

ANECDOTE

DEFINITION

An anecdote is a short, interesting or amusing story about a real incident or person. It's typically recounted from personal experience and used to illustrate or support a point in a conversation, speech or written text. Anecdotes designed to effectively capture the listener or reader's attention.

EXAMPLES

- Personal Anecdote: "Last night, I accidentally locked myself out of the house and had to crawl through a window to get back in."
- Historical Anecdote: "When constructing London's iconic Big Ben in the mid-19th Century, the first bell cracked during testing, leading to a delay of four years."

Glancing Back Leslie Dyson, Chuck Gosbee, Vancouver School Board, 1988-01-01 The City and Education in Four Nations Ronald K. Goodenow, William E. Marsden, Peter Clark, 2003-12-04 The City and Education in Four Nations is a response to a long standing need for the placing of urban educational study in broader comparative contexts both historical and international This volume offers an account of the historical educational experiences of four major English speaking countries opening up new research agendas in a variety of fields An international team of contributors has been assembled combining historical and educational expertise and the work should interest scholars in a number of disciplines including urban history urban and comparative education social and public policy social and cultural history and the history of education Annotated Bibliography of Education History in British Columbia Valerie Mary Evelyn Giles, British Columbia Education History Project, Royal British Columbia Museum, British Columbia. Ministry of Education and Ministry Responsible for Multiculturalism and Human Rights, 1992 This bibliography lists books including pamphlets theses including some Master of Education major papers and articles Where possible these sources have been sorted into the following time frames the colonial period 1849 to 1871 the late 19th century and early 20th century 1872 to 1918 the interwar years 1919 to 1939 the forties and fifties and the sixties to the present Canadiana ,1988 B C Studies ,1987 International Bulletin of Bibliography on Education ,1989 PNLA Quarterly Pacific Northwest Library Association, 1988 Quill & Quire ,2005 Looking Back Kerry J. Freedman, 2005 This book is a commemoration of the 50th anniversary of Studies in Art Education the journal of research and issues of the National Art Education Association and examines the past present and future of the art education field Taking Back Our Spirits Jo-Ann Episknew, 2009-05-01 From the earliest settler policies to deal with the Indian problem to contemporary government run programs ostensibly designed to help Indigenous people public policy has played a major role in creating the historical trauma that so greatly impacts the lives of Canada s Aboriginal peoples Taking Back Our Spirits traces the link between Canadian public policies the injuries they have inflicted on Indigenous people and Indigenous literature s ability to heal individuals and communities Episknew examines contemporary autobiography fiction and drama to reveal how these texts respond to and critique public policy and how literature functions as medicine to help cure the colonial contagion Teaching in the Anthropocene Alysha J. Farrell, Candy Skyhar, Michelle Lam, 2022-07-29 This new critical volume presents various perspectives on teaching and teacher education in the face of the global climate crisis environmental degradation and social injustice Teaching in the Anthropocene calls for a reorientation of the aims of teaching so that we might imagine multiple futures in which children youths and families can thrive amid a myriad of challenges related to the earth s decreasing habitability Referring to the uncertainty of the time in which we live and teach the term Anthropocene is used to acknowledge anthropogenic contributions to the climate crisis and to consider and reflect on the emotional responses to adverse climate events The text begins with the editors discussion of this contested term and then moves on to make the case that we must decentre anthropocentric models in teacher education praxis The four thematic parts include chapters on the challenges to teacher education practice and praxis affective dimensions of teaching in the face of the global crisis relational pedagogies in the Anthropocene and ways to ignite the empathic imaginations of tomorrow s teachers Together the authors discuss new theoretical eco orientations and describe innovative pedagogies that create opportunities for students and teachers to live in greater harmony with the more than human world This incredibly timely volume will be essential to pre and in service teachers and teacher educators FEATURES Offers critical reflections on anthropocentrism from multiple perspectives in education including continuing education educational organization K 12 post secondary and more Includes accounts that not only deconstruct the disavowal of the climate crisis in schools but also articulate an ecosophical approach to education Features discussion prompts in each chapter to enhance student engagement with the material Collier's ,1924
