Global Antitrust Trade And Competition Linkages:

Global Antitrust Yusaf H. Akbar, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2003 This text offers an analysis of the linkages between trade policy and competition policy It is a case study based book that explores the conflicts and complementarities between these policy domains given different industry conditions and market structures The essential argument is that as the complexity of markets and industry structures increases the relationships between trade and competition grow in complexity also The book attempts to classify these different industry conditions into four categories natural resource complex manufacturing R D intensive and internationally traded service industries The book offers specific case studies in natural resource and complex manufacturing sectors Given the proposals at the World Trade Organization concerning the internationalisation of antitrust policies this text should serve as a useful guide to both academics and policymakers alike Strategies to Achieve a Binding International Agreement on Regulating Cartels John Sanghyun Lee, 2016-11-24 This book addresses the lack of binding multi lateral international agreement on cartels through analysis of trials and failures It also suggests strategic approaches to overcome current standstills In addition the book contrasts international agreement on cartels with inter governmental commodity agreement which has been developed separately through international law Through this project the author puts forth that successful international law on cartels needs to reflect the interests and arguments of developing countries International Antitrust Law & Policy: Fordham Corporate Law 1998 Barry Hawk, 1998-06-01 Every October the Fordham Corporate Law Institute brings together leading figures from governmental organizations leading international law firms and corporations and academia to examine and analyze the most important issues in international antitrust and trade policy of the United States the EU and the world This work is the most definitive and comprehensive annual analysis of international antitrust law and policy available anywhere Each annual edition sets out to explore and analyze the areas of antitrust competition law that have had the most impact in that year Recent hot topics include antitrust enforcement in Asia Latin America competition enforcement in the areas of telecommunications media and information technology None of the chapters are merely descriptive all raise questions of policy or discuss new developments and assess their significance and impact on antitrust and trade policy All chapters if necessary are revised and updated before publication As a result the reader receives up to date practical tips and important analyses of difficult policy issues The Annuals are an indispensable guide through the sea of international antitrust law The Fordham Corporate Law Proceedings are acknowledged as simply the most definitive US EC annual analyses of antitrust competition law published Competition Policy in the Global Economy William S. operating in those Central Asian and Eastern European countries considered to be the transitional economic periphery Chapters shed light on their distinct forms of capitalism and how it influences and adapts the firms located there The eminent authors show how in a post state socialist world there are several implications for both domestic and overseas firms functioning successfully in the transitional periphery With the complex mix of political and market mediation and informal personal ties chapters explore the delicate balance of liberalisation in transitional economies Detailed examples from specific countries in Eurasia and Central Asia such as Belarus Turkey Azerbaijan Mongolia Uzbekistan Armenia and Georgia are discussed alongside broader thematic issues of economic and social change labour relations and human resource management Most importantly it is shown that liberalisation has little connection to short term business growth To succeed in such contexts international firms need to be both pragmatic and creative in coping with malleable yet durable forms of institutional mediation Providing a unique perspective on the transitional economic periphery and much needed insights from international business this book is essential reading for researchers and graduate students studying transitional economies non traditional business models institutional persistence and change political and economic development and management in economically transitioning countries

Trade, Inequality and Justice: Toward a Liberal Theory of Just Trade Law Frank Garcia, 2021-10-25 Recent crises in trade policy and globalization highlight both the problematic role of economic inequality in international trade law and the shortcomings of contemporary largely economic approaches to this problem and to international trade law generally This book argues for an alternative approach to the problem of trade and inequality as a problem of justice Drawing on political and moral theory and legal philosophy the author develops a Rawlsian model for justice as fairness in international trade law This model highlights the important normative role of the principle of special and differential treatment which can justify economic inequality by making the wealthy markets of developed states work to the benefit of smaller economies thus satisfying the difference principle as applied to international economic relations Applying this model to contemporary trade law the author offers concrete proposals for modifying existing special and differential treatment doctrine and suggests second generation policies for the problem of inequality once special and differential treatment is either fully implemented or rendered obsolete Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint
