interested in the technopolitics of transport planning Urban Assemblages Ignacio Fariás, Thomas Bender, 2012-08-21 This book takes it as a given that the city is made of multiple partially localized assemblages built of heterogeneous networks spaces and practices The past century of urban studies has focused on various aspects space culture politics economy but these too often address each domain and the city itself as a bounded and cohesive entity The multiple and overlapping enactments that constitute urban life require a commensurate method of analysis that encompasses the human and non human aspects of cities from nature to socio technical networks to hybrid collectivities physical artefacts and historical legacies and the virtual or imagined city This book proposes and its various chapters offer demonstrations importing into urban studies a body of theories concepts and perspectives developed in the field of science and technology studies STS and more specifically Actor Network Theory ANT The essays examine artefacts technical systems architectures place and eventful spaces the persistence of history imaginary and virtual elements of city life and the politics and ethical challenges of a mode of analysis that incorporates multiple actors as hybrid chains of causation The chapters are attentive to the multiple scales of both the object of analysis and the analysis itself The aim is more ambitious than the mere transfer of a fashionable template The authors embrace ANT critically as much as a metaphor as a method of analysis deploying it to think with to ask new questions to find the language to achieve more compelling descriptions of city life and of urban transformations By greatly extending the chain or network of causation proliferating heterogeneous agents non human as well as human without limit as to their enrolment in urban assemblages Actor Network Theory offers a way of addressing the particular complexity and openness characteristic of cities By enabling an escape from the reification of the city so common in social theory ANT's notion of hybrid assemblages offers richer framing of the reality of the city of urban experience that is responsive to contingency and complexity Therefore Urban Assemblages is a pertinent book for students practitioners and scholars as it aims to shift the parameters of urban studies and contribute a meaningful argument for the urban arena which will dominate the coming decades in government policies Learning the City Colin McFarlane, 2011-09-02 Learning the City Translocal Assemblage and Urban Politics critically examines the relationship between knowledge learning and urban politics arguing both for the centrality of learning for political strategies and developing a progressive international urbanism Presents a distinct approach to conceptualising the city through the lens of urban learning Integrates fieldwork conducted in Mumbai's informal settlements with debates on urban policy political economy and development Considers how knowledge and learning are conceived and created in cities Addresses the way knowledge travels and opportunities for learning about urbanism between North and South Reproductive Technologies as Global Form Michi Knecht, 2012-07 In the thirty five years since the first test tube baby in vitro fertilization and other methods of reproductive assistance have become a common aspect of family life and medicine in affluent nations and increasingly throughout the world How do persons seeking treatment donors and medical experts make use of these reproductive technologies How in crossing borders between nations do they manage to evade legal and bioethical regulations And how do they make sense of these new modes of making kinship against the backdrop of diverse world views and social settings

African Perspectives on South-South Migration

Meron Zeleke, Lahra Smith, 2024-04-01 This book investigates the diverse and dynamic forms of migration within Africa Centring themes of agency resource flows and transnational networks the book examines the enduring appeal of the Global South as a place of origin transit and destination Popular media government pronouncements and much of the global research discourse continue to be oriented towards migration from the Global South to the Global North despite the fact that the vast majority of migration is South South This book moves beyond these mischaracterisations and instead distinctly focuses on the agency of African migrants and the creative strategies they employ while planning their routes within and across the African continent Case studies explore the flow of resources such as people money skills and knowledge throughout the continent while also casting a light on the lived experiences of migrants as they negotiate their sometimes precarious and vulnerable positions Underpinned by intensive empirical studies this book challenges prevailing narratives and provides a new way of thinking about South South Migration Composed by a majority of scholars from the Global South the book will be crucial reading for researchers students and policy makers with a focus on South South Migration Migration and Inequalities Migration and Development and Refugee and Humanitarian Studies

The Transformation of Tajikistan

John Heathershaw, Edmund Herzig, 2013-09-13 Tajikistan is one of the lesser known and least researched former Soviet Central Asian republics The birth of the new state in 1991 was followed closely by a civil war which killed more than 50 000 people and displaced many tens of thousands more While a peace agreement was signed in 1997 significant political violence continued until 2001 and intermittent outbreaks still occur today Many claim it remains a very weak state and perhaps in danger of state failure or a return to civil war However the revival of Tajikistan should not simply be seen in terms of its post conflict stabilization Since its creation as a republic of the Soviet Union in 1920s Tajikistan has been transformed from being a shell for socialist engineering to become a national society under a modern state Despite a multitude of economic social and political shocks the Republic of Tajikistan endures This book places the transformation of Tajikistan in its Soviet and Post Soviet historical settings and local and global contexts It explores the sources of a state with Soviet roots but which has been radically transformed by independence and its exposure to global politics and economics The authors address the sources of statehood in history Islam and secularism gender relations the economy international politics and security affairs This book is a new edition of a special issue of Central Asian Survey Tajikistan the sources of statehood including two additional papers and a revised introduction

Bowen, Nicolas Dodier, Jan Willem Duyvendak, Anita Hardon, 2020-10-08 This book examines a range of critical concepts that are central to a shift in the social sciences toward pragmatic inquiry reflecting a twenty first century concern with particular problems and themes rather than grand theory Taking a transnational and transdisciplinary approach the collection demonstrates a shared commitment to using analytical concepts for empirical exploration and a general orientation to research that favors an attention to objects techniques and practices The chapters draw from broad based and far reaching social theory in order to analyze new specific challenges from grasping the everyday workings of markets courtrooms and clinics to inscribing the transformations of practice within research disciplines themselves Each contributor takes a key concept and then explores its genealogies and its circulations across scholarly communities as well as its proven payoffs for the social sciences and often critical reflections on its present and future uses This carefully crafted volume will significantly expand and improve the analytical repertoires or toolkits available to social scientists including scholars in sociology or anthropology and those working in science and technology studies public health and related fields

Headlines of Nation, Subtexts of Class Don Kalb, Gábor Halmi, 2011-09-01 Since 1989 neo nationalism has grown as a volatile political force in almost all European societies in tandem with the formation of a neoliberal European Union and wider capitalist globalizations Focusing on working classes situated in long run localized processes of social change including processes of dispossession and disenfranchisement this volume investigates how the experiences histories and relationships of social class are a necessary ingredient for explaining the re emergence and dynamics of populist nationalism in both Eastern and Western Europe Featuring in depth urban and regional case studies from Romania Hungary Serbia Italy and Scotland this volume reclaims class for anthropological research and lays out a new interdisciplinary agenda for studying identity politics in the intensifying neoliberal conjuncture

From Deleuze and Guattari to Posthumanism Christine Daigle, Terrance H. McDonald, 2022-01-27 Uncovering the theoretical and creative interconnections between posthumanism and philosophies of immanence this volume explores the influence of the philosophy of immanence on posthuman theory the varied reworkings of immanence for the nonhuman turn and the new pathways for critical thinking created by the combination of these monumental discourses With the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze and Félix

Guattari serving as a vibrant node of immanence this volume maps a multiplicity of pathways from Deleuze Guattari and their theoretical allies including Spinoza and Nietzsche to posthuman thought As positions that insist respectively on the equal yet distinct powers of mind and body immanence and the urgent need to dismantle human privilege and exceptionality posthumanism each chapter reveals concepts for rethinking established notions of being thought experience and life The authors here take examples from a range of different media including literature and contemporary cinema featuring films such as Enthiran The Robot India 2010 and CHAPPIE USA Mexico 2015 and new developments in technology and theory In doing so they investigate Deleuzian and Guattarian posthumanism from a variety of political and ethical frameworks and perspectives from afro pessimism to feminist thought disability studies biopolitics and social justice Countering the dualisms of Cartesian philosophy and flattening the hierarchies imposed by Humanism From Deleuze and Guattari to Posthumanism launches vital interrogations of established knowledge and sparks the critical reflection necessary for life in the posthuman era

Biofuels and the Globalization of Risk James Smith, 2010-11-11 Biofuels and the Globalization of Risk offers a fresh compelling analysis of the politics and policies behind the biofuels story with its technological optimism and often idealized promises for the future This essential new critique argues that investment in biofuels may reconfigure risk and responsibility whereby the global South is encouraged to invest its future in growing biofuel crops often at the expense of food in order that the global North may continue its unsustainable energy consumption unabated and guilt free Thus Smith argues biofuels may constitute the biggest change in North South relationships since colonialism

Between Security Markets and Protection Rackets Marc von Boemcken, 2013-02-20 Security is a social practice which constitutes different formations of political order Developing a political economy of security practice the author distinguishes these formations with a view to the actual exchanges between various providers and receivers of security services He thus departs from a popular perspective in political science which charts ongoing transformations in the global security landscape along a series of categorical divisions between state and non state or between the public and the private A more rewarding analytical perspective conceives the two most dominant security formations in the contemporary world as either based on commercial or on compulsory relations

Traces of a Mobile Field James R Faulconbridge, Allison Hui, 2017-10-02 This agenda setting collection critically reflects upon a decade of contributions to the social scientific mobilities turn in order to propose new trajectories for the future of this interdisciplinary research field The chapters are all exemplars of how the past decade of research has opened up new insights into the place of mobilities in societies They also highlight how attempts to look forward towards new conversations understandings and interventions in a mobile world will emerge from the transformations invoked by this field of research Authors foreground issues of power interdisciplinarity transformative technologies fragmented discourses and changing social processes whilst addressing automobility aeromobility tourism communications technologies urban infrastructures migration and emergencies As a whole the collection raises important questions about not only how understandings of mobilities are changing but also how the field of mobilities research is itself on the move The evocative empirical cases and provocative arguments in this book thus highlight the necessity of new concepts conversations methods empirical studies and interventions to address transformations in both the complex mobilities of social worlds and what is examined or taken for granted in mobilities research itself This book was originally published as a special issue of Mobilities
