Give and Take Donna Jo Napoli, 2015-10-06. The Little Angel of Generosity loves giving gifts to his friends especially when he gets a gift in return. And he loves helping children as long as he earns another feather for his wings. He's still learning what giving is all about when he meets a little girl named Dinah who needs his help. Dinah likes to give gifts too. And she really likes to get nice things for herself. But her family doesn't have a lot of money and she wants things they can't afford. Sometimes she even wants those things badly enough to take what doesn't belong to her. It's up to the Little Angel of Generosity to show her that it's not what you have but what you give that counts. The Give and Take of Everyday Life

Bambi B. Schieffelin, 1990-06-29. In this study of language socialization among the Kaluli people of Papua New Guinea, Bambi B. Schieffelin examines the everyday speech activities between children and members of their families, linking them to other social practices and symbolic forms such as exchange systems, gender roles, sibling relationships, rituals, and myths. In Kaluli society, as in many others in Papua New Guinea, reciprocity plays a primary role in social life. In families, social relationships are constituted through giving and sharing food. Children, however, are also socialized through language to refuse to share, creating a tension in daily interactions. Issues of authority, autonomy, and interdependence are negotiated through these verbal exchanges. Schieffelin demonstrates how language plays a fundamental role in the production, meaning, and interpretation of these activities as it is the medium of social practice. Through the micro-analysis of social interactions, Schieffelin shows how values regarding reciprocity, gender relations, and language itself are indexed and socialized in everyday talk to children and how children's own ways of speaking express fundamental cultural concerns about their social relationships.
