Global Development:

Global Development and Human Rights Paul Nelson, 2021-05-02 From 2000 to 2015 the Millennium Development Goals MDGs mobilized external aid to finance life changing services in the global South However in doing so the organization failed to meet the challenges often associated with human rights initiatives which are to make underprivileged communities independently prosperous equitable and sustainable In Global Development and Human Rights Paul Nelson assesses the current thirty year effort to make transformative changes in the global South by exploring how this disconnect from human rights weakened the MDGs reputation as a successful aid organization To overcome the failings of the MDGs the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs were formed in 2016 with the intention of managing the issues fundamentally ignored by the MDGs Drawing on twenty five years of research on development goals human rights and the organizations that promote them Nelson reasons that transformative change arises out of national and local movements and shows how human rights can offer leverage and political support that help drive transformative national initiatives Advanced Introduction to Critical Global Development Uma Kothari, Elise Klein, 2023-07-01 This stimulating and accessible Advanced Introduction critically engages with dominant modernist and ahistorical narratives of development foregrounding the overlooked dissonant discourses that are largely written out of mainstream development It argues that development discourse and practice must remain aware of how historically unequal relations continue to be reproduced today and outlines a range of effective strategies for guiding change towards achieving global social justice Global Development William Savitt, Paula Bottorf, 1995 Helps the reader understand the many issues that determine the success or failure of global development from the status of women to the role of foreign aid INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH ON SUSTAINABILITY AND INNOVATION: A MULTIDISCIPLINARY APPROACH TO GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT Prof. Dr. A.
