in 2005 this unique volume presents 16 new theoretical practical papers on the strategic aspects of developing knowledge based economies with case studies from South Korea Singapore Malaysia Thailand Vietnam Indonesia Philippines and Uzbekistan A key question which the book seeks to answer is what Asian policy makers and leaders in government economy and society can do to further enhance learning and capability formation so as to foster sustainable development in an increasingly globalized world It addresses the politico cultural and socio economic challenges of effectively managing both knowledge resources and coping with the great digital divide created by globalization continuous technology innovations and rapid external change A key objective of the publication is to enable latecomers in the knowledge race to understand some of the critical success factors of sustainable knowledge based development and what it takes to build a resilient knowledge based economy Women, Education and Development in Asia Grace C.L. Mak, 2017-12-12 This reissue 1996 examines four interrelated aspects of schooling for women in ten Asian countries the development experience of a country and how it affects education and women s status the types of educational opportunities available to women if the greater exposure to education results in greater participation in the public sphere the impact of education and economic participation on women s domestic status Skills Development for Inclusive and Sustainable Growth in Developing Asia-Pacific Rupert Maclean, Shanti Jagannathan, Jouko Sarvi, 2012-12-09 Focusing on the Asia Pacific region which in recent years has been the engine of global economic growth this volume surveys trends and prospects in technical and vocational education and training TVET with particular reference to achieving inclusive growth and the greening of economies Underlying the increasing pressure for new models of TVET provision is the rapid pace of technological change demand for a work force which is highly responsive to evolving needs and a transforming market place that calls for higher order skills and lifelong learning The book proposes a re engineered modernized TVET system that fosters an innovative approach which enhances the employability of workers as well as the sustainability of their livelihoods The book includes contributions from leading policy makers researchers and practitioners including those in the private sector in analyzing and forecasting the most urgent priorities in skills development The book argues for creative approaches to TVET design and delivery particularly with a view to improve job prospects and meeting the goals of inclusion sustainable development and social cohesion Addressing issues such as the chronic mismatches between skills acquired and actual skills required in the work place the volume proposes diversified approaches towards workforce development and partnerships with the private sector to improve the quality and relevance of skills development The new imperatives created by greening economies and responses required in skills development and training are addressed Developing TVET is a high priority for governments in the Asia Pacific region as they seek to achieve long term sustainable growth since the continued success of their economic destinies depend on it The volume also includes an emerging framework for skills development for inclusive and sustainable growth in the Asia and Pacific region

Development Asia—Tackling Asia's Inequality: Creating Opportunities for the Poor Asian Development Bank, 2008-12-01 One worrisome trend in Asia is growing inequality the rich are getting richer much faster than the poor This issue of Development Asia was brought into sharp focus with the current financial turmoil which is having a much greater impact on the poor than the rich How much should inequality be a cause for alarm if at all What are the implications of a widening social divide Should governments do something or nothing The stories on this cover theme look at many aspects of a complex issue Guest economists present the case for and against interventions toward social inclusion though they tend to support policies that promote equal opportunity and access to good education and basic health services One of the issue s main stories looks at the role of globalization in increasing well being at all levels of society but it also notes that the well to do are better placed than the poor to take advantage of the opportunities that globalization offers Contrasting profiles of India and the Philippines are provided One shows how strong growth can create jobs for the poor despite structural inequalities The other illustrates how even robust growth can fail to provide enough jobs because of structural inequalities Education for Development in Asia Jandhyala B. G. Tilak, 1994 Higher Education in the Developing World David W. Chapman, Ann E. Austin, 2002-04-30 Identifies five critical issues with which higher education institutions in the developing world must grapple as they respond to changing external contexts offers examples of institutional responses to these issues and considers these within a systems perspective which recognizes that each response impacts how institutions handle other critical issues Half of the students enrolled in higher education worldwide live in developing countries Yet in many developing countries government and education leaders express serious concerns about the ability of their colleges and universities to effectively respond to the pressures posed by changing demographics new communication technologies shifts in national political environments and the increasing interconnectedness of national economies This book identifies five critical issues with which higher education institutions in the developing world must grapple as they respond to these changing contexts seeking a new balance in government university relationships coping with autonomy managing expansion while preserving equity raising quality and controlling costs addressing new pressures for accountability and supporting academic staff in new roles These papers offer examples of institutional responses and consider these within a systems perspective that recognizes that each response has a rippling effect impacting institutions responses to other critical issues Only as government and education leaders understand the interwoven nature of the problems now facing colleges and universities and the interconnections among the intended solutions they seek to implement can they offer effective leadership that strengthens the quality and improves the relevance of higher education in their countries

Development Asia—Who Will Pay for Asia's Double Burden? Asian Development Bank, 2011-12-01 The 11th edition of Development Asia looks into the double burden of communicable and noncommunicable diseases in Asia and the Pacific Asian and Pacific countries are facing unprecedented challenges related to health care While wealthier countries tend to suffer from noncommunicable ailments such as cancer and diabetes and poorer countries from communicable diseases like malaria and dengue many parts of Asia and the Pacific are plagued by both This edition also explores the double burden of disease that political leaders in the region are grappling to address At the root of this problem is health financing Simply put how do governments and their private sector partners provide solutions that keep the poor from suffering catastrophic health care costs

Development Asia—Urban Planning Laboratory Asian Development Bank, 2010-03-01 The rise of Asia's megacities is the upshot of robust economic growth in the region In turn the expansion of these centers of industry and commerce is fueling further growth opening more opportunities for business and employment With six out of 10 of the world's largest cities in Asia and eight out of 10 of the most densely populated the continent will be the world's de facto laboratory for urban planning Yet urbanization does not mean prosperity for all A great disparity between the rich and the poor not just in terms of income but also in living conditions persists Asia accounts for some 60% of the world's urban slum residents Rapid development puts pressure on infrastructure and the delivery of basic services such as health care water and sanitation and energy particularly for cities with poor urban planning Investments in public utilities must keep pace with business and population expansion Otherwise economic growth cannot be sustained This edition of Development Asia examines the opportunities and challenges that urbanization presents how it can drive or disrupt economic growth in Asia It looks into the case of Viet Nam one of Asia's economic stars which is grappling with problems arising from massive urban migration In The Cruel Utility of Slums we weigh the economic value of informal settlements against the human toll To round out coverage this issue reports on the progress of urban renewal programs that seek to revitalize old cities while preserving their cultural heritage In other stories this issue explains the rollout of a form of political risk insurance that covers acts of terrorism This issue also looks at how development organizations are adapting in a networked world How well are these organizations using social media And how are internet scammers posing as development organizations Finally this issue puts the spotlight on Thailand's Mr Condom Mechai Viravaidya

Asian Development Outlook 2014 Asian Development Bank, 2014-04-01 The Asian Development Outlook 2014 projects that developing Asia's growth will increase from 6.1% in 2013 to 6.2% in 2014 and 6.4% in 2015 Moderating growth in the People's Republic of China as its economy adjusts to more balanced growth will offset to some extent the stronger demand expected from the industrial countries as their economies recover Risks to the outlook have eased and are manageable The monetary policy shift in the United States may invite some volatility ahead in financial markets albeit mitigated by accommodative monetary policy in Japan and the euro area The regional growth outlook depends on continued recovery in the major industrial economies and on the People's Republic of China managing to contain internal credit growth smoothly Widening income gaps in developing Asia strengthens the case for greater use of fiscal policy to foster equality of opportunity While the region has benefited from fiscal prudence in the past demographic and environmental challenges are expected to compete for public resources in the coming years To boost public spending on equity enhancing programs such as education and health without undermining fiscal sustainability the authorities will need to explore a wide range of options for mobilizing revenue and to build equity objectives into their fiscal plans

Asian Development Outlook 2022 Asian Development Bank, 2022-04-01 Developing Asia faces greater uncertainty from the Russian invasion of Ukraine even as the region continues to contend with COVID-19 outbreaks The war has sent shockwaves across financial and commodity markets The highly transmissible Omicron variant has fueled a sharp rise in cases in the region though its less severe health impact coupled with increased immunity has allowed economies to remain relatively open As such growth in the region is forecast to remain strong supported by recovering domestic demand The Russian invasion of Ukraine aggressive monetary policy tightening in the US and renewed COVID-19 outbreaks pose near term risks to the outlook alongside medium term risks such as rising inequality due to school closures Fiscal resources are needed to aid recovery and support sustainable development But deficits and debt expanded substantially during the pandemic Mobilizing taxes and optimizing tax incentives needs to be combined with improved spending efficiency to help developing Asia achieve its development objectives

Governance in Developing Asia Anil B. Deolalikar, Shikha Jha, Pilipinas F. Quising, 2015-04-30 Governance in Developing Asia is one of the first books of its kind to provide an overview of the role that better governance and citizen empowerment can play in improving public service delivery in developing Asia The World Development Report 2004 see
