The Cultivation of Hatred: The Bourgeois Experience: Victoria to Freud Peter Gay, 1993-09-17 With the same sweep authority and originality that marked his best selling Freud A Life for Our Time Peter Gay here takes us on a remarkable journey through middle class Victorian culture Gay's search through middle class Victorian culture illuminated by lively portraits of such daunting figures as Bismarck Darwin and his acolytes George Eliot and the great satirists Daumier and Wilhelm Busch covers a vast terrain the relations between men and women wit demagoguery and much more We discover the multiple ways in which the nineteenth century at once restrained aggressive behavior and licensed it Aggression split the social universe into insiders and outsiders By gathering up communities of insiders Professor Gay writes the Victorians discovered only too often invented a world of strangers beyond the pale of individuals and classes races and nations it was perfectly proper to debate patronize ridicule bully exploit or exterminate The aggressions so channeled or bottled could not be contained forever Ultimately they exploded in the First World War

Irish Political Prisoners 1848-1922 Professor Sean McConville, 2005-08-19 This is the most wide ranging study ever published of political violence and the punishment of Irish political offenders from 1848 to the founding of the Irish Free State in 1922 Those who chose violence to advance their Irish nationalist beliefs ranged from gentlemen revolutionaries to those who openly embraced terrorism or even full scale guerilla war Se n McConville provides a comprehensive survey of Irish revolutionary struggle matching chapters on punishment of offenders with descriptions and analysis of their campaigns Government's response to political violence was determined by a number of factors including not only the nature of the offences but also interest and support from the United States and Australia as well as current objectives of Irish policy The Story of Gladstone's Life Justin McCarthy, 1898 Myths and Politics in Western Societies John Girling, 2024-11-01 In an intriguing and provocative book an important thesis An important addition to libraries serving both academic and general readers Choice Palmerston David Brown, Professor of Modern History David Brown, 2011-02-01 A grand and fascinating figure in Victorian politics the charismatic Lord Palmerston 1784-1865 served as foreign secretary for fifteen years and prime minister for nine engaged in struggles with everyone from the Duke of Wellington to Lord John Russell to Queen Victoria and Prince Albert engineered the defeat of the Russians in the Crimean War and played a major role in the development of liberalism and the Liberal Party This comprehensive biography informed by unprecedented research in the statesman's personal archives gives full weight not only to Palmerston's foreign policy achievements but also to his domestic political activity political thought life as a landlord and private life and affairs Through the lens of the milieu of his times the book pinpoints for the first time the nature and extent of Palmerston's contributions to the making of modern Britain Progress and Pessimism Jeffrey Paul Von Arx, 1985 Faith in progress is a characteristic we often associate with the Victorian era Victorian intellectuals and free thinkers who believed in progress and wrote history from a progressive point of view men such as Leslie Stephen John Morley W E H Lecky and James Anthony Froude are usually thought to have done so because they were optimistic about their own times Their optimism has been seen as the result of a successful Liberal campaign for political reform in the sixties and seventies carried out in alliance with religious dissenters a campaign that removed religion from the arena of public debate Jeffrey Paul von Arx challenges this long standing view of the Victorian intellectual aristocracy He sees them as preoccupied with and even fearful of a religious resurgence throughout their careers and demonstrates that their loss of confidence in contemporary liberalism began with their disillusionment over the effects of the Franchise Reform Act of 1867 He portrays their championing of the idea of progress as motivated not by optimism about the present but by their desire to explain away and reverse if possible contemporary religious and political trends such as the new mass politics in England and Ireland This is the first book to explore how pessimism could be the psychological basis for the Victorians progressive conception of history Throughout von Arx skillfully interweaves threads of religion politics and history showing how ideas in one sphere cannot be understood without reference to the others Who's who in Democracy Seymour Martin Lipset, 1997 A collection of biographies of more than 100 important leaders whose actions and courage have spurred democracy from Ancient Greece to modern times
